

What had you been thinking about the face studiously bloodied heaven blotted region I go on loving you like water but there is a terrible breath in the way all of this You were not elected president, yet won the race All the way through fog and drizzle When you read it was sincere the coasts stammered with unintentional villages the horse strains fatigued I guess . . . the calls . . .
I worry

the water beetle head why of course reflecting all then you redid you were breathing I thought going down to mail this of the kettle you jabbered as easily in the yard you come through but are incomparable the lovely tent mystery you don't want surrounded the real you dance in the spring there was clouds

The mulatress approached in the hall—the lettering easily visible along the edge of the Times in a moment the bell would ring but there was time for the carnation laughed here are a couple of "other" to one in yon house

The doctor and Philip had come over the road Turning in toward the corner of the wall his hat on reading it carelessly as if to tell you your fears were justified the blood shifted you know those walls wind off the earth had made him shrink undeniably an oboe now the young were there there was candy to decide the sharp edge of the garment like a particular cry not intervening called the dog "he's coming! he's coming" with an emotion felt it sink into peace

Tennis Court Oath A Of Poems:

The Tennis Court Oath ; a Book of Poems John Ashbery,1962 The Tennis Court Oath John Ashbery,1962

John Ashbery and American Poetry David Herd,2024-07-30 David Herd sets out to provide readers with a new critical language through which they can appreciate the beauty and complexity of Ashbery's writing Presenting the poet in all his forms avant garde nostalgic sublime and camp the book argues that the perpetual inventiveness of Ashbery's work has always been underpinned by the poet's desire to write the poem fit to cope with its occasion Tracing Ashbery's development in the light of this idea and from its origins in the dazzling artistic environment of 1950's New York the book evaluates his poetry against the aesthetic literary and historical backgrounds that have informed it The story of a brilliant career and a history of the period in which that career has taken shape John Ashbery and American Poetry provides a compelling account of Ashbery's importance to Twentieth Century Literature Poetry, Architecture, and the New York School Mae Losasso,2023-12-20 Poetry Architecture and the New York School Something Like a Liveable Space examines the relationship between poetics and architecture in the work of the first generation New York School poets Frank O'Hara John Ashbery Barbara Guest and James Schuyler Reappraising the much debated New York School label Mae Losasso shows how these writers constructed poetic spaces structures surfaces and apertures and sought to figure themselves and their readers in relation to these architextual sites In doing so Losasso reveals how the built environment shapes the poetic imagination and how in turn poetry alters the way we read and inhabit architectural space Animated by archival research and architectural photographs Poetry Architecture and the New York School marks a decisive interdisciplinary turn in New York School studies and offers new frameworks for thinking about postmodern American poetry in the twenty first century

Poetry and the Sense of Panic ,2021-09-20 For all the disciplined artifice of Elizabeth Bishop and John Ashbery the essays in this collection show that panic plays a crucial role in their work giving substance to Bishop's claim that an element of mortal panic and fear underlines all art Panic emerges as a condition of creative anxiety and the self imposed demands of originality in response to the poetic traditions Bishop and Ashbery inherited These concerns are explored in essays addressed to Bishop and Ashbery's engagement with European Surrealism as an alternative to the dominant poetics of Modernism and its aftermath in the middle years of the twentieth century Other essays debate the philosophical religious and political orientation of their work in relation to Romantic orthodoxies and Postmodern ironies in terms of cultural history ideology and poetic practice This collection provides original commentaries on the work of two poets widely regarded as amongst the most significant American poets of the second half of the twentieth century with essays by notable scholars from the United States and Britain known for their special interests in modern poetry including Joanne Feit Diehl Mark Ford Edward Larissy Peter Nicholls Peter Robinson Thomas Travisano Cheryl Walker and Geoff Ward The New American Poetry, 1945-1960 Donald Allen,1999 Donald Allen's prophetic anthology had an electrifying effect on two generations at least of American poets and readers More than the repetition of familiar names and ideas that most anthologies seem to be about here was the declaration of a collective intelligent and thoroughly visionary work in progress the primary example for its time of the anthology as manifesto Its republication today complete with poems statements on poetics and autobiographical projections provides us again with a model of how a contemporary anthology can and should be shaped In these essentials it remains as fresh and useful a guide as it was in 1960 Jerome Rothenberg editor of Poems for the Millennium The New American Poetry is a crucial cultural document central to defining the poetics and the broader cultural dynamics of a particular historical moment Alan Golding author of From Outlaw to Classic Canons in American Poetry Invisible Terrain Stephen Joseph Ross,2017 Stephen J Ross examines the concept of nature in the work of John Ashbery Through close readings of Ashbery s poetry and critical prose he reveals Ashbery s work to be a case study of the dramatic transformation of nature in art and literature since World War II The Paris Review Interviews, IV The Paris Review,2009-10-27 For more than fifty years The Paris Review has brought us revelatory and revealing interviews with the literary lights of our age This critically acclaimed series continues with another eclectic lineup including Philip Roth Ezra Pound Haruki Murakami Marilynne Robinson Stephen Sondheim E B White Maya Angelou William Styron and more In each of these remarkable extended conversations the authors touch every corner of the writing life sharing their ambitions obsessions inspirations disappointments and the most idiosyncratic details of their writing habits The collected interviews of The Paris Reviews are as Gary Shteyngart put it a colossal literary event Pitch of Poetry Charles Bernstein,2016-03-21 Bernstein a leading voice in American literary theory writes an irreverent guide to modernist and contemporary poetics Modern Poetry after Modernism James Longenbach,1997-11-27 In this book James Longenbach develops a fresh approach to major American poetry after modernism Rethinking the influential breakthrough narrative the oft told story of postmodern poets throwing off their modernist shackles in the 1950s Longenbach offers a more nuanced perspective Reading a diverse range of poets John Ashbery Elizabeth Bishop Amy Clampitt Jorie Graham Richard Howard Randall Jarrell Robert Lowell Robert Pinsky and Richard Wilbur Longenbach reveals that American poets since mid century have not so much disowned their modernist past as extended elements of modernism that other readers have suppressed or neglected to see In the process Longenbach allows readers to experience the wide variety of poetries written in our time without asking us to choose between them

John Ashbery and You John Emil Vincent,2007 John Ashbery and You approaches Ashbery s critically neglected recent poetry with an ear to his use of the supremely elastic pronoun you and an eye toward his construction of his books as books Together these devices produce effects new to Ashbery s oeuvre and offer readers new ways in to his work John Ashbery and You argues that starting with April Galleons 1987 and reaching an apex in Your Name Here 2000 the poet has been paying increasingly keen and affectionate attention to his readers Vincent tracks these techniques but above all offers his readers tools to reapproach a dauntingly difficult body of work Some critics have suggested that Ashbery is producing books too quickly for criticism to keep up or that the later books represent as Vincent summarizes it a kind of logorrhea and therefore don't really register as separate events as much as episodic eruptions of one big volcano which is the Later Ashbery Vincent contends that critics are not keeping up with Ashbery not so much because it is all of a piece but rather because his work varies so much from volume to volume Each of the volumes from the latter part of Ashbery's career represents an individual and different poetic project depending precisely on the unit of the book to produce its effects By showing us that the entry point to Ashbery is not any given individual poem within a volume but the entire volume Vincent gives us a new and productive approach to reading the recent work of one of our most challenging poets

The New American Poetry John R. Woznicki, 2013-12-24 The New American Poetry Fifty Years Later is a collection of critical essays on Donald Allen's 1960 seminal anthology The New American Poetry an anthology that Marjorie Perloff once called the fountainhead of radical American poetics The New American Poetry is referred to in every literary history of post World War II American poetry Allen's anthology has reached its fiftieth anniversary providing a unique time for reflection and reevaluation of this preeminent collection As we know Allen's anthology was groundbreaking it was the first to distribute widely the poetry and theoretical positions of poets such as Charles Olson Allen Ginsberg and the Beats and it was the first to categorize these poets by the schools Black Mountain New York School San Francisco Renaissance and the Beats by which they are known today Over the course of fifty years this categorization of poets into schools has become one of the major if not only way that The New American Poetry is remembered or valued one certain goal of this volume as one reviewer invites is to pry The New American Poetry out from the hoary platitudes that have encrusted it To this point critics mostly have examined The New American Poetry as an anthology former treatments of The New American Poetry look at it intently as a whole Though the almost singularly focused study of its construction and less often reception has lent a great deal of documented highly visible and debated material in which to consider we have been left with certain notions about its relevance that have become imbued ultimately in the collective critical consciousness of postmodernity This volume however goes beyond the analysis of construction and reception and achieves something distinctive extending those former treatments by treading on the paths they create This volume aims to discover another sense of radical that Perloff articulated rather than a radical that departs markedly from the usual we invite consideration of The New American Poetry that is radical in the sense of root of harboring something fundamental something inherent as we uncover and trace further elements correlated with its widespread influence over the last fifty years Encyclopedia of American Poetry: The Twentieth Century Eric L.
