The Making Of A Missile Crisis October 196:

We All Lost the Cold War Richard Ned Lebow, Janice Gross Stein, 1995-07-23 In the 1980s Soviet evidence suggests the Reagan arms buildup delayed rather than hastened the accommodation Gorbachev desired for internal political reasons Both nations the authors argue expended lives and resources out of all reasonable proportion to their legitimate security interests with destabilizing consequences that persist today The Cuban Missile Crisis, 1962 ,1990 The Missile Crisis of October 1962 Lester H. Brune, 1985 The American Experiment James MacGregor Burns, 2013-05-21 The Pulitzer Prize winning author's stunning trilogy of American history spanning the birth of the Constitution to the final days of the Cold War In these three volumes Pulitzer Prize and National Book Award winner James MacGregor Burns chronicles with depth and narrative panache the most significant cultural economic and political events of American history In The Vineyard of Liberty he combines the color and texture of early American life with meticulous scholarship Focusing on the tensions leading up to the Civil War Burns brilliantly shows how Americans became divided over the meaning of Liberty In The Workshop of Democracy Burns explores more than a half century of dramatic growth and transformation of the American landscape through the addition of dozens of new states the shattering tragedy of the First World War the explosion of industry and in the end the emergence of the United States as a new global power And in The Crosswinds of Freedom Burns offers an articulate and incisive examination of the US during its rise to become the world's sole superpower through the Great Depression the Second World War the Cold War and the rapid pace of technological change that gave rise to the American Century Military Decision-Making Processes Kevin Dougherty, 2013-11-01 President Bill Clinton speaking as might any commander in chief on the eve of his decision to deploy ground troops to Bosnia in 1995 declared he had no responsibility more grave than putting soldiers in harm's way Such a statement suggests that a study of the decision making process associated with the weighty matters of using force would be enlightening Indeed it is The decision making process is far from standardized nor is it simple While all individuals associated with important decisions about national security and the lives of America's service members take their responsibilities seriously the processes by which they reach their conclusions are varied and complicated The book traces eight traditional and emerging theories or models of decision making by first explaining the components of each model and then by analyzing its practical application through three case studies Each chapter concludes with a discussion of the utility and explanatory power of the particular model Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here Nuclear Blackmail and Nuclear Balance Richard K. Betts, 2010-12-01 In numerous crises after World War II Berlin Korea the Taiwan Straits and the Middle East the United States resorted to vague threats to use nuclear weapons in order to deter Soviet or Chinese military action On a few occasions the Soviet Union also engaged in nuclear saber rattling Using declassified documents and other sources this volume examines those crises and compares the decisionmaking processes of leaders who considered nuclear threats with the commonly accepted logic of nuclear deterrence and coercion Rejecting standard explanations of our leader s logic in these cases Betts suggests that U S presidents were neither consciously bluffing when they made nuclear threats nor prepared to face the consequences if their threats failed The author also challenges the myth that the 1950s was a golden age of low vulnerability for the United States and details how nuclear parity has and has not altered conditions that gave rise to nuclear blackmail in the past

The Uses and Limits of Intelligence Walter Laqueur, 2017-09-29 This is a major survey and assessment of U S intelligence activities over the last forty five years It offers a systematic and authoritative evaluation of American intelligence gathering machinery how it has been used misused and on occasion ignored The book has been hailed as a splendid work reflective and penetrating by James R Schlesinger while Zbigniew Brzezinski describes Laqueur as a man who understands the relationships between history and the world of secret services Henry S Rowen noted that Laqueur brings a rare degree of analytical power to this important subject

Britain and the World in the Twentieth Century Michael J Turner, 2010-02-26 This is a detailed single volume analysis of Britain s changing position in the world during the twentieth century It places British policy making in the appropriate domestic and international contexts offers an alternative to the more negative decline obsessed assessments of Britain s role and influence in global affairs This book suggests that Britain s leaders did a better job than some historians think Michael Turner in order to understand why they took the options they did investigates their motives and aims within the international environment within which they operated

The History of Havana Dick Cluster, Rafael Hernández, 2008-04-29 This is the first comprehensive history of the culturally diverse city and the first to be co authored by a Cuban and an American Beginning with the founding of Havana in 1519 Cluster and Hernández explore the making of the city and its people through revolutions art economic development and the interplay of diverse societies The authors bring together conflicting images of a city that melds cultures and influences to create an identity that is distinctly Cuban
