Spirit Of Promise The:

Presence, Power and Promise David G. Firth, Paul D. Wegner, 2011-10-06 From the first verses of Genesis the Spirit of God makes a dramatic appearance in the Bible. However, despite the importance of the Spirit in the Old Testament, it has been the focus of surprisingly little scholarship. In response, this volume assembles a host of premier Old Testament scholars to address various aspects of the subject. Major thematic essays and studies of relevant biblical texts are arranged in eight main sections: orientation of the Ancient Near Eastern context, the Spirit and its relation to creation, wisdom, creativity, prophecy, leadership, and the future, and finally the Spirit at Qumran. The Promise of the Trinity B. Hoon Woo, 2018-09-10 The doctrine of the pactum salutis (covenant of redemption) offers the idea of a covenant between the very persons of the Trinity for the redemption of humanity. The doctrine received most of its attention in seventeenth-century Reformed theology and has been criticized and almost totally forgotten in dogmatics since the eighteenth century. Most recent Reformed dogmatics tend to ignore the doctrine or disparage it from biblical, trinitarian, christological, pneumatological, and soteriological perspectives; namely, the doctrine lacks scriptural basis, it is tritheistic, it leads to subordination of the Son, it omits the role of the Holy Spirit, and it applies a deterministic idea for the Christian life. The theologies of Witsius, Owen, Dickson, Goodwin, and Cocceius portray a very robust form of the doctrine. Witsius argues with the help of a peculiar methodology of cross-referencing and collation of related scriptural texts that the doctrine is firmly based on biblical exegesis that was passed on from the patristic era. The doctrine formulated by Owen endorses the doctrines of inseparable operations and terminus operationis so as to give deep insight into the Trinity. In Dickson's doctrine, the Son's voluntary consent and obedience to the will of the Father are highly emphasized. Likewise, Goodwin's depiction of the Holy Spirit secures the divinity of the Spirit as well as his indispensable role for the transaction and accomplishment of the pactum. The doctrine in the theology of Cocceius sheds much light on the vibrant dynamic of the Christian life in accordance with the ordo salutis. The doctrine of the pactum salutis of the five Reformed theologians clearly shows that the doctrine is both promised and promising for theology and the life of faith.

Promise and Prayer Anthony C. Thiselton, 2020-11-12 In the Bible, promise and prayer are essential and connected components of the interpersonal relationship between God and his people. And both promise and prayer are kinds of action undertaken by means of speaking utterances; philosophers refer to as speech acts. In the case of promises, this is clear: they constitute firm commitments to act in certain ways under appropriate conditions. This book considers biblical examples of divine promise from both Old and New Testaments. All speech acts depend upon institutional facts, and Thiselton argues that in the biblical writings, divine promises are based on the prior institution of God's covenant. That same covenant forms the institutional context of prayer. Thiselton shows how different kinds of prayer—blessing, thanksgiving, and praise, petition, and intercession—count as speech acts in different ways and to different degrees.
