Stevens Goes to Hollywood Dore Page, 2020-11-10 The ongoing popularity of Leslie Stevens 1960s television masterwork The Outer Limits as well as later series creations Battlestar Galactica and Buck Rogers in the 25th Century has kept his name familiar to television fans Surprisingly very little writing exists on his earlier Broadway contributions or his seminal film and television production company Daystar Productions Stevens personal life also remains relatively unknown This biography focuses on the origins of Daystar Productions as well as Stevens first years in Hollywood when he was married to actress Kate Manx After meeting Manx in 1957 Stevens took her with him to Los Angeles and refashioned her into a dramatic film actress who would soon star in his startling New Wave style debut film Private Property That film which Stevens made for just 40 000 would go on to gross several million dollars and open the doors to Hollywood for Manx and co star Warren Oates While Oates prospered Manx was unable to sustain her brief success and her life soon spiraled out of control as Stevens career turned increasingly toward television

Live Television Drama, 1946-1951 William Hawes, 2001-03-29 The live era or golden age of television drama originating from New York 1946 through 1951 was an exciting time of creative and commercial accomplishment This is a complete history and reference guide to the live dramas that aired during those six years Extensive coverage is given to the NBC anthologies Kraft Television Theatre and Philco Television Playhouse and the CBS anthologies Ford Theater and Studio One as well as to the competitors the 28 new anthologies that appeared in the prime time schedule during 1950 and 1951 Appendices comprehensively list the day by day program logs for BBC CBS and NBC dramas from 1946 through 1951

While America Watches Jeffrey Shandler, 2000-09-21 The Holocaust holds a unique place in American public culture and as Jeffrey Shandler argues in While America Watches it is television more than any other medium that has brought the Holocaust into our homes our hearts and our minds Much has been written about Holocaust film and literature and yet the medium that brings the subject to most people television has been largely neglected Now Shandler provides the first account of how television has familiarized the American people with the Holocaust He starts with wartime newsreels of liberated concentration camps showing how they set the moral tone for viewing scenes of genocide and then moves to television to explain how the Holocaust and the Holocaust survivor have gained stature as moral symbols in American culture From early teleplays to coverage of the Eichmann trial and the Holocaust miniseries as well as documentaries popular series such as All in the Family and Star Trek and news reports of recent interethnic violence in Bosnia Shandler offers an enlightening tour of television history Shandler also examines the many controversies that televised presentations of the Holocaust have sparked demonstrating how their impact extends well beyond the broadcasts themselves While America Watches is sure to continue this discussion and possibly the controversies among many readers

Television Directors, Race, and Gender Jonathan J. Cavallero, 2024-07-17 This book challenges the predominant framing of US television as a writer s or producer s medium by suggesting that television directors are a vital component of TV artistry Looking beyond a perspective that favors the narrative and economic aspects of television but undervalues the medium's formal elements the book explores how directors use the visual and aural to contribute layers of meaning that add to the thematic development of television texts Starting from the belief that television aesthetics partially reveal the ways in which directors and their collaborators contribute to the overall thematic development of a program the author offers five case studies that map out the ways that directors have contributed to television drama throughout the medium's approximately 80 year history By devoting special attention to the presence and voices of directors from marginalized backgrounds the book creates opportunities to discuss television from perspectives that emphasize issues of diversity equity and inclusion This original and insightful work will appeal to students and scholars of television studies television production and media production critical media studies media authorship gender studies and race and media
