unfinished work Victory Boogie Woogie 1942-4 and post war Japanese and Japanese style architectural photography As far back as the mid 1950s critics and photographers were inclined to link Mondrian's painting with modern Japanese architecture and some historians were to go so far as to assert that Mondrian himself had been influenced by traditional Japanese architecture Powerful associations such as these contributed to the coming together of Western and Japanese architectural modernity They also underpinned the survival of Japonisme in architecture or put another way of the neo Japonisme that emerged after the Second World War However while this kinship between Mondrian's abstraction and the aesthetic of Japanese architecture is little apparent in architecture it does show in architectural photography This book which takes a sidelong look at Mondrian examines the works of the foremost among Japanese and American architectural photographers in an effort to interpret the dynamics of how the world of architecture was Japanized between 1945 and 1985
