The Politics of Painting Asato Ikeda, 2018-05-31 This book examines a set of paintings produced in Japan during the 1930s and early 1940s that have received little scholarly attention Asato Ikeda views the work of four prominent artists of the time Yokoyama Taikan Yasuda Yukihiko Uemura Sh en and Fujita Tsuguharu through the lens of fascism showing how their seemingly straightforward paintings of Mount Fuji samurai beautiful women and the countryside supported the war by reinforcing a state ideology that justified violence in the name of the country's cultural authenticity. She highlights the politics of apolitical art and challenges the postwar labeling of battle paintings those depicting scenes of war and combat as uniquely problematic. Yokoyama Taikan produced countless paintings of Mount Fuji as the embodiment of Japan's national body and spirituality in contrast to the modern West's individualism and materialism. Yasuda Yukihiko located Japan in the Minamoto warriors of the medieval period depicting them in the Yamato e style which is defined as classically Japanese. Uemura Shōen sought to paint the quintessential Japanese woman drawing on the Edo period bijin ga beautiful women genre while alluding to noh aesthetics and wartime gender expectations. For his subjects Fujita Tsuguharu looked to the rural snow country where it was believed authentic Japanese traditions could still be found. Although these artists employed different styles and favored different subjects each maintained close ties with the state and presented what he considered to be the most representative and authentic portrayal of Japan. Throughout Ikeda takes into account the changing relationships between visual iconography, artistic style and its significance by carefully situating artworks within their specific historical and cultural moments. She reveals the global dimensions of wartime nationalist Japanese art and opens up the possibility of dialogue with scholarship on art produced in other countries around the same time particularly Nazi Germany and Fascist Italy. The Politics of Painting will be welcomed by those interested in modern Japanese art and visual culture and war art and fascism. Its analysis of painters and painting within larger currents in intellectual history will attract scholars of modern Japanese and East Asian studies.

Henk Tromp,2025-10-01 Vincent van Gogh s paintings and drawings are fabulously expensive Millions of people admire his work but are those masterpieces all genuine To this day the international art world struggles to separate the real Van Goghs from the fake ones and the key question addressed in this book is what may happen to art experts when they publicly voice their opinions on a particular Van Gogh or not The story starts with art expert J B de la Faille who discovered to his own bewilderment that he had included dozens of fake Van Goghs in his 1928 catalogue raisonné He wanted to set the record straight but met with strong resistance from art dealers collectors critics politicians and others marking the beginning of a fierce clash of interests that had seized the art world for many decades of the twentieth century In his fascinating account of the struggle for the genuine Vincent van Gogh Tromp shows the less attractive side of the art world His reconstruction of many such confrontations yields a host of intriguing and sometimes bewildering insights into the fates of art experts when they bring unwelcome news A Real Van Gogh shows how much resistance an art expert might meet when he discovers a fake Van Gogh
