The Making Of Love:

The Making of Love Steve Biddulph, Shaaron Biddulph, 2001 Love starts out as a blessing even a fluke but it continues as an achievement Steve and Shaaron Biddulph's classic book on how to find and grow the love between a man and a woman has been credited with saving the marriages of couples across the globe Written in their earthy honest and warm style and revised and updated for the twenty first century it includes How to recognise and balance the levels of connection loving lusting and liking in your relationship How commitment can be built up in small safe steps How having children helps you grow up Getting through the crises that every couple has The changes that children bring and how to make these a plus A long term loving relationship is an achievement a craft and it can take years to develop The Making of Love is unique in that it explores the issues that couples face from both the male and female point of view and illustrates these through moving stories from people's lives

Making Love with the Land Joshua Whitehead, 2022-11-15 A moving and deeply personal excavation of Indigenous beauty and passion in a suffering world The novel Jonny Appleseed established Joshua Whitehead as one of the most exciting and important new literary voices on Turtle Island winning both a Lambda Literary Award and Canada Reads 2021 In Making Love with the Land his first nonfiction book Whitehead explores the relationships between body language and land through creative essay memoir and confession In prose that is evocative and sensual unabashedly queer and visceral raw and autobiographical Whitehead writes of an Indigenous body in pain coping with trauma Deeply rooted within he reaches across the anguish to create a new form of storytelling he calls biostory beyond genre and entirely sovereign Through this narrative perspective Making Love with the Land recasts mental health struggles and our complex emotional landscapes from a nefarious parasite on his and our well being to kin even a relation no matter what difficulties they present to us Whitehead ruminates on loss and pain without shame or ridicule but rather highlights waypoints for personal transformation Written in the aftermath of heartbreak before and during the pandemic Making Love with the Land illuminates this present moment in which both Indigenous and non Indigenous people are rediscovering old ways and creating new ones about connection with and responsibility toward each other and the land Intellectually audacious and emotionally compelling Whitehead shares his devotion to the world in which we live and brilliantly even joyfully maps his experience on the land that has shaped stories histories and bodies from time immemorial

The Art of Making Love, 1676 Making Love Modern Nina Miller, 1999-01-21 In the teens and twenties New York was home to a rich variety of literary subcultures Within these intermingled worlds gender lines and other boundaries were crossed in ways hardly imaginable in previous decades Among the bohemians of Greenwich Village the sophisticates of the Algonquin Round Table and the literati of the Harlem Renaissance certain women found fresh powerful voices through which to speak and write Edna St Vincent Millay and Dorothy Parker are now best remembered for their colorful lives Genevieve Taggard Gwendolyn Bennett and Helene Johnson are hardly remembered at all Yet each made a serious literary contribution to the meaning of modern femininity relationship and selfhood Making Love Modern uncovers the deep historical sensitivity and interest of these women s love poetry Placing their work in the context of subcultures nested within national culture Nina Miller explores the tensions that make this literature so rewarding for contemporary readers A poetry of intimate expression it also functioned powerfully as public assertion The writers themselves were high profile embodiments of femininity the local representatives of New Womanhood within their male centered subcultural worlds Making Love Modern captures the literary lives of these women as well as the complex subcultures they inhabited Harlem the Village and glamorous Midtown In the end the book is a much a study of modernist New York as of women s love poetry during modernism Making Love in the Twelfth Century ,2016-04-29 New sparkling translations of the Letters of Two Lovers the Tegernsee Letters and selections from the Regensburg Songs Nine hundred years ago in Paris a teacher and his brilliant female student fell in love and chronicled their affair in a passionate correspondence Their 116 surviving letters some whole and some fragmentary are composed in eloquent highly rhetorical Latin Since their discovery in the late twentieth century the Letters of Two Lovers have aroused much attention because of their extreme rarity They constitute the longest correspondence by far between any two persons from the entire Middle Ages and they are private rather than institutional which means that according to all we know about the transmission of medieval letters they should not have survived at all Adding to their mystery the letters are copied anonymously in a single late fifteenth century manuscript although their style and range of reference place them squarely in the early twelfth century Can this collection of correspondence be the previously lost love letters of Abelard and Heloise And even if not what does it tell us about the lived experience of love in the twelfth century Barbara Newman contends that these teacher student exchanges bear witness to a culture that linked Latin pedagogy with the practice of ennobling love and the cult of friendship during a relatively brief period when women played an active part in that world Newman presents a new translation of these extraordinary letters along with a full commentary and two extended essays that parse their literary and intellectual contexts and chart the course of the doomed affair Included too are two other sets of twelfth century love epistles the Tegernsee Letters and selections from the Regensburg Songs Taken together they constitute a stunning contribution to the study of the history of emotions by one of our most prominent medievalists Making Love Last Forever Gary Smalley,1997-08-08 For years Gary Smalley has helped millions of couples throughout North America enrich their relationships and deepen their bonds of love and companionship In this extraordinary book he shows you how to stay in love through all the stages of life From first attraction to lifelong commitment Gary s proven techniques and practical advice show you how to pursue and keep the love you want and how to energize your relationship with enduring passion filled love In this book you ll learn how to Understand and use love s best kept secret Deal with the number one enemy of love Turn headaches into more love Increase your energy to keep loving Find the power to keep on loving your spouse Use normal conflicts as doorways to intimacy Read a woman s built in marriage manual twelve ways Divorce proof your marriage

The Complete Concordance to Shakespeare: Being a Verbal

Index to All the Passages in the Dramatic Works of the Poet Mary Cowden- Clarke, 1845 Love and the Politics of Care
Stanislava Dikova, Wendy McMahon, Jordan Savage, 2022-11-03 This edited volume offers a contemporary rethinking of the relationship between love and care in the context of neoliberal practices of professionalization and work. Each of the book's three sections interrogates a particular site of care where the affective, political, legal, and economic dimensions of care intersect in challenging ways. These sites are located within a variety of institutionally managed contexts such as the contemporary university, the theatre hall, the prison complex, the family home, the urban landscape, and the care industry. The geographical spread of the case studies stretches across India, Vietnam, Sweden, Brazil, South Africa, the UK, and the US, and provides broad coverage that crosses the divide between the Global North and the Global South. To address this transnational interdisciplinary field of study, the collection utilises insights from across the humanities and social sciences and includes contributions from literature, sociology, cultural and media studies, philosophy, feminist theory, theatre, art history, and education. These inquiries build on a variety of conceptual tools and research methods from data analysis to psychoanalytic reading. Love and the Politics of Care delivers an attentive and widely relevant examination of the politics of care and makes a compelling case for an urgent reconsideration of the methods that currently structure and regulate it.
