H.D., 2021-10-05 In this complete unabridged edition of H.D.'s visionary memoir The Gift Jane Augustine makes available for the first time the text as H.D. wrote it and intended it to be read including H.D.'s coda to the book her Notes never before published in its entirety Written in London during the blitz of World War II The Gift re-creates the peaceful childhood of Hilda Doolittle in Bethlehem Pennsylvania where she was born in 1886 As an antidote to war's destructiveness H.D. invokes the mystical Moravian heritage of her mother's family to convey an ideal world peace and salvation that would come through the spiritual power of women a power that also endowed her with the gift of her own art The Gift is key to intertextual studies of H.D.'s wartime oeuvre and to an understanding of the religious and gender concerns pervading her later work especially the women-centered poems Trilogy and Helen in Egypt Augustine's introduction and annotations based on extensive research in Moravian archives provide a biographical and historical context to make this the definitive edition of The Gift essential to students and scholars of H.D. modernism and feminist literature      The Devotion of a Spiritual Mother and Daughter in

Stone,2012-09-21 An important new way of viewing the prehistoric art of the Americas The Jaguar Within demonstrates that understanding a work of art s connection with shamanic trance can lead to an appreciation of it as an extremely creative solution to the inherent challenge of giving material form to nonmaterial realities and states of being Shamanism the practice of entering a trance state to experience visions of a reality beyond the ordinary and to gain esoteric knowledge has been an important part of life for indigenous societies throughout the Americas from prehistoric times until the present Much has been written about shamanism in both scholarly and popular literature but few authors have linked it to another significant visual realm art In this pioneering study Rebecca R Stone considers how deep familiarity with and profound respect for the extra ordinary visionary experiences of shamanism profoundly affected the artistic output of indigenous cultures in Central and South America before the European invasions of the sixteenth century Using ethnographic accounts of shamanic trance experiences Stone defines a core set of trance vision characteristics including enhanced senses ego dissolution bodily distortions flying spinning and undulating sensations synaesthesia and physical transformation from the human self into animal and other states of being Stone then traces these visionary characteristics in ancient artworks from Costa Rica and Peru She makes a convincing case that these works especially those of the Moche depict shamans in a trance state or else convey the perceptual experience of visions by creating deliberately chaotic and distorted conglomerations of partial inverted and incoherent images The Little Yellow House at the End of the Road Daniel E.
