Cross-Cultural Management Jean-François Chanlat, Eduardo Davel, Jean-Pierre Dupuis, 2013-07-24 All cultures appear to share the belief that they do things correctly while others until proven otherwise are assumed to be ignorant or barbaric When people from different cultures work together and cannot take shared meanings for granted managers face serious challenges An individual s parsing of an experience and its meaning may vary according to several cultural scales national professional industrial and local Awareness of cultural differences and the willingness to view them as a positive are therefore crucial assets This edited textbook sets itself apart from existing cross cultural management texts by highlighting to the reader the need to avoid both ethnocentrism and the belief in the universality of his or her own values and ways of thinking the success of international negotiations and intercultural management depends on such openness and acceptance of real differences It encourages the development of nomadic intelligence and the creative use of a culture's resources according to a symbolic anthropology perspective Through the essays and case studies in the chapters readers will become aware of the intercultural dimension of business activities and better understand how they affect work Cross Cultural Management will help interested parties students of business management international relations and other disciplines and business managers and other professionals develop their ability to interact take action and give direction in an intercultural context

The Handbook of Negotiation and Culture Michele J. Gelfand, Jeanne M. Brett, 2004-07-28 In the global marketplace negotiation frequently takes place across cultural boundaries yet negotiation theory has traditionally been grounded in Western culture This book which provides an in depth review of the field of negotiation theory expands current thinking to include cross cultural perspectives The contents of the book reflect the diversity of negotiation research negotiator cognition motivation emotion communication power and disputing intergroup relationships third parties justice technology and social dilemmas and provides new insight into negotiation theory questioning assumptions expanding constructs and identifying limits not apparent from working exclusively within one culture The book is organized in three sections and pairs chapters on negotiation theory with chapters on culture The first part emphasizes psychological processes cognition motivation and emotion Part II examines the negotiation process The third part emphasizes the social context of negotiation A final chapter synthesizes the main themes of the book to illustrate how scholars and practitioners can capitalize on the synergy between culture and negotiation research

The Expert Negotiator, 4th Revised Edition Raymond Saner,2012-05-31 In this book the social scientist and economist Professor Dr Raymond Saner draws on his long years of experience as a negotiation adviser teacher trainer researcher and university lecturer to show that two thirds of negotiation practice is learnable The author treats the different aspects of negotiation practice in a way that is useful to both academics and practitioners such that the general laws and principles gradually become evident as and of themselves The Expert Negotiator Raymond Saner,2008-06-30 Success in negotiation is not a matter of chance but the result of careful planning and specialized skills Some of these skills are inborn others need to be learnt In this book the social scientist and economist Professor Dr Raymond Saner draws on his long years of experience as a negotiation adviser teacher trainer researcher and university lecturer to show that twothirds of negotiation practice is learnable Yet very few people are specifically trained in this everyday task Without sacrificing scientific accuracy Professor Saner offers a highly readable and fascinating guide to the subject In so doing he does not limit himself to the over simplified tips generally put out on successful bargaining in every imaginable situation Rather he treats the different aspects of negotiation practice in a way that is useful to both academics and practitioners such that the general laws and principles gradually become evident as and of themselves The aim of this approach is to reveal the essence of negotiation through the experience of both the author and the reader Such an understanding of the processes involved in negotiation is of far greater practical value than a mere collection of recipes with no discussion of the underlying theory while the most comprehensive treatment of the theory without reference to its application in practice would be only half the story Thus the text is supplemented by a series of illustrative examples and case studies from the business political NGO and international organization arenas plus some seventy figures and tables With all this the author has paid considerable attention to writing a text that is both entertaining to read and rigorous in content Organizational Science Abroad C.A.B., Yg. Osigweh, 2013-11-11

Organizing consists of making other people work We do this by manipulating symbols words exhortations memos charts signs of status We expect these symbols to have the desired effects on the people concerned The success of our organizing activities depends on whether the others do attach to our symbols the meanings we expect them to Whether or not they do so is a function of what I have sometimes called the programs in their minds their learned ways of thinking feeling and reacting in short a function of their culture The assumption that organizations could be culture free is naive and myopic it is based on a misunderstanding of the very act of organizing Certainly few people who have ever worked abroad will make this assumption The dependence of organizations on their people's mental programs does not mean of course that we do not find many similarities across organizations Some characteristics of human mental programming are universal others are shared by most people in a continent a country a region an industry a scientific discipline or even a gender
