

The background of the book cover is a detailed oil painting. It depicts a scene where a European man, likely a doctor or missionary, is examining a young Native American child. The man is dressed in 18th-century attire, including a dark coat and a white cravat. He is leaning forward, his hands near the child. The child is lying on a green cloth, looking up at the man with a concerned expression. A Native American woman, wearing a white shawl and a headscarf, sits beside the child, holding their hand. In the background, another European man in similar clothing stands observing. The overall tone is somber and historical.
