Graphic Indigeneity Frederick Luis Aldama, 2020-06-04 Honorable Mention Recipient for the Comics Studies Society Prize for Edited Book Collection Contributions by Joshua T Anderson Chad A Barbour Susan Bernardin Mike Borkent Jeremy M Carnes Philip Cass Jordan Clapper James J Donahue Dennin Ellis Jessica Fontaine Jonathan Ford Lee Francis IV Enrique Garc a Javier Garc a Liendo Brenna Clarke Gray Brian Montes Arij Ouweneel Kevin Patrick Candida Rifkind Jessica Rutherford and Jorge Santos Cultural works by and about Indigenous identities histories and experiences circulate far and wide However not all films animation television shows and comic books lead to a nuanced understanding of Indigenous realities Acclaimed comics scholar Frederick Luis Aldama shines light on how mainstream comics have clumsily distilled and reconstructed Indigenous identities and experiences He and contributors emphasize how Indigenous comic artists are themselves clearing new visual verbal narrative spaces for articulating more complex histories cultures experiences and narratives of self To that end Aldama brings together scholarship that explores both the representation and misrepresentation of Indigenous subjects and experiences as well as research that analyzes and highlights the extraordinary work of Indigenous comic artists Among others the book examines Daniel Parada s Zotz Puerto Rican comics Turey el Ta no and La Borinque a and Moonshot The Indigenous Comics Collection This volume s wide armed embrace of comics by and about Indigenous peoples of the Americas and Australasia is a first step to understanding how the histories of colonial and imperial domination connect the violent wounds that still haunt across continents Aldama and contributors resound this message Indigeneity in comics is an important powerful force within our visual verbal narrative arts writ large

'Boredom is the Enemy' Amanda Laugesen, 2016-04-15 War is often characterised as one percent terror 99 per cent boredom Whilst much ink has been spilt on the one per cent relatively little work has been directed toward the other 99 per cent of a soldier s time As such this book will be welcomed by those seeking a fuller understanding of what makes soldiers endure war and how they cope with prolonged periods of inaction It explores the issue of military boredom and investigates how soldiers spent their time when not engaged in battle work or training through a study of their creative imaginative and intellectual lives It examines the efforts of military authorities to provide solutions to military boredom and the problem of discipline and morale through the provisioning of entertainment and education but more importantly explores the ways in which soldiers responded to such efforts arguing that soldiers used entertainment and education in ways that suited them The focus in the book is on Australians and their experiences primarily during the First World War but with subsequent chapters taking the story through the Second World War to the Vietnam War This focus on a single national group allows questions to be raised about what might or might not be exceptional about the experiences of a particular national group and the ways national identity can shape an individual s relationship and engagement with education and entertainment It can also suggest the continuities and changes in these experiences through the course of three wars The story of Australians at war illuminates a much broader story of the experience of war and people s responses to war in the twentieth century
