Afterlives Shannon Lee Dawdy, 2023-12-12 What do you think happens to you when you die And what do you want done with your body For three years Shannon Lee Dawdy travelled the U S from Vermont to California Illinois to Alabama posing such questions to a wide range of people from all walks of life Many of her interlocutors recently lost loved ones She also spoke to people who have made death their business funeral directors death care entrepreneurs designers cemetery owners and death doulas about the changes they were seeing and in many cases promoting in how the bodies of recently deceased persons are being treated and how the memory of the deceased are being memorialized in the U S Her ethnographic research resulted in this book a wide ranging investigation into rapidly changing death practices in the twenty first century United States The author is also working on a documentary film project on this topic with cinematographer Daniel Zox Still photos from the film work will appear in this book

Mental Health, Spirituality, and Religion in the Middle Ages and Early Modern Age Albrecht Classen, 2014-07-28 This volume continues the critical exploration of fundamental issues in the medieval and early modern world here concerning mental health spirituality melancholy mystical visions medicine and well being The contributors who originally had presented their research at a symposium at The University of Arizona in May 2013 explore a wide range of approaches and materials pertinent to these issues taking us from the early Middle Ages to the eighteenth century capping the volume with some reflections on the relevance of religion today Lapidary sciences matter here as much as medical psychological research combined with literary and art historical approaches The premodern understanding of mental health is not taken as a miraculous panacea for modern problems but the contributors suggest that medieval and early modern writers scientists and artists commanded a considerable amount of arcane sometimes curious and speculative knowledge that promises to be of value and relevance even for us today once again Modern palliative medicine finds for instance intriguing parallels in medieval word magic and the mystical perspectives encapsulated highly productive alternative perceptions of the macrocosm and microcosm that promise to be insightful and important also for the post modern world

Spirituality of the Gospels Patrick J. Hartin, 2025-01-15 Within each of the four gospels there is a foundational spirit a rich spirituality based on each gospel s unique understanding of Jesus and what it means to be his disciple In this study Fr Patrick Hartin looks at each gospel and asks such questions as Who is Jesus and What transformation does this encounter with Jesus invite Hartin thoroughly unpacks these questions and then follows with examples of people who embody the transformative power of these spiritualities from Saint Francis and Dorothy Day to Saint Augustine and Archbishop Romero Hartin s twofold approach gives us a deeper appreciation for the spiritual dimension of the gospels and helps us to be transformed in Christ by their message and vision Commentary study and reflection questions prayers and access to online lectures are included 6 lessons

The Victorian Frame of Mind, 1830-1870 Walter E. Houghton,2014-10-29 It is now forty years Walter Houghton writes since Lytton Strachey decided that we knew too much about the Victorian era to view its culture as a whole Recently the tide has turned and the Victorians have been the subject of sympathetic period pieces critical and biographical works and extensive studies of their age but the Victorian mind itself remains blurred for us a bundle of various and often paradoxical ideas and attitudes Mr Houghton explores these ideas and attitudes studies their interrelationships and traces their simultaneous existence to the general character of the age His inquiry is the more important because it demonstrates that to look into the Victorian mind is to see some of the primary sources of the modern mind
