The Many Faces Of Suicide Indirect Self Destructive Behavior:

The Many Faces of Suicide Norman L. Farberow, 1980 Comprehensive Textbook of Suicidology Alan Lee Berman, Morton M. Silverman, Bruce Michael Bongar, 2000-08-10 Multidisciplinary and comprehensive in scope this volume serves as an authoritative overview of scientific knowledge about suicide and its prevention providing a foundation in theory research and clinical applications Issues relevant to clinical case management are highlighted and various treatment modalities are discussed in light of the latest research findings The Oxford Handbook of Suicide and Self-Injury Matthew K. Nock, 2014-05-08 Suicide is a perplexing human behavior that remains among the leading causes of death worldwide responsible for more deaths each year than all wars genocide and homicide combined Although suicide and other forms of self injury have baffled scholars and clinicians for thousands of years the past few decades have brought significant leaps in our understanding of these behaviors This volume provides a comprehensive summary of the most important and exciting advances in our understanding of suicide and self injury and our ability to predict and prevent it Comprised of a formidable who s who in the field the handbook covers the full spectrum of topics in suicide and self injury across the lifespan including the classification of different self injurious behaviors epidemiology assessment techniques and intervention Chapters probe relevant issues in our society surrounding suicide including assisted suicide and euthanasia suicide terrorism overlap between suicidal behavior and interpersonal violence ethical considerations for suicide researchers and current knowledge on survivors of suicide The most comprehensive handbook on suicide and self injury to date this volume is a must read text for graduate students fellows academic and research psychologists and other researchers working in the brain and behavioral sciences Suicide Nils Retterstøl, 1993-06-17 A sensitive and enlightening account of the problem of suicide and attempted suicide in today s societies Suicide Risk Assessment and Prevention Maurizio Pompili, 2022-12-19 This book explores suicide prevention perspectives from around the world considering both professionals points of view as well as first person accounts from suicidal individuals Scholars around the globe have puzzled over what makes a person suicidal and what is in the minds of those individuals who die by suicide Most often the focus is not on the motives for suicide nor on the phenomenology of this act but on what is found from small cohorts of suicidal individuals This book offers a tentative synthesis of a complex phenomenon and sheds some light on models of suicide that are less frequently encountered in the literature Written by international experts it makes a valuable contribution to the field of suicidology that appeals to a wide readership from mental health professionals to researchers in suicidology and students The Psychological Autopsy Antoon Leenaars, 2017-02-10 This remarkable book affords the opportunity to delve into the challenges that the forensic mental health specialist and public safety professional confront in death scene investigations Applying Linguistics in Illness and Healthcare Contexts Zsófia Demjén, 2020-04-16 All aspects of illness and healthcare are mediated by language experiences of illness death and healthcare provision are talked and written about face to face or online while medical consultations research interviews public health communications and even some diagnostic instruments are all inherently linguistic in nature How we talk to about and for each other in such a sensitive context has consequences for our relationships our sense of self how we understand and reason about our health as well as for the quality care we receive Yet linguistic analysis has been conspicuously absent from the mainstream of medical education health communication training and even the medical or health humanities The chapters in this volume bring together applied linguistic work using discourse analysis corpus methods conversation analysis metaphor analysis cognitive linguistics multiculturalism research interactional sociolinguistics narrative analysis and im politeness to make sense of a variety of international healthcare contexts and situations These include clinician patient interactions receptionist patient interactions online support forums online counselling public health communication media representations medical accounts diagnostic tools and definitions research interviews with doctors and patients The volume demonstrates how linguistic analysis can not only improve understandings of the lived experience of different illnesses but also has implications for communications training disease prevention treatment and self management the effectiveness of public health messaging access to appropriate care professional mobility and professional terminology among others

Coping with Disease Annette V. Lee, 2005 If there is a single challenge a person faces in every stage of life from birth to death it is the necessity of coping with life's exigencies These often include health problems social stress and perceived difficulties The ability to deal with these issues defines an individual to a large extent and can accelerate or brake one's development in the multitude of mental and physical pathways intrinsic to life Coping behaviours include talking out a problem crying laughing relaxation ignoring the problem praying looking for the positive aspects of a situation assuming everything is terrible taking medication hoping a problem will go away attacking the problem with willpower cognitive therapy etc This new book examines new research which will shed light on coping behaviours in a vast array of disease situations

Discursive Constructions of the Suicidal Process Dariusz Galasinski, Justyna Ziolkowska, 2020-07-09 What is suicide When does suicide start and when does it end Who is involved Examining narratives of suicide through a discourse analytic framework Discursive Constructions of the Suicidal Process demonstrates how linguistic theories and methodologies can help answer these questions and cast light upon what suicide involves and means both for those who commit an act and their loved ones Engaging in close analysis of suicide letters written before the act and post hoc narratives from after the event this book is the first qualitative study to view suicide not as a single event outside time but as a time extended process Exploring how suicide is experienced and narrated from two temporal perspectives Dariusz Galasinski and Justyna Ziolkowska introduce discourse analysis to the field of suicidology Arguing that studying suicide narratives and the reality they represent can add significantly to our understanding of the process and in particular its experiences and meanings Discursive Constructions of the Suicidal Process demonstrates the value of discourse analytic insights in informing enriching and contextualising our knowledge of suicide

Non-Suicidal

Self-Injury Kelly L. Wester, Heather C. Trepal, 2016-12-19 Grounded in a wellness strengths based and developmental perspective Non Suicidal Self Injury is the ideal guide for counselors and other clinicians seeking to understand self injurious behaviors without pathologizing them The book covers topics not previously discussed in other works including working with families supervising counselors working with clients who self injure DSM 5 criteria regarding the NSSI diagnosis NSSI as a protective factor for preventing suicidal behavior and advocacy efforts around NSSI In each chapter clinicians will also find concrete tools including questions to ask psychoeducational handouts for clients and their families treatment handouts or treatment plans for counselors and more Non Suicidal Self Injury also includes real life voices of individuals who self injure as well as case vignettes to provide examples of how theoretical models or treatments discussed in this book immediately apply to practice
