Space 2100 Erik Baard, 2003 Space 2100, 2003 Popular Science: Space 2100 Editors of Popular Science Magazine, 2003-11-01 Will there be a manned mission to Mars? What can we expect from recently launched deep space probes headed to Jupiter and to study comets and asteroids? What is the real benefit of the International Space Station? How does the manned Chinese space program fit in? What are NASA's plans for a multigenerational space craft, plasma engines and other futuristic technology and how will they replace the Space Shuttle? This book looks at the technology, the challenges, the astronauts, the scientists and the global politics that can make space exploration a pawn of earthbound conflicts. LIFE IN THE NEXT 200 YEARS Ramzi B. Gergis, How about this? This book describes the authors' vision of living in the future while the land and population outgrow their places on earth. Future living includes terraforming Mars, living on the moon and on the surface of the oceans and below. Discover new species of marine life and learn that people really did live on Mars. See the future through the eyes of past explorers, scientists, futurists and technology. You will read how. El principio de libertad en el derecho espacial Jairo Becerra, 2015-08-01 La concepción actual de nuestra sociedad en gran parte del mundo desde la Revolución Francesa y las guerras de independencia en América se sustenta en cuatro principios fundamentales: la igualdad, la justicia, la propiedad privada y la libertad. El conocimiento y el continuo análisis de estos principios son de vital importancia para el mejoramiento de nuestro sistema, ya que a medida que progresamos y nos desarrollamos como sociedad aparecen nuevas situaciones que antes no estaban contempladas y que pueden crear vacíos jurídicos o sociales que menoscaban los principios anteriormente mencionados. Esta situación se presenta principalmente por la aceleración de nuestro desarrollo tecnológico y científico, así como se han producido cambios profundos en la sociedad global debido a la aparición de Internet, la manipulación genética, la inseminación artificial o el cambio climático. Space Tourism John Spencer, Karen L. Rugg, 2004 Welcome Aboard! Space is only 100 miles away from anywhere on Earth. Since the early 1980s a small group of visionaries have been pioneering the frontier of off-world tourism. Overcoming significant obstacles, their quest to start the space tourism industry was achieved on 28 April 2001 when American businessman Dennis Tito lifted off from Russia into Earth orbit for a week-long voyage aboard the International Space Station. He was the first space tourist. Upon boarding the Station, he said, "I love space." He paid millions of his own dollars to fulfil his life-long quest to experience space. Since then another space tourist has flown and many more are lining up for the opportunity. In the future, space passengers will float and dance in zero gravity, swim in spheres of warm coloured water, enjoy games, saunas, exercise, massage, shopping and world class entertainment. Several private enterprise space tourism companies have recently been formed, some by multibillionaires including the co-founder of Microsoft, Paul Allen, and the founder of Amazon.com, Jeff Bezos. They are spending millions of dollars of their own money. Why? Because they are positioning themselves to be leaders.
