O say can you see through the darkness while so probably we look at the twilight land to have broad stripes of bright stars through the darkness O'er the ramparts are watch'd, and so gallantly
And the rocket's and glare, the bomb bursting Gave proof through the night that our flag was still O say does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave

On the shore dimly seen through the smoke of where the foe's haughty host in dread
What is that which the brave
As it glides

Now
In full
'Tis the star-spangled
O'er the land

And when it
That the brave
A home is a

— ~~They~~
Their blood has wash'd out their foul
No refuge could save the hireling and slave
From the terror of flight or the gloom of the grave
And the star-spangled banner in triumph doth wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave

O thus be it ever when freemen shall stand Between their lov'd home and the war's desolation
Blest with a waking or peace may the hero be found
Praise the power that hath made and preserved us a nation
Then conquer we must, when our cause is just
And this be our motto — In God is our trust.
And the star-spangled banner in triumph doth wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave

Congress. Senate,1982 Writings on American History ,1922 Lion in the Bay Stanley L. Quick,2015-10-15 This is the story of the War of 1812 like no other brought to life in narrative form with pinpoint historical details As the War of 1812 raged on the high seas and along the Canadian border the British decided to strike at the heart of the United States the relatively undefended area of the Chesapeake Bay The Chesapeake was a fertile farm region a renowned place of shipbuilding and an area divided along political lines over the war Admiral George Cockburn led the British into the bay in March 1813 After a failed attempt to take Norfolk Cockburn led the British up and down the Chesapeake Originally a campaign to relieve pressure from other fronts the Chesapeake theater soon became a campaign of retribution for the British turning what had been an economic engine for

America into a region of terrorized citizens destroyed farms and fears of slave insurrection The blockade choked American commerce and prevented privateers from taking the war to the English Cockburn returned in 1814 and once more terrorized the residents on both shores of the Chesapeake while stoking the political divisions that also rent the country In August 1814 the British capitalized on the refusal of President James Madison to bolster the defenses of the waterway that led to the nation s capital Cockburn again led a naval force into the bay but this time he ran into opposition from Commodore Joshua Barney and his polyglot flotilla of warships Barney put up an heroic though doomed fight before the British landed at Benedict Md in August 1814 and marched on Washington D C After defeating the Americans at Bladensburg the British burned Washington before returning to their boats and setting out for Baltimore There the British armada ran into Fort McHenry and a stalwart group of defenders Despite a massive bombardment the British could not silence the fort or the city s other defenses forcing them to retreat and give up their campaign to completely shut the Chesapeake The victory at Baltimore coupled with victories on the Great Lakes helped turn the war in America s favor
