public view Her rarely seen gardens and domestic interiors at eight different properties on three continents became legends and models At Oak Spring Farm in Virginia the bibliographic riches of her Garden Library were twinned with the expansive flowering gardens lying below the Edward Larrabee Barnes designed building At her home on Nantucket she pruned back the landscape to reveal the elemental forms of nature Mellon also ranked as one of the great art collectors of her era encouraging her husband Paul to use his family's vast wealth to acquire hundreds of nineteenth century French paintings many of which were donated to the National Gallery of Art Her own tastes ranged from Mark Rothko to Richard Diebenkorn in quantity In I'll Build a Stairway to Paradise Mac Griswold who knew Mellon personally delves into her subject's closely guarded personal archives to construct an unrivaled portrait of a woman as complex and multifaceted as the gardens and homes on which she left her mark Mellon tested the anodyne 1950s model of woman as wife as mother by getting a divorce admitting candidly to her first husband that she wanted a richer one She imperiously traded old friends for new and ultimately used her reputation her connections and above all her money to help fund John Edwards's short lived presidential campaign She led an American version of a royal court that over the years included Jackie Kennedy Hubert de Givenchy and I M Pei How Mellon's character style and taste developed together to produce her greatest accomplishments private and public is the real subject of this biography
