Buckley Excerpt WHEN IT BEGAN Before the war I was living in London with chambers at Lincoln s Inn I was not surprised when the trouble started Ever since 1904 it was reasonably clear to me that our country would have to fight the Germans or go under The days before we declared war on Germany were spent in London During the last few of them it was as though a terrible thunderstorm was hanging overhead ready to burst gloom and foreboding on the faces of all There is no doubt that most of our people were taken by surprise and that they were aghast at the sudden gathering of the war cloud But when the stroke of fate fell and we were committed to the war there was a curious sense of relief in many hearts Better death and ruin than dishonour A shameful peace or neutrality is for most Englishmen harder to bear than all the horrors of war Besides this struggle for freedom had to be fought out though few can have foretold the cost We are delighted to publish this classic book as part of our extensive Classic Library collection Many of the books in our collection have been out of print for decades and therefore have not been accessible to the general public The aim of our publishing program is to facilitate rapid access to this vast reservoir of literature and our view is that this is a significant literary work which deserves to be brought back into print after many decades The contents of the vast majority of titles in the Classic Library have been scanned from the original works To ensure a high quality product each title has been meticulously hand curated by our staff Our philosophy has been guided by a desire to provide the reader with a book that is as close as possible to ownership of the original work We hope that you will enjoy this wonderful classic work and that for you it becomes an enriching experience
