Hijleh,2001 This book examines four large questions Do we need a theology of music And if so why What is the place of art music classical music in a postmodern world What are the characteristics of the music of Jesus How can this music be manifested in the Christian community Each question is addressed on the basis of building a consistent Biblical worldview which includes adequate respect for the powerful force of music Although the book focuses on the role of composers its aim is to encourage serious musical examination support and action from within the entire evangelical Christian community with an eye to affecting the culture at large The author asserts that in the area of music the Church has become a cultural follower rather than a leader adopting the dangerous postmodern tendency to define musical choices as matters of mere personal preference rather than seeking to define them on the basis of what God has revealed in the Word by the Son and through the Spirit Specific suggestions are made by which the contemporary Christian community may resist such a tendency even while building a dynamic new Christ centered musical practice which can flourish in our postmodern world

Schmidt,2009-12-15 Western civilization is becoming increasingly pluralistic secularized and biblically illiterate Many people today have little sense of how their lives have benefited from Christianity s influence often viewing the church with hostility or resentment How Christianity Changed the World is a topically arranged Christian history for Christians and non Christians Grounded in solid research and written in a popular style this book is both a helpful apologetic tool in talking with unbelievers and a source of evidence for why Christianity deserves credit for many of the humane social scientific and cultural advances in the Western world in the last two thousand years Photographs timelines and charts enhance each chapter This edition features questions for reflection and discussion for each chapter

In the Name of Education Jonas E. Alexis, 2007 Alexis convincingly examines the crisis in education from a Christian perspective

A Natural Theology of the Arts Anthony Monti, 2017-07-05 A Natural Theology of the Arts contends that the arts are theological by their very nature and not simply when they are explicitly religious thereby constituting a distinctive kind of natural theology Borrowing from science the stance of critical realism to justify truth claims in art and theology it argues that works of art are complex metaphors that convey the real presence of God even when not labelled as such Citing numerous examples from literature painting and music including Shakespeare's King Lear Vermeer's Young Woman with a Water Jug Rembrandt's Return of the Prodigal Son and Stephen Cleobury's experiences performing Bach's St Matthew Passion and Britten's Rejoice in the Lamb the author concludes that works of art anticipate the new creation thereby suggesting a Trinitarian account of the God present in the creation and reception of such works
