Spleen Other Stories:

A reckless character, and other stories. A reckless character ; The dream ; Father Alexyéi's story ; Old portraits ; The song of love triumphant ; Clara Militch ; Poems in prose Ivan Sergeevich Turgenev, 1904 The Idiot And Other Stories Fyodor Dostoyevsky, 2020-09-28 Towards the end of November during a thaw at nine o'clock one morning a train on the Warsaw and Petersburg railway was approaching the latter city at full speed The morning was so damp and misty that it was only with great difficulty that the day succeeded in breaking and it was impossible to distinguish anything more than a few yards away from the carriage windows Some of the passengers by this particular train were returning from abroad but the third class carriages were the best filled chiefly with insignificant persons of various occupations and degrees picked up at the different stations nearer town All of them seemed weary and most of them had sleepy eyes and a shivering expression while their complexions generally appeared to have taken on the colour of the fog outside When day dawned two passengers in one of the third class carriages found themselves opposite each other Both were young fellows both were rather poorly dressed both had remarkable faces and both were evidently anxious to start a conversation If they had but known why at this particular moment they were both remarkable persons they would undoubtedly have wondered at the strange chance which had set them down opposite to one another in a third class carriage of the Warsaw Railway Company One of them was a young fellow of about twenty seven not tall with black curling hair and small grey fiery eyes His nose was broad and flat and he had high cheek bones his thin lips were constantly compressed into an impudent ironical it might almost be called a malicious smile but his forehead was high and well formed and atoned for a good deal of the ugliness of the lower part of his face A special feature of this physiognomy was its death like pallor which gave to the whole man an indescribably emaciated appearance in spite of his hard look and at the same time a sort of passionate and suffering expression which did not harmonize with his impudent sarcastic smile and keen self satisfied bearing He wore a large fur or rather astrachan overcoat which had kept him warm all night while his neighbour had been obliged to bear the full severity of a Russian November night entirely unprepared His wide sleeveless mantle with a large cape to it the sort of cloak one sees upon travellers during the winter months in Switzerland or North Italy was by no means adapted to the long cold journey through Russia from Eydkuhnen to St Petersburg The wearer of this cloak was a young fellow also of about twenty six or twenty seven years of age slightly above the middle height very fair with a thin pointed and very light coloured beard his eyes were large and blue and had an intent look about them yet that heavy expression which some people affirm to be a peculiarity as well as evidence of an epileptic subject His face was decidedly a pleasant one for all that refined but quite colourless except for the circumstance that at this moment it was blue with cold He held a bundle made up of an old faded silk handkerchief that apparently contained all his travelling wardrobe and wore thick shoes and gaiters his whole appearance being very un Russian The Jew, and other stories Ivan Sergeevich Turgenev, 1922 First love, and

The Jew and other Stories Ivan

Turgenev, 2025-01-18 The Jew and Other Stories by Ivan Turgenev is a collection of compelling short stories that showcases the masterful storytelling and deep psychological insight for which Turgenev is renowned. This anthology includes a range of narratives that explore the complexities of Russian society in the 19th century, touching on themes of love, identity, class, and personal conflict. Each story reveals Turgenev's ability to depict the subtleties of human emotions while also addressing the social and cultural tensions of his time. The titular story, The Jew, is a powerful exploration of prejudice and the moral dilemmas faced by individuals caught in the midst of societal expectations. It tells the tale of a young Russian man's encounter with a Jewish character, highlighting the tension between his personal beliefs and the ingrained anti-Semitism of his peers. This story, like many in the collection, is a poignant reflection on the complexities of human nature, offering a critique of the intolerance and prejudice that pervaded Russian society. In addition to its exploration of social issues, The Jew and Other Stories delves into the emotional lives of its characters, capturing the struggles of individuals torn between personal desires and societal pressures. Turgenev's prose is noted for its clarity and elegance, as well as its ability to evoke empathy and introspection in readers. Whether examining the internal conflicts of a young man in love or the quiet resignation of a woman faced with difficult choices, Turgenev's stories resonate with universal themes of human vulnerability and longing. Readers are drawn to The Jew and Other Stories for its exploration of timeless themes such as love, identity, and the tension between personal beliefs and societal norms. This collection is an essential read for those interested in Russian literature and the works of Ivan Turgenev, offering a profound look into the human condition through the lens of 19th-century Russian society. Turgenev's ability to weave complex characters and deep emotional insights into each narrative makes this collection a powerful and thought-provoking experience for readers.

Poor Folk and Other Stories Fyodor

Dostoyevsky, 1988-11-24 With their penetrating psychological insight and their emphasis on human dignity, respect, and forgiveness, Dostoyevsky's early short stories contain the seeds of the themes that came to his major novels. Poor Folk, the author's first great literary triumph, is the story of a tragic relationship between an impoverished copy clerk and a young seamstress, told through their passionate letters to each other. In The Landlady, Dostoyevsky portrays a dreamer-hero who is captivated by a curious couple and becomes their lodger. Mr. Prokharich, inspired by a true story, is a sly comedy centring on an eccentric miser. Polzunkov is a powerful character sketch, which, in common with the other tales in this volume, questions the very nature of existence.
