Social Condition Education Of The Peop:

The Social Condition and Education of the People in England and Europe Joseph Kay,1850 The Social Condition and Education of the People in England Joseph Kay,1863 The Social Condition of Deaf People Sara Trovato,Anna Folchi,2022-05-09 This book is about the social condition of Deaf people told through a Deaf woman s autobiography and a series of essays investigating how hearing societies relate to Deaf people Michel Foucault described the powerful one as the beholder who is not seen This is why a Deaf woman s perspective is important Minorities that we don t even suspect we have power over observe us in turn Majorities exert power over minorities by influencing the environment and institutions that simplify or hinder lives language mindsets representations norms the use of professional power Based on data collected by Eurostat this volume provides the first discussion of statistics on the condition of Deaf people in a series of European countries concerning education labor gender This creates a new opportunity to discuss inequalities on the basis of data The case studies in this volume reconstruct untold moments of great advancement in Deaf history successful didactics supporting bilingualism the reasons why Deaf empowerment for and by Deaf people does and does not succeed A work of empowerment is effective if it acts on a double level the community to be empowered and society at large resulting in a transformation of society as a whole This book provides instruments to work towards such a transformation Incarcerated Young People, Education and Social Justice Kitty te Riele,Tim Corcoran,Fiona MacDonald,Alison Baker,Julie White,2023-03-31 This book foregrounds the provision of education for young people who have been remanded or sentenced into custody Both international conventions and national legislation and guidelines in many countries point to the right of children and young people to access education while they are incarcerated Moreover education is often seen as an important protective and rehabilitative factor However the conditions associated with incarceration generate particular challenges for enabling participation in education Bridging the fields of education and youth justice this book offers a social justice analysis through the lens of participatory parity the book brings together rare interviews with staff and young people in youth justice settings in Australia secondary data from these sites a suite of pertinent and frank reports and international scholarship Drawing on this rich set of material the book demonstrates not only the challenges but also the possibilities for education as a conduit for social justice in custodial youth justice The book will be of immediate relevance to governments and youth justice staff for meaningfully meeting their obligation of enabling children and young people in custody to benefit from education and of interest to scholars and researchers in education youth work and criminology Education, Social Status, and Health John Mirowsky,2017-09-08 Education forms a unique dimension of social status with qualities that make it especially important to health It influences health in ways that are varied present at all stages of adult life cumulative self amplifying and uniformly positive Educational attainment marks social status at the beginning of adulthood functioning as the main bridge between the status of one generation and the next and also as the main avenue of upward mobility It precedes the other acquired social statuses and substantially influences them including occupational status earnings and personal and household income and wealth Education creates desirable outcomes because it trains individuals to acquire evaluate and use information It teaches individuals to tap the power of knowledge Education develops the learned effectiveness that enables self direction toward any and all values sought including health For decades American health sciences has acted as if social status had little bearing on health The ascendance of clinical medicine within a culture of individualism probably accounts for that omission But research on chronic diseases over the last half of the twentieth century forced science to think differently about the causes of disease Despite the institutional and cultural forces focusing medical research on distinctive proximate causes of specific diseases researchers were forced to look over their shoulders back toward more distant causes of many diseases Some fully turned their orientation toward the social status of health looking for the origins of that cascade of disease and disability flowing daily through clinics Why is it that people with higher socioeconomic status have better health than lower status individuals The authors who are well recognized for their strength in survey research on a broad national scale draw on findings and ideas from many sciences including demography economics social psychology and the health sciences People who are well educated feel in control of their lives which encourages and enables a healthy lifestyle In addition learned effectiveness a practical end of that education enables them to find work that is autonomous and creative thereby promoting good health

Mental health of people with neglected tropical diseases ,2020-05-27 Neglected tropical diseases NTDs frequently cause distress in affected people and their carers because of both their direct impact and stigma and discrimination For some people distress can lead to more severe mental neurological and social problems distress may even lead to substance use as a means of coping or thoughts of self harm or suicide Effective ways of supporting affected people and their carers and addressing community stigma and discrimination should be appropriately considered in the health sector as well as informal systems of care The main aims of this document are to call attention to the mental health needs of people affected by NTDs and to call for the use of psychosocial pharmacological and educational interventions to address those needs The wider aspiration is to raise awareness about the double burden of mental health conditions and NTDs and to advocate for a more person centred approach The document also highlights the importance of collaborative action and an integrated approach by policy makers funders programme managers and health service providers to strengthen the profile of and investment in mental health in NTD programming The document is intended for national policy makers and programme managers relevant programme leads and staff in participating United Nations agencies civil society and nongovernmental organizations working on NTDs agencies that fund work on NTDs and mental health health service providers the academic and research community and people with these conditions and their carers
