Spiritual Narratives:

Uncovering Spiritual Narratives Suzanne M. Coyle, 2014 All cultures use story as a way to make sense of life Yet for many only a single story line is seen as the real truth Using narrative therapy as a caregiving approach can help individuals uncover multilayered narratives that are far more complex and liberating Drawing on theological approaches and real life experiences Coyle creates a contextual pastoral theology that helps caregivers find the power of God in people s stories

Narratives of Wellbeing Tarryn Phillips, Natalie Araújo, Timothy Willem Jones, John Taylor, 2024-06-25 This book critically interrogates wellbeing a concept that is exploding in popularity across the globe The collection of essays asks not only how wellbeing can be defined and measured but what is created and excluded in the process of striving for and articulating wellbeing The editors propose a narrative framework as a novel and insightful lens through which to analyse wellbeing and understand how the good life is sought experienced and talked about With case studies from around the world the contributions explore the tensions and overlaps between various scripts about what it means to live well historically socially culturally economically and spiritually The collection brings together a rich array of disciplinary perspectives including sociology politics anthropology history indigenous studies religious studies development studies paediatric medicine and gender and sexuality studies The diversity of chapters make the book accessible and appealing not only to scholars and students of wellbeing in the health and social science disciplines but also to a broader public readership intrigued by the rise and impact of a buzzword Classic African American Women's Narratives William L.

The People's Faith Nicholas E. Denysenko, 2018-10-19 Works of liturgical theology tend to be produced by experts who draw from the sources and explain the meaning of the liturgy to the lay people. When such explanations are firmly grounded in the sources, the academy accepts and celebrates them as genuine works of liturgical theology. Liturgical theology requires an examination from a different perspective: the lay people's. How do the lay people explain their understanding of the liturgy in their own words? Drawing from the results of parish focus groups and a clergy survey, The People's Faith presents the liturgical theology of the lay people in the Orthodox Churches of America. The People's Faith presents original findings on how ordinary laity experience the Divine Liturgy, Holy Communion, Lent, and Easter; liturgical change and gender roles in the Liturgy. The author brings the laity's views into dialog with the prevailing liturgical theology in the Orthodox Church and identifies several topics worthy of theological reflection. The people's veneration for tradition tops a list of liturgical issues worthy of further research, including ecumenical aspects of the Eucharist, the relationship between liturgy and theological anthropology, and a desire to receive divine compassion during ritual celebration.

Christianity, LGBTQ Suicide, and the Souls of Queer Folk Cody J. Sanders, 2020-05-15 While garnering the attention of professionals across disciplines from medicine to public health to psychology and frequently covered as a topic of public concern in the news media, the elevated occurrence of suicide attempts among LGBTQ persons has received little attention within the literature of theology and religious studies. This book fills that lacuna by addressing the role that religious spiritual and theological narratives play in shaping the souls of queer folk. Taking a narrative approach to qualitative interview material from LGBTQ individuals who survived their suicide attempts, Cody J. Sanders argues that theological narratives can operate violently upon the souls of LGBTQ people in ways that make life precarious and at times seem unlivable. The book critically addresses the violence of theological narratives upon queer souls, filling a crucial void in scholarship concerning the role of religion, specifically Christianity, in LGBTQ suicide. Ultimately, the author draws upon the interview material to move readers toward constructive methods of contributing to the resistance and resilience of queer souls in relation to soul violence, asking how we can intervene with practices of care in order to cultivate livability of life for queer people.

Neptunian Delusions Lloyd Leon, 2025-05-28 Neptunian delusions, often characterized by a profound disconnect from reality, manifest in various ways, blending the boundaries of imagination and perception. These delusions can emerge as vivid fantasies or illusions that may lead individuals to experience heightened states of creativity or profound confusion. In astrology, Neptune symbolizes dreams, intuition, and the subconscious, establishing a direct link between Neptunian energy and the intricacies of human thought processes. Understanding these delusions requires a nuanced perspective, as they can inspire artistic expression while simultaneously complicating mental health.

Conversions and Visions in the Writings of African-American Women Kimberly Rae Connor, 1994 The subsequent achievement of selfhood is then based on the interplay of individual and community identities Connor suggests that the distinctiveness of African American women's experiences and writings can transcend their immediate communities and be brought to bear on women's experiences in general making their individual stories more accessible and meaningful to the whole of humankind

Powers, inequalities and vulnerabilities Johannes J. Knoetze, Valentin Kozhuharov, 2020-12-31 This research addresses the gap that is present in both missiology and family and youth ministry Missiology does not focus on children and youth specifically while this is the largest population in the developing world On the other hand family and youth ministry has a more pastoral than missional approach not always taking cognisance of contexts like globalisation Thus the purpose of the book is to address the sometimes unintended and unnoticed influence of globalisation on the mission of the church with a specific focus on children youth and family For this purpose the International Association for Mission Studies study group for children youth and families coming from different parts of the world decided to describe the powers inequalities and vulnerabilities of children youth and families in a globalised world from their specific contexts Although the most prominent research methodology was critical literature studies methods like autoethnographic and empirical methods were also used No decisions were made on a specific method of research for this publication This publication can be viewed as an interdisciplinary and intra disciplinary because it deals with social sciences anthropology psychology missiology systematic theology and practical theology
