Telling Womens Lives The New Biography:

The Text is Myself Miriam Fuchs, 2004 German Jewish novelist Grete Weil fled to Holland but her husband was arrested there and murdered by the Nazis Chilean novelist Isabel Allende fled her country after her uncle Salvador Allende was assassinated and she later lost her daughter to disease Unceasing Militant Alison M. Parker, 2020-10-29 Born into slavery during the Civil War Mary Church Terrell 1863 1954 would become one of the most prominent activists of her time with a career bridging the late nineteenth century to the civil rights movement of the 1950s The first president of the National Association of Colored Women and a founding member of the NAACP Terrell collaborated closely with the likes of Frederick Douglass Ida B Wells and W E B Du Bois Unceasing Militant is the first full length biography of Terrell bringing her vibrant voice and personality to life Though most accounts of Terrell focus almost exclusively on her public activism Alison M Parker also looks at the often turbulent unexplored moments in her life to provide a more complete account of a woman dedicated to changing the culture and institutions that perpetuated inequality throughout the United States Drawing on newly discovered letters and diaries Parker weaves together the joys and struggles of Terrell s personal private life with the challenges and achievements of her public political career producing a stunning portrait of an often under recognized political leader

Unceasing Militant, Second Edition Alison M. Parker, 2025-03-18 Born into slavery during the Civil War Mary Church Terrell 1863 1954 would become one of the most prominent activists of her time with a career bridging the late nineteenth century to the civil rights movement of the 1950s The first president of the National Association of Colored Women and a founding member of the NAACP Terrell collaborated closely with the likes of Frederick Douglass Ida B Wells and W E B Du Bois Unceasing Militant is the first full length biography of Terrell bringing her vibrant voice and personality to life Though most accounts of Terrell focus almost exclusively on her public activism Alison M Parker also looks at the often turbulent unexplored moments in her life to provide a more complete account of a woman dedicated to changing the culture and institutions that perpetuated inequality throughout the United States This new edition includes a new preface in which Parker reflects on the resurgence of public interest in Terrell and discusses the newly available digitized files of Terrell s papers at the Library of Congress West African Narratives of Slavery Sandra E. Greene, 2011-02-16 Slavery in Africa existed for hundreds of years before it was abolished in the late 19th century Yet we know little about how enslaved individuals especially those who never left Africa talked about their experiences Collecting never before published or translated narratives of Africans from southeastern Ghana Sandra E Greene explores how these writings reveal the thoughts emotions and memories of those who experienced slavery and the slave trade Greene considers how local norms and the circumstances behind the recording of the narratives influenced their content and impact This unprecedented study affords unique insights into how ordinary West Africans understood and talked about their lives during a time of change and upheaval Rachilde and French Women's Authorship Melanie Hawthorne, 2001-01-01 Under the assumed name Rachilde

Marguerite Eymery 1860 1953 wrote over sixty works of fiction drama poetry memoir and criticism including Monsieur V nus one of the most famous examples of decadent fiction She was closely associated with the literary journal Mercure de France inspired parts of Oscar Wilde's The Picture of Dorian Gray and mingled with all the literary lights of the day Yet for all that very little has been written about her Melanie C Hawthorne corrects this oversight and counters the traditional approach to Rachilde by persuasively portraying this eccentric as patently representative of the French women writers of her time and of the social and literary issues they faced Seen in this light Rachilde's writing clearly illustrates important questions in feminist literary theory as well as significant features of turn of the century French society Hawthorne arranges her approach to Rachilde around several defining events in the author's life including the controversial publication of Monsieur V nus with its presentation of sex reversals Weaving back and forth in time she is able to depict these moments in relation to Rachilde's life work and times and to illuminate nineteenth century publishing practices and rivalries including authorial manipulations of the market for sexually suggestive literature The most complete and accurate account yet written of this emblematic author Hawthorne's work is also the first to situate Rachilde in the broader social contexts and literary currents of her time and of our own

Zelda Sayre Fitzgerald Linda Wagner-Martin, 2004-07-30 Linda Wagner Martin's Zelda Sayre Fitzgerald is a twenty first century story Using cultural and gender studies as contexts Wagner Martin brings new information to the story of the Alabama judge's daughter who at seventeen met her husband to be Scott Fitzgerald Swept away from her stable home life into Jazz Age New York and Paris Zelda eventually learned to be a writer and a painter and she came close to being a ballerina An evocative portrayal of a talented woman's professional and emotional conflicts this study contains extensive notes and new photographs

Pandora's Breeches Patricia Fara, 2011-01-18 Had God intended Women merely as a finer sort of cattle he would not have made them reasonable Writing in 1673 Bathsua Makin was one of the first women to insist that girls should receive a scientific education Despite the efforts of Makin and her successors women were excluded from universities until the end of the nineteenth century yet they found other ways to participate in scientific projects Taking a fresh look at history Pandora's Breeches investigates how women contributed to scientific progress As well as collaborating in home based research women corresponded with internationally renowned scholars hired tutors published their own books and translated and simplified important texts such as Newton's book on gravity They played essential roles in work frequently attributed solely to their husbands fathers or friends

Biographical Television Drama Hannah Andrews, 2021-04-13 Biographical Television Drama breaks new ground as to my knowledge the first book length exploration of the terms in which television engages in biographical storytelling Backed by robust research in biography studies and British television history Hannah Andrews deftly unravels the complexities behind the accessibility of biographical television drama Her book tackles key questions head on notably rhetorics and style narrative and performance and innovatively ethics while also shedding light on the interconnections with other biographical screen forms through a rich corpus This is an essential critical study that vindicates television drama's unique place in the histories and practices of screen biography. Bel n Vidal Senior Lecturer in Film Studies at King's College London and co editor of The Biopic in Contemporary Film Culture. This book explores what happens when biography and television meet in a novel fusion of the two fields of study. Andrews compares core concepts in biography and television studies such as intimacy, the presentation of the self and the uneasy relationship between fact and fiction. The book examines biographical drama's generic hybridity, accounting for the influence of the film biopic, docudrama, melodrama and period drama. It discusses biographical television drama's representation of real lives in terms of visual style, performance and self reflexivity. Andrews also assesses how life stories are shaped for televisual narrative formats and analyses the adaptation process for the biographical drama. Finally, the book considers various kinds of reputation of the broadcast institution, author, biographical subject in relation to the ethics of televisual biography.

Beyond Nostalgia Ruth E. Ray, 2000. For three years Ruth E. Ray visited and participated in eight writing groups at six senior centers in inner city and suburban Detroit looking for ways in which the elderly fashion their memories through personal narrative. Her innovative book involves the reader in the construction of life stories as a richly rewarding and highly social process that often reveals the types of relationships that dominate the lives of group members, the majority of whom are women. Because Ray wrote and responded herself and shares her anxiety and triumph in presenting her writing to women old enough to be her mother, some of a different race and class. Beyond Nostalgia is an excellent primer for professionals working with diverse groups in a variety of settings. It is also an important contribution to the emerging field of feminist gerontology. Ray's book demonstrates its own thesis that the presentation and negotiation of life stories in writing groups initiates change and personal growth among older people. Drawing on personal observations, the give and take of meeting, conversations, lengthy interviews and the life stories themselves, Ray tells a story of adult development through personal narrative. She recreates the group process through which age peers begin to articulate what life means, both individually and collectively. The writing groups of older adults that Ray studied challenged their members to consider not just cultural influences but generational effects on the evolving content and structure of their life stories. Age, Ray argues, has been largely ignored by feminists and she makes a strong case for the need to learn how women make meaning of their lives across the life span. As an important document and analysis of that process, Beyond Nostalgia should appeal to academics and practitioners in women's studies, composition studies, gerontology, developmental psychology, sociology, social work and linguistics and to anyone who works with older people.

Feminism, Film, Fascism Susan E. Linville, 2010-01-01. German society's inability and/or refusal to come to terms with its Nazi past has been analyzed in many cultural works, including the well known books Society without the Father and The Inability to Mourn. In this pathfinding study, Susan Linville challenges the accepted wisdom of these books by focusing on a cultural realm in which mourning for the Nazi past and opposing the patriarchal and authoritarian nature of postwar German culture are central concerns, namely women's feminist auto biographical films of the 1970s and 1980s After a broad survey of feminist theory Linville analyzes five important films that reflect back on the Third Reich through the experiences of women of different ages Marianne Rosenbaum's Peppermint Peace Helma Sanders-Brahms's Germany Pale Mother Jutta Brückner's Hunger Years Margarethe von Trotta's Marianne and Juliane and Jeanine Meerapfel's Malou By juxtaposing these films with the accepted theories on German culture Linville offers a fresh appraisal not only of the films' importance but especially of their challenge to misogynist interpretations of the German failure to grieve for the horrors of its Nazi past

The Transformation of American Sex Education Ellen S. More, 2024-09-03 This book examines Americans' attempts to come to terms with the vexed subject of sex education in the schools from the late 1940s to the early 21st century Using Mary Calderone's life and career as a touchstone it traces the origins of modern sex education in the United States from the work of a group of reformers who coalesced around Calderone to create SIECUS in 1964 through the development and use of the competing approaches known as abstinence-based and comprehensive sex education from the 1980s into the 21st century

The Pearl John Steinbeck, 1994-10-01 There it lay the great pearl perfect as the moon Like his father and grandfather before him Kino is a poor diver gathering pearls from the gulf beds that once brought great wealth to the Kings of Spain and now provide Kino Juana and their infant son with meager subsistence Then on a day like any other Kino emerges from the sea with a pearl as large as a sea gull's egg as perfect as the moon With the pearl comes hope the promise of comfort and of security A story of classic simplicity based on a Mexican folk tale The Pearl explores the secrets of man's nature the darkest depths of evil and the luminous possibilities of love From the Trade Paperback edition

Women and Race in Contemporary U.S. Writing K. Lynch Reames, 2007-01-08 This study discovers how contemporary writers have imagined possible relationships between African American and white women that overcome the stereotypical patterns of racism using novels and autobiographies and focusing on works by William Faulkner Lillian Hellman Audre Lorde Kaye Gibbons Elizabeth Cox Sherley Anne Williams and Toni Morrison

Textual Mothers/Maternal Texts Elizabeth Podnieks, Andrea O'Reilly, 2011-04-07 Textual Mothers/Maternal Texts focuses on mothers as subjects and as writers who produce autobiography fiction and poetry about maternity International contributors examine the mother without child with child and in her multiple identities as grandmother mother and daughter The collection examines how authors use textual spaces to accept negotiate resist or challenge traditional conceptions of mothering and maternal roles and how these texts offer alternative practices and visions for mothers Further it illuminates how textual representations both reflect and help to define or reshape the realities of women and families by examining how mothering and being a mother are political personal and creative narratives unfolding within both the pages of a book and the spaces of a life The range of chapters maps a shift from the daughter-centric stories that have dominated the maternal tradition to the matrilineal and matrifocal perspectives that have emerged over the last few decades as the mother's voice moved from silence to speech Contributors make aesthetic cultural and political claims and critiques about mothering and motherhood illuminating in new and diverse ways how authors and the protagonists of the texts read their own maternal identities as well as the maternal scripts of their families cultures and nations in their quest for self knowledge agency and artistic expression

A Difficult Woman Alice Kessler-Harris, 2012-04-30 Lillian Hellman was a giant of twentieth century letters and a groundbreaking figure as one of the most successful female playwrights on Broadway Yet the author of The Little Foxes and Toys in the Attic is today remembered more as a toxic bitter survivor and literary fabulist the woman of whom Mary McCarthy said Every word she writes is a lie including and the In A Difficult Woman renowned historian Alice Kessler Harris undertakes a feat few would dare to attempt a reclamation of a combative controversial woman who straddled so many political and cultural fault lines of her time Kessler Harris renders Hellman s feisty wit and personality in all of its contradictions as a non Jewish Jew a displaced Southerner a passionate political voice without a party an artist immersed in commerce a sexually free woman who scorned much of the women s movement a loyal friend whose trust was often betrayed and a writer of memoirs who repeatedly questioned the possibility of achieving truth and doubted her memory Hellman was a writer whose plays spoke the language of morality yet whose achievements foundered on accusations of mendacity Above all else she was a woman who made her way in a man s world Kessler Harris has crafted a nuanced life of Hellman empathetic yet unsparing that situates her in the varied contexts in which she moved from New Orleans to Broadway to the hearing room of HUAC A Difficult Woman is a major work of literary and intellectual history This will be one of the most reviewed and most acclaimed books of 2012
