Chained in Silence Talitha L. LeFlouria, 2015-04-27 In 1868 the state of Georgia began to make its rapidly growing population of prisoners available for hire The resulting convict leasing system ensnared not only men but also African American women who were forced to labor in camps and factories to make profits for private investors In this vivid work of history Talitha L. LeFlouria draws from a rich array of primary sources to piece together the stories of these women recounting what they endured in Georgia's prison system and what their labor accomplished LeFlouria argues that African American women's presence within the convict lease and chain gang systems of Georgia helped to modernize the South by creating a new and dynamic set of skills for black women At the same time female inmates struggled to resist physical and sexual exploitation and to preserve their human dignity within a hostile climate of terror This revealing history redefines the social context of black women's lives and labor in the New South and allows their stories to be told for the first time

The New Georgia Encyclopedia Companion to Georgia Literature Hugh Ruppersburg, 2011-08-15 Georgia has played a formative role in the writing of America Few states have produced a more impressive array of literary figures among them Conrad Aiken Erskine Caldwell James Dickey Joel Chandler Harris Carson McCullers Flannery O'Connor Jean Toomer and Alice Walker This volume contains biographical and critical discussions of Georgia writers from the nineteenth century to the present as well as other information pertinent to Georgia literature Organized in alphabetical order by author the entries discuss each author's life and work contributions to Georgia history and culture and relevance to wider currents in regional and national literature Lists of recommended readings supplement most entries Especially important Georgia books have their own entries works of social significance such as Lillian Smith's Strange Fruit international publishing sensations like Margaret Mitchell's Gone With the Wind and crowning artistic achievements including Jean Toomer's Cane The literary culture of the state is also covered with information on the Georgia Review and other journals the Georgia Center for the Book which promotes authors and reading and the Townsend Prize given in recognition of the year's best fiction This is an essential volume for readers who want both to celebrate and learn more about Georgia's literary heritage More Blues Singers David Dicaire, 2015-11-05 The first book by David Dicaire Blues Singers: Biographies of 50 Legendary Artists of the Early 20th Century (McFarland, 1999) included pioneers, innovators, superstars, and cult heroes of blues music born before 1940. This second work covers those born after 1940 who have continued the tradition. This work has five sections, each with its own introduction. The first, Modern Acoustic Blues, covers artists that are major players on the acoustic blues scene of recent time, such as John Hammond Jr. The second, Contemporary Chicago Blues, features artists of amplified, city-fied, gritty blues, Paul Butterfield and Melvin Taylor among others. Section three, Modern American Electric Blues, includes some Texas blues singers such as Stevie Ray Vaughan and Jimmie Vaughan and examines how the blues have spread throughout the United States. Contemporary Blues Women are in section four. Section five, Blues Around the World, covers artists from four different continents and twelve different countries. Each entry provides biographical and critical information on the artist and a complete discography. A bibliography and supplemental discographies are also provided. Library Book Catalog United States. Department of Justice, 1972 From the Uncollected Thoughts of L.E. Harrison, 2019-05-10 Revised and updated. Featuring four new, never before published works, this edition of L.E. Harrison's poetry and short story collection features the edited text of the previous edition along with commentary from the author. L.E. Harrison's poetry and short story collection spans four decades of writing and publishing. It begins in 1983 with the poem SHADOW written when she was fifteen and ends in 2019 with A WRITER'S LAMENT: KNOWLEDGE OF THE GODS, written in 1997 as an homage to horror writer Stephen King. The stories I and FAST FORWARD REWIND reflect collective as well as individual spiritual journeys. The stories NINE DAYS GUILLOTINE, DELUSIONS, GRANDER, and THE OTHER ARTHUR PART ONE blend dark humor and magic realism with touches of surrealism. Each poem is a snapshot of a thought, an exploration of an idea, or a deeply personal attempt to answer a universal question. This collection is an intimate look into the mind and heart of one of the most unique voices of a generation. Reviews: John J. Rinck, 5.0 out of 5 stars, Tha thump tha thump tha thump, March 27, 2013. Format: Paperback. Verified Purchase: This collection of uncollected thoughts gives a rare glimpse of the birth and evolution of an artist. Composed of three parts, one for each self-defined era of her life, L.E. Harrison evolves from a young poetic writer with a skeptical yet hopeful view of the world to an older and wiser sage that still clings to hope though seems now to have figured out that much of her skepticism was in many ways well perceived. In Rainbows, written in 1984, the author shows an insight into her early skeptical view of the world with the line "Artists that bloom with a song in their midst capture the feelings I know don't exist." Yet by the time she writes I, many years later, she seems to acknowledge the important role of artistic expression though going not so far as to condone its true motivations. However, this is not a book to read linearly or all at once, nor is there a defined pattern. The true beauty of this collection lies in the ability to be able to randomly flip through the book and be able to have your mood set by whatever page you land on. You will question mankind in I and will laugh at mankind in Nine Days You will see yourself in this book even if you don't at first realize it
