When the Soviet Union Entered World Politics Jon Jacobson, 1994-11-07 The dissolution of the Soviet Union has aroused much interest in the USSR s role in world politics during its 74 year history and in how the international relations of the twentieth century were shaped by the Soviet Union Jon Jacobson examines Soviet foreign relations during the period from the end of the Civil War to the beginning of the first Five Year Plan focusing on the problems confronting the Bolsheviks as they sought to promote national security and economic development He demonstrates the central importance of foreign relations to the political imagination of Soviet leaders both in their plans for industrialization and in the struggle for supremacy among Lenin s successors Jacobson adopts a post Cold War interpretative stance incorporating glasnost and perestroika era revelations He also considers Soviet relations with both Europe and Asia from a global perspective integrating the two modes of early Soviet foreign relations revolution and diplomacy into a coherent discussion Most significantly he synthesizes the wealth of information that became available to scholars since the 1960s The result is a stimulating work of international history that interfaces with the sophisticated existing body of scholarship on early Soviet history

Czechoslovakia and the Czech Republic in World Politics Ladislav Cabada, Šárka Waisová, 2011-01-01 The book focuses on the description and analysis of the historical formation of the Czechoslovak and Czech positions in the international system during the course of the 20th century The first part of the book presents a brief outline of the history of Czechoslovak foreign policy between the First World War and the end of the Cold War. The authors focus on the key periods and turning points in the role of the small Central European state in the international system as well as on the significant actors formulating Czechoslovak foreign policy from the inside and influencing it from the outside. The second analytical part of the book focuses on the key issues connected to the change of the position of Czechoslovakia and the Czech Republic after 1993 in world politics and on the formulation of Czech foreign policy priorities and strategies in the globalized world after the end of bipolar confrontation. The authors analytically investigate the activities of the Czech Republic in Central European regional integration processes and the integration of the state in the global system of development cooperation. A great deal of attention is paid to the key political actors of the Czech foreign policy discussion and their impact on the formulation of foreign policy goals. Special attention is paid to the dilemmas of Czech foreign policy: the hesitation between the role of a small state and a medium power and also the span of Czech foreign policy between Atlanticism, anti-Americanism and Europeanization.
