Soy Chicano I Am A Mexican American:

Soy Chicano; I Am Mexican-American Bob Fitch, Robert Fitch, Lynne Fitch, 1971 A thirteen year old Mexican American girl describes her home family school and daily experiences in a California grape growing community Language, Culture, Identity and Citizenship in College Classrooms and Communities Juan C. Guerra, 2015-10-05 Language Culture Identity and Citizenship in College Classrooms and Communities examines what takes place in writing classrooms beyond academic analytical and argumentative writing to include forms that engage students in navigating the civic political social and cultural spheres they inhabit It presents a conceptual framework for imagining how writing instructors can institute campus wide initiatives such as Writing Across Communities that attempt to connect the classroom and the campus to the students various communities of belonging especially students who have been historically underserved This framework reflects an emerging perspective writing across difference that challenges the argument that the best writing instructors can do is develop the skills and knowledge students need to make a successful transition from their home discourses to academic discourses Instead the value inherent in the full repertoire of linguistic cultural and semiotic resources students use in their varied communities of belonging needs to be acknowledged and students need to be encouraged to call on these to the fullest extent possible in the course of learning what they are being taught in the writing classroom Pedagogically this book provides educators with the rhetorical discursive and literacy tools needed to implement this approach Race and Identity in Hispanic America Patricia Reid-Merritt, Michael S. Rodriguez, 2020-04-03 This book offers a historical and comparative overview of the evolution of racial classifications in the United States Latin America and the Caribbean The Hispanicization of America is precipitating a paradigm shift in racial thinking in which race is no longer defined by distinct characteristics but rather is becoming synonymous with ethnic cultural identity Traditionally assimilation has been conceived of as a unidirectional and racialized phenomenon Newly arrived immigrant groups or longstanding minority indigenous populations were Americanized in confining their racial and ethnic natures to the private sphere and adopting in the public sphere the cultural mores norms and values of the dominant cultural racial group In contrast the Hispanicization of America entails the horizontal assimilation of various groups from Spanish speaking countries throughout the Western Hemisphere and Caribbean into a pan ethnic Hispanic Latino identity that also challenges the privileged position of whiteness as the primary and exclusive referent for American identity Instead of focusing on one Hispanic group ethnic identity or region this book chronicles the development of racial identity across the largest Hispanic groups throughout the United States New Latin American Cinema Michael T. Martin, 1997 This volume comprises essays on the development of the New Latin American Cinema as a comparative national project Lalo Lalo Guerrero, Sherilyn Menten, 2002-02 He has been called the father of Chicano music and the original Chicano hepcat Now Lalo s autobiography takes readers on a musical rollercoaster from his earliest enjoyment of Latino and black sounds in Tucson to his burgeoning career in Los Angeles singing with Los Carlistas

Cesar Chavez and the Common Sense of Nonviolence José-Antonio Orosco, 2008-04-16 Cesar Chavez has long been heralded for his personal practice of nonviolent resistance in struggles against social racial and labor injustices However the works of Gandhi and Martin Luther King Jr have long overshadowed Chavez's contributions to the theory of nonviolence Jos Antonio Orosco seeks to elevate Chavez as an original thinker providing an analysis of what Chavez called the common sense of nonviolence By engaging Chavez in dialogue with a variety of political theorists and philosophers Orosco demonstrates how Chavez developed distinct ideas about nonviolent theory that are timely for dealing with today's social and political issues including racism sexism immigration globalization and political violence
