Straight Lick J. Ronald Green, 2000-09-22 A critical examination of the films of Oscar Micheaux One of the most original and successful filmmakers of all time Oscar Micheaux was born into a rural working class African American family in mid America in 1884 yet he created an impressive legacy in commercial cinema Between 1913 and 1951 he wrote directed and distributed some forty three feature films more than any other black filmmaker in the world a record of production that is likely to stand for a very long time Micheaux s work was founded upon the concern for class mobility or uplift for African Americans Uplift provided the context for Micheaux s extensive commentary on racist cinema such as D W Griffith s 1915 blockbuster The Birth of a Nation which Micheaux answered with his very early films Within Our Gates and Symbol of the Unconquered Uplift explains Micheaux s use of negative images of African Americans as well as his multi pronged campaign against stereotype and caricature in American culture His campaign produced a body of films saturated with a nuanced intertextual signifying boldly and repeatedly treating controversial topics that face white censorship time after time topics

Blackface, White Noise Michael Rogin,1996-06-01 The tangled connections that have bound Jews to African Americans in popular culture and liberal politics are at the heart of Michael Rogin's arresting and unnerving book Looking at films from Birth of a Nation to Forrest Gump Rogin explores blackface in Hollywood films as an aperture to broader issues the nature of white identity in America the role of race in transforming immigrants into Americans the common experiences of Jews and African Americans that made Jews key supporters in the fight for racial equality and the social importance of popular culture Rogin's forcefully argued study challenges us to confront the harsh truths behind the popularity of racial masquerade

The Black Female Body in American Literature and Art Caroline Brown,2013-02-28 This book examines how African American writers and visual artists interweave icon and inscription in order to re-present the black female body traditionally rendered alien and inarticulate within Western discursive and visual systems Brown considers how the writings of Toni Morrison Gayl Jones Paule Marshall Edwidge Danticat Jamaica Kincaid Andrea Lee Gloria Naylor and Martha Southgate are bound to such contemporary postmodern visual artists as Lorna Simpson Carrie Mae Weems Kara Walker Betye Saar and Faith Ringgold While the artists and authors rely on radically different media photos collage video and assembled objects as opposed to words and rhythm both sets of intellectual activists insist on the primacy of the black aesthetic Both assert artistic agency and cultural continuity in the face of the oppression social transformation and cultural multiplicity of the late twentieth and early twenty first centuries This book examines how African American performative practices mediate the tension between the ostensibly de-racialized body politic and the hyper-racialized black female body reimagining the cultural and political ground that guides various articulations of American national belonging Brown shows how and why black women writers and artists matter as agents of change how and why the form and content of their works must be recognized and reconsidered in the increasingly frenzied arena of cultural production and political debate
