William Lyman Camp FACAPP, 2022-02-09 Is there really more of a generation gap today than there was in the past We believe there is There has always been a struggle between the generations just there has always been a struggle between the sexes In the past however in an autocratic society this rebellion could not come out into the open With the advent of the state of equality which we have reached in the United States since World War II however this evolution has begun to change or emerge more rapidly We now see a low level rebellion of all those persons who were earlier in an inferior position Said more generally we cannot understand this change including a rebellion of youth if we consider it as an isolated phenomenon This quiet struggle of youth is part of a general sometimes not so quiet rebellion of the disenfranchised in our society Many women no longer let themselves be controlled by men children no longer allow it by adults labor no longer allow it by management and minorities especially Blacks and Hispanics no longer accept the supremacy of Whites Caucasians So we have to understand that this struggle on all fronts is part of the same rebellion The goal of this book is to outline the dynamics and processes involved The author s intent is to highlight the evolving relationship between adults and children as part of this process The Life Cycle Library for Young People.
