The Making Of Beaubourg:

The Making of Beaubourg Nathan Silver, 1997-02-24 This is the story of how France's famed cultural icon one of the most controversial and supremely public buildings of the century was designed and built Nathan Silver's detailed account of the Centre Pompidou still called Beaubourg by its designers and by Parisians takes the form of a fascinating and insightful building biography Not just a book about a building but about the making of a building this fresh heterodox means of inquiry is a holistic reading of the intricate process of creating architecture in contemporary society that brings to light its human story encompassing its stylistic historical technical and social aspects Beaubourg Silver reveals was unlike anything that had ever been built A realization of ideals and aspirations of its architectural generation a rethinking of fundamental precepts of design and construction it took nothing for granted and it has since become one of the most popular tourist attractions in Europe flaunting new principles that other architects have to come to terms with Object to Be Destroyed Pamela M.

Lee, 2001-08-24 In this first critical account of Matta Clark's work Pamela M Lee considers it in the context of the art of the 1970s particularly site specific conceptual and minimalist practices and its confrontation with issues of community property the alienation of urban space the right to the city and the ideologies of progress that have defined modern building programs Although highly regarded during his short life and honored by artists and architects today the American artist Gordon Matta Clark 1943-78 has been largely ignored within the history of art Matta Clark is best remembered for site specific projects known as building cuts Sculptural transformations of architecture produced through direct cuts into buildings scheduled for demolition these works now exist only as sculptural fragments photographs and film and video documentations Matta Clark is also remembered as a catalytic force in the creation of SoHo in the early 1970s Through loft activities site projects at the exhibition space 112 Greene Street and his work at the restaurant Food he participated in the production of a new social and artistic space Have art historians written so little about Matta Clark's work because of its ephemerality or as Pamela M Lee argues because of its historiographic political and social dimensions What did the activity of carving up a building in anticipation of its destruction suggest about the conditions of art making architecture and urbanism in the 1970s What was one to make of the paradox attendant on its making that the production of the object was contingent upon its ruination How do these projects address the very writing of history a history that imagines itself building toward an ideal work in the service of progress In this first critical account of Matta Clark's work Lee considers it in the context of the art of the 1970s particularly site specific conceptual and minimalist practices and its confrontation with issues of community property the alienation of urban space the right to the city and the ideologies of progress that have defined modern building programs

Centre Pompidou Francesco Dal Co, 2016-01-01 The design and history of Paris's iconic Centre Pompidou is explored in this absorbing and beautifully illustrated biography of a building Disordering the Establishment Lily

Woodruff, 2020-05-26 Lily Woodruff examines the development of artistic strategies of political resistance in France in the decades following World War II showing how artists countered establishment ideology challenged traditional art institutions appealed to direct political engagement and grappled with French intellectuals modeling of society The Glass State Annette Fierro,2003 From the Gothic to the contemporary glass has transformed the structural formal and philosophical principles of architecture In The Glass State Annette Fierro views the many meanings of transparency in architecture Specifically she analyzes the transparent monumental buildings that were built in Paris between 1981 and 1988 as part of Francois Mitterand's program of Grands Projets The Grands Projets provide a rare opportunity to study a finite set of buildings constructed of similar materials in the same time period in a specific urban landscape and with related ideological missions Archigram Simon Sadler,2005-06-24 The first book length critical and historical account of an ultramodern architectural movement of the 1960s that advocated living equipment instead of buildings In the 1960s the architects of Britain's Archigram group and Archigram magazine turned away from conventional architecture to propose cities that move and houses worn like suits of clothes In drawings inspired by pop art and psychedelia architecture floated away tethered by wires gantries tubes and trucks In Archigram Architecture without Architecture Simon Sadler argues that Archigram's sense of fun takes its place beside the other cultural agitators of the 1960s originating attitudes and techniques that became standard for architects rethinking social space and building technology The Archigram style was assembled from the Apollo missions constructivism biology manufacturing electronics and popular culture inspiring an architectural movement High Tech and influencing the postmodern and deconstructivist trends of the late twentieth century Although most Archigram projects were at the limits of possibility and remained unbuilt the six architects at the center of the movement Warren Chalk Peter Cook Dennis Crompton David Greene Ron Herron and Michael Webb became a focal point for the architectural avant garde because they redefined the purpose of architecture Countering the habitual building practice of setting walls and spaces in place Archigram architects wanted to provide the equipment for amplified living and they welcomed any cultural rearrangements that would ensue Archigram Architecture without Architecture the first full length critical and historical account of the Archigram phenomenon traces Archigram from its rediscovery of early modernist verve through its courting of students to its ascent to international notoriety for advocating the disappearance of architecture The Modern Steel House Neil Jackson,2016-03-23 This book provides a comprehensive survey of Modern Movement houses constructed with steel frames Arranged chronologically and thematically it traces the development over the last seventy years of steel houses in Europe Australia and the United States with special reference to London Paris Sydney and Los Angeles and to the work elsewhere of Mies van der Rohe Philip Johnson and Jean Prouve Examples of steel houses from around the world demonstrate that steel structures can provide a better quality of life within a cleaner lighter home environment Gordon Matta-Clark? Conical Intersect Peter Muir,2017-07-05 In this in depth analysis Peter Muir argues that Gordon Matta Clark's Conical Intersect 1975 is emblematic of Henri Lefebvre's understanding of art's function in relation to urban space

By engaging with Lefebvre's theory in conjunction with the perspectives of other writers such as Michel de Certeau, Jacques Derrida and George Bataille, the book elicits a story that presents the artwork's significance, origins and legacies. Conical Intersect is a multi-media artwork which involves the intersections of architecture, sculpture, film and photography as well as being a three-dimensional model that reflects aspects of urban art and architectural theory along with a number of cultural and historiographic discourses which are still present and active. This book navigates these many complex narratives by using the central hole of Conical Intersect as its focal point; this apparently vacuous circle around which the events, documents and other historical or theoretical references surrounding Matta Clark's project are perpetually in circulation. Thus Conical Intersect is imagined as an insatiable absence around which discourses continually form, dissipate and resolve. Muir argues that Conical Intersect is much more than an artistic hole. Due to its location at Plateau Beaubourg in Paris, it is simultaneously an object of art and an instrument of social critique.

Renzo Piano Lorenzo Ciccarelli, 2023-10-19 Renzo Piano is one of the world's greatest living architects and creator of a host of iconic modern buildings including the Pompidou in Paris, the Menil Collection in Texas, Kansai Airport in Japan, the Shard in London and the new Whitney Museum of American Art in New York. Written and created in collaboration with the Piano Foundation in Genoa, this richly illustrated volume covers the early work as well as the most recent designs, making a complete survey of his career to date. Starting with his beginnings with the Pompidou Centre in the 1970s in collaboration with Richard Rogers, the story continues up to construction of one of his latest works, a spectacular new bridge in Genoa in 2020. The book explores all of the studio's main projects: the public spaces and museums, airports, theatres and libraries. As well as giving unique insights into the creative process of Piano himself, the book includes numerous unpublished designs and photographs. In the process, the book reveals Piano's unique way of handling light and space as well as his particular attention to the social implications of the profession of architect and the relationship of buildings to their urban environment and landscape.

The Architecture of Neoliberalism Douglas Spencer, 2016-10-20

The Architecture of Neoliberalism pursues an uncompromising critique of the neoliberal turn in contemporary architecture. This book reveals how a self-styled parametric and post-critical architecture serves mechanisms of control and compliance while promoting itself at the same time as progressive. Spencer's incisive analysis of the architecture and writings of figures such as Zaha Hadid, Patrik Schumacher, Rem Koolhaas and Greg Lynn shows them to be in thrall to the same notions of liberty as are propounded in neoliberal thought. Analysing architectural projects in the fields of education, consumption and labour, The Architecture of Neoliberalism examines the part played by contemporary architecture in refashioning human subjects into the compliant figures: student, entrepreneurs, citizen, consumers and team workers, requisite to the universal implementation of a form of existence devoted to market imperatives.
