The Malory Debate:

Re-viewing Le Morte Darthur Kevin Sean Whetter, Raluca L. Radulescu, 2005 New articles offer a variety of fresh perspectives on some of the most important areas of Malory criticism

Malory's Contemporary Audience Thomas Crofts, 2006 This book seeks to place Malory's Morte Darthur more firmly in its cultural and historical context Its composition in the mid to late fifteenth century took place at a time of great upheaval for England a period beginning with the loss of Bordeaux and the Hundred Years War and ending with the rise of Richard III During this time the Morte was translated from numerous French sources copied by scribes and finally in July 1485 printed by William Caxton The author argues that in this unique production history are reflected the ideological crises which loomed so massively over England's ruling class in the fifteenth century and that the book is in fact inseparable from these crises

BOOK JACKET Contested Language in Malory's Morte Darthur R. Lexton, 2014-06-18 Examining Malory's political language this study offers a revisionary view of Arthur's kingship in the Morte Darthur and the role of the Round Table fellowship Considering a range of historical and political sources Lexton suggests that Malory used a specific lexicon to engage with contemporary problems of kingship and rule

Malory's Library Ralph C. Norris, 2008 Ralph Norris collects the results of over 100 years of scholarship providing new discussions of the major sources of the eight tales recognised in the standard edition of Sir Thomas Malory's Morte d'Arthur He reveals much about how the work was created and about Malory himself

Malory and His European Contemporaries Miriam Edlich-Muth, 2014 A reconsideration of Arthurian compilations in the late middle ages looking at the complex ways in which they reshape their material for new audiences The late medieval adaptations and compilations of the Arthurian story are a European phenomenon that has sparked both mystification and controversy Often dismissed as nostalgic recreations that attempt to halt the literary tide these ambitious projects saw adapters from across Western Europe combining a vast array of prose and verse sources from different languages into encyclopedic narrative chronologies of King Arthur and his court Ranging from ornate verse adaptations to heavily condensed prose works the resulting texts reflect a process of translating cutting and arranging Arthurian material into new literary incarnations which nonetheless retain recognisable versions of the Arthurian story This study re-evaluates Malory's Morte Darthur and four broadly contemporary European romance collections including Jean Gouffier's French BN fr 112 manuscript Ulrich Fietz's German Buch der Abenteuer the Dutch Lancelot Compilation and the Italian Tavola Ritonda in the context of this adaptive process In doing so it investigates how the adapters respond to the shared structural and stylistic challenges of incorporating new material into the well known story of King Arthur and comes to intriguing conclusions about the ways in which the narrative demands of late Arthurian adaptations invited authors to populate the Arthurian court with new and more complex protagonists Miriam Edlich Muth currently teaches Old and Middle English language and literature at the University of Cambridge

A New Companion to Malory Megan G. Leitch, Cory Rushton, 2019 A comprehensive survey of one of the most important texts of the Middle Ages Ethics in the Arthurian Legend Melissa Ridley Elmes, Evelyn Meyer, 2023 An interdisciplinary and trans historical investigation of the representation of ethics in Arthurian Literature From its earliest days the Arthurian legend has been preoccupied with questions of good kingship the behaviours of a ruling class and their effects on communities societies and nations both locally and in imperial and colonizing contexts Ethical considerations inform and are informed by local anxieties tied to questions of power and identity especially where leadership service and governance are concerned they provide a framework for understanding how the texts operate as didactic and critical tools of these subjects This book brings together chapters drawing on English Welsh German Dutch French and Norse iterations of the Arthurian legend and bridging premodern and modern temporalities to investigate the representation of ethics in Arthurian literature across interdisciplinary and transhistorical lines They engage a variety of methodologies including gender critical race theory philology literature and the law translation theory game studies comparative critical and close reading and modern editorial and authorial practices Texts interrogated range from Culhwch and Olwen to Parzival Roman van Walewein Tristrams Saga Sir Gawain and the Green Knight and Malory's Morte Darthur As a whole the approaches and findings in this volume attest to the continued value and importance of the Arthurian legend and its scholarship as a vibrant field through which to locate and understand the many ways in which medieval literature continues to inform modern sensibilities and institutions particularly where the matter of ethics is concerned Vision and Gender in Malory's Morte Darthur Dr. Molly Martin, Molly Anne Martin, 2010 This study of vision in Morte Darthur examines the role played by sight seeing and being seen in its construction of gender highlighting also the influence of the romance genre in this process The Malory Debate Bonnie Wheeler, Robert L. Kindrick, Michael Norman Salda, 2000 Seminal essays on one of the most crucial issues in Arthurian studies Medieval Literature Holly Crocker, D. Vance Smith, 2023-05-31 Medieval Literature Criticism and Debates combines classic critical essays alongside new voices and approaches highlighting vibrant debates on medieval literature that will continue to shape critical conversations for the coming decades Holly A Crocker and D Vance Smith present a fascinating collection of essays from leading contemporary scholars of medieval literature and culture examining topics including gender sexuality politics belief language nationhood science and desire The volume sheds light on critical discussions of the medieval period and shows the continuing relevance and vivacity of Medieval English literature in the twenty first century Each section is thoroughly introduced and the essays develop various debates in key areas providing a springboard for readers to establish their own study arguments and opinions Further reading sections make this volume an accessible and important resource for those studying literature from the Medieval period and beyond Contributors Anthony Bale Sarah Beckwith Anke Bernau Glenn Burger Ardis Butterfield Christopher Cannon Christine Chism Lisa H Cooper Susan Crane Holly A Crocker George Edmondson Ruth Evans Sylvia Federico Laurie Finke Aranye Fradenburg Frank Grady Richard Firth Green Patricia Clare Ingham Hannah Johnson Steven Justice David Lawton Robert Mills J Allan Mitchell Nicholas Perkins Tison
