Technology Music, Language, and the Brain Aniruddh D. Patel, 2010-06-01 In the first comprehensive study of the relationship between music and language from the standpoint of cognitive neuroscience Aniruddh D Patel challenges the widespread belief that music and language are processed independently This volume argues that music and language share deep and critical connections and that comparative research provides a powerful way to study the cognitive and neural mechanisms underlying these uniquely human abilities Constructions at Work Adele E. Goldberg, 2006 Includes selected classic and contemporary papers in four areas this text introduces each field providing technical background for the non specialist and explaining the underlying connections across the disciplines American Fiction in the Cold War Thomas H. Schaub, 1991 In American Fiction in the Cold War Thomas Hill Schaub makes it clear that Trilling's summary was in itself a mythic reconstruction a prominent example of the way liberal writers in the late 1940s and 1950s came to terms with their political past Schaub's book brilliantly analyzes their efforts to reshape an old liberalism alleged to hold naively optimistic views of human nature scientific reason and social progress into a new skeptical liberalism that recognized the persistence of human evil the fragility of reason and the ambiguity of moral decision Most important as American Fiction in the Cold War demonstrates these liberal reassessments of history politics human nature and destiny what Schaub calls the liberal narrative mediated the critical and imaginative production of the literary community after World War II Schaub shows that the elements of this narrative are visible in a wide spectrum of cultural narratives in American history political philosophy and social criticism during the Cold War era His analysis of the dominant critical communities of the late 1940s led by critics such as Lionel Trilling and Irving Howe Cleanth Brooks and Allen Tate recovers the political meanings embedded within their debates over the nature of literary realism the definition of the novel and speculations on its death In the second part of his study Schaub turns to Ralph Ellison Flannery O'Connor Norman Mailer and John Barth His readings of their fiction isolate the political and cultural content of works often faulted for their apparent efforts to transcend social history Reviewing John Barth's End of the Road for example he shows the politics of culture concealed within what seems to be a philosophical narrative In novel after novel he demonstrates the liberal narrative is operating from within tuning and steering the direction of the plot and the creation of the character Schaub's penetrating exploration of the relationship between U.S. political and social thought and the literary consciousness in the early postwar years will be of interest to intellectual historians and to students of American literary culture Neural Network Perspectives on Cognition and Adaptive Robotics A Browne, 2019-08-20 Featuring an international team of authors Neural Network Perspectives on Cognition and Adaptive Robotics presents several approaches to the modeling of human cognition and language using neural computing techniques It also describes how adaptive robotic systems can be produced using neural network architectures Covering a wide range of mainstream areas and trends each chapter provides the latest information from a different perspective Methods for Studying Language Production Lise Menn, Nan Bernstein Ratner, 1999-10-01 In this volume which simultaneously honors the career contributions of Jean Berko Gleason and provides an overview of a broad and increasingly important research area a panel of highly productive language researchers share and evaluate methods of eliciting and analyzing language production across the life span and in varying populations Chapters address a wide variety of historical and evolving approaches to data collection for the study of morphosyntax the lexicon and pragmatics both laboratory based and naturalistic Special concerns that arise in the study of atypical child development aging and second language acquisition are a focus of the discussion Intelligent Data Engineering and Automated Learning - IDEAL 2005 Marcus Gallagher,James Hogan,Frederic Maire,2005-06-20 This volume in the Lecture Notes in Computer Science series contains accepted papers presented at IDEAL 2005 held in Brisbane Australia during July 6 8 2005 IDEAL '98 Lei Xu,1998-12 1st International Symposium IDEAL 98 Proceedings of the Twenty-Third Annual Conference of the Cognitive Science Society Johanna D. Bruce Goldstein,2010 Because of the ease with which we perceive many people see perception as something that just happens However even seemingly simple perceptual experiences involve complex underlying mechanisms which are often hidden from our conscious experience These mechanisms are being investigated by researchers and theorists in fields such as psychology cognitive science neuroscience computer science and philosophy A few examples of the questions posed by these investigations are What do infants perceive How does perception develop What do perceptual disorders reveal about normal functioning How can information from one sense such as hearing be affected by information from another sense such as vision How is the information from all of our senses combined to result in our perception of a coherent environment What are some practical outcomes of basic research in perception These are just a few of the questions this encyclopedia will consider as it presents a comprehensive overview of the field of perception for students researchers and professionals in psychology the cognitive sciences neuroscience and related medical disciplines such as neurology and ophthalmology

Proceedings of the 1993 Connectionist Models Summer School Michael C. Mozer,Paul Smolensky,David S. Touretzky,Jeffrey L. Elman,Andreas S. Weigend,2014-03-05 The result of the 1993 Connectionist Models Summer School the papers in this volume exemplify the tremendous breadth and depth of research underway in the field of neural networks Although the slant of the summer school has always leaned toward cognitive science and artificial intelligence the diverse scientific backgrounds and research interests of accepted students and invited faculty reflect the broad spectrum of areas contributing to neural networks including artificial intelligence cognitive science computer science engineering mathematics neuroscience and physics Providing an accurate picture of the state of the art in this fast moving field the proceedings of this intense two week program of lectures workshops and informal discussions contains timely and high quality work by the best and the brightest in the neural networks field

The Alex Studies Irene Maxine Pepperberg,2002-04-30 Twenty years ago Pepperberg set out to discover whether large brained highly social parrots were capable of mastering complex cognitive concepts and the rudiments of referential speech This book represents the long awaited synthesis of the studies constituting one of the landmark experiments in modern comparative psychology

Compression Schemes for Mining Large Datasets T. Ravindra Babu,M. Narasimha Murty,S.V. Subrahmanya,2013-11-19 This book addresses the challenges of data abstraction generation using a least number of database scans compressing data through novel lossy and non lossy schemes and carrying out clustering and classification directly in the compressed domain Schemes are presented which are shown to be efficient both in terms of space and time while simultaneously providing the same or better classification accuracy Features describes a non lossy compression scheme based on run length encoding of patterns with binary valued features proposes a lossy compression scheme that recognizes a pattern as a sequence of features and identifying subsequences examines whether the identification of prototypes and features can be achieved simultaneously through lossy compression and efficient clustering discusses ways to make use of domain knowledge in generating abstraction reviews optimal prototype selection using genetic algorithms suggests possible ways of dealing with big data problems using multiagent systems

Searching for Patterns Thomas Chesney,2010-04-01 Examining the science behind everyday predictions such as why the supermarket sends particular coupons to the appropriate people and how a bank can foretell if someone will default on a loan within a few minutes this guide explains the basics of what data mining is details a variety of data mining and techniques and profiles the key figures behind the data mining process After first demonstrating fundamental approaches such as nearest neighbor and association rules the resource goes on to analyze probabilistic techniques that use Bayes theorem and artificial intelligence algorithms using neural networks With chapters on a wide range of topics from calculating similarity to dealing with uncertainty and modeling the brain this comprehensive volume reveals how anyone with enough information can get an intimate view of someone s life and what to do about it
