The Making Of Africa:

The Making of Contemporary Africa Bill Freund, 1984

The Making of Modern South Africa Nigel

Worden, 2012-01-10 The new edition of The Making of Modern South Africa provides a comprehensive current introduction to the key themes and debates concerning the history of this controversial country. Engagingly written, the author provides a sharp analytical overview of the new South Africa. Examines the major issues in South Africa's history from pre-colonial to present, including colonial conquest, the establishment of racism, segregation and apartheid, resistance movements and the eventual founding of democracy. Contains an additional final chapter that takes the story to the present and considers the challenges and compromises of the first two decades of democracy. Updated with material on post-apartheid era and current issues in South Africa. The only book that gives direct guidance to bibliographical material and readings on key debates. Provides a sharp analytical overview of the new South Africa. Extensive references are given to the key writings on each topic and the debates between scholars.

South Africa, Race and the Making of International Relations Vineet Thakur, Peter

Vale, 2020-01-17 This book offers readers an alternative history of the origins of the discipline of International Relations. Conventional western histories of the discipline point to 1919 as the year of the birth of the discipline with two seminal initiatives setting up of the first Chair of IR at Aberystwyth and the founding of the Institute of International Relations on the side lines of the Paris Peace Conference. From these events International Relations is argued to have been established as a path to create peace in the post War era and facilitated through a scientific study of international affairs. International Relations was therefore both a field of study and knowledge production and a plan of action. This pathbreaking book challenges these claims by presenting an alternative narrative of International Relations. In this book we make three interconnected arguments. First we argue that the natal moment in the founding of IR is not World War I as is generally believed but the Anglo Boer War. Second we argue that the ideas, methods and institutions that led to the making of IR were first thrashed out in South Africa in Johannesburg in fact. Finally this South African genealogy of IR we show in the book allows us to properly investigate the emergence of academic IR at the interstices of race, Empire and science.

The Making of Africa Adiele Eberechukwu Afigbo, Robin Palmer, 1986

The Making of Modern Africa: The twentieth century

Adiele Eberechukwu Afigbo, 1986 This very popular text has been thoroughly revised to include the most up to date developments in research and historiography. Five distinguished historians of Africa interpret the major historical themes region by region. They provide a clear and comprehensive survey of the period complemented by valuable maps and photographs.

The Making of Africa Colin Nicolson, 1973-01-01 Presents the history of Africa from ancient times to the present as recorded in the letters, diaries and memoirs of contemporary explorers, merchants, missionaries, slaves and statesmen.

The Palgrave Handbook of Christianity in Africa from Apostolic Times to the Present Andrew Eugene

Barnes, Toyin Falola, 2024-03-07 This comprehensive Handbook provides chapter length surveys of the history of Christian missions and Christian churches on the African continent since the time of Christ Africa is rapidly becoming the most Christianized region of the world While common narratives about Christianity tend to present Christianity as a set of ideas and beliefs imposed on Africa from the outside such narratives hold little meaning for African Christians or for those seeking to understand Christianity in Africa as an indigenous faith The aim of the Handbook is to propose a set of scholarly starting points for a new set of narratives The chapters collected here communicate an idea of Christianity as it has been embraced among African peoples at particular historical moments It therefore grants voice to the various strands of African Christianity on their own terms and offers scholarly study of what these voices teach us about how the world s most adhered to religion is practiced and understood on the continent of Africa

State Formation and Identity in the Middle East and North Africa K. Christie, M. Masad, 2013-12-17 For states in the Middle East North Africa and South Asia the Arab Spring has had different implications and consequences stemming from the politics of identity and the historical and political processes that have shaped development This book focuses on how these factors interact with globalization and affect state formation

The Search for Africa, 1994 Afrikaners in the New South Africa Rebecca Davies, 2009-02-28 How has the position of Afrikaners changed since the end of the Apartheid regime in South Africa While the links between Afrikaner nationalist identity and the apartheid regime have been irrevocably altered it is evident that this newly disempowered minority still commands a vast material and cultural capital Certain Afrikaans speakers have become important players in the new South Africa and on the world stage Davies argues that the global political economy and the closely associated ideology of globalization are major catalysts for change in Afrikaner identifications and positions She identifies multiple Afrikaner constituencies and identities and shows how they play out in the complex social economic and political landscape of South Africa Accessible informative and well written Afrikaners in the New South Africa is a vital contribution to our understanding of post apartheid South Africa It will be indispensable for those interested in South Africa identity politics globalization international political economy and geography
