Spirit Of Wimbledon:

The Spirit of the Game Mihir Bose, 2012-01-19 The spirit of the game was first nurtured on the playing fields of the English public school and in the pages of Tom Brown's Schooldays this Corinthian spirit was then exported around the world. The competitive spirit, the importance of fairness, the nobility of the gifted amateur seemed to sum up everything that was good about Britishness and the games they played. Today sport is dominated by corruption, money, celebrity and players who are willing to dive in the box if it wins them a penalty. Yet we still believe and talk about the game as if it had a higher moral purpose. Since the age of Thomas Arnold, sport has been used to glorify dictatorships and was at the heart of cold war diplomacy. Prime Ministers, princes and presidents will do whatever they can to ensure that their country holds a major sporting tournament. Nelson Mandela saw the victory of the Rugby World Cup as essential to his hopes for the Rainbow Nation. Mihir Bose has lived his life around sport and in this book he tells the story of how sport has lost its original spirit and how it has emerged in the 20th century to become the most powerful political tool in the world. With examples and stories from around the world including how the sport hating Thomas Arnold became an icon, how a German manufacturer gave Jessie Owens a pair of shoes at the Berlin games of 1936 and went on to dominate the world of sport, how India stole cricket from the ICC, how an Essex car dealer became the most powerful man in Formula 1 and who really sold football out. Praise for Mihir Bose: Mihir Bose is India's CLR James. Simon Barnes, The Times. Mihir's insider knowledge is unsurpassed. David Welch. His Olympic contacts are second to none. He knows everybody. Sue Mott. Football Nation Andrew Ward, John Williams, 2009-08-03 Football is at the heart of British national identity, intrinsically linked to our social history. Through more than forty fascinating stories, Football Nation reveals the hidden and not so hidden history of the game since 1945. From the mass audiences of austerity Britain and the introduction of floodlights at Accrington Stanley in the 1950s through the escalating hooliganism of the 1970s and the arrival of the first all-seater stadium at Coventry in the 1980s to the Hillsborough disaster and the coming of the Premiership, Andrew Ward and John Williams reveal the truth about the national game as it was once and is today in the age of satellite TV, celebrity lifestyle and extreme wealth. Looking back at the days when footballers were amateurs who travelled to the match with the fans right through to the present day where top-flight players command a higher weekly wage than the average spectator can earn in a year, Football Nation is informed, wryly amusing, often surprising and always vastly entertaining. It offers an entirely fresh perspective on the history of the beautiful game in Britain. The Spirit of London Paul Cohen-Portheim, 2021-03-04 A new edition of a classic Batsford title from the 1930s, London is brought to life through its people, buildings and history in this classic book first published in 1935.
