Tumsa Gudina's ideas were by no means silenced by his murder. If anything quite the opposite as is so often the case with martyrs. Part Two is a highly personal account of Gudina and Tsehay's life, witness and sufferings. Aud Saeveras, a Norwegian missionary working with her husband in Ethiopia, got to know Tsehay during her many years in prison, often bringing her food. After Tsehay was finally released, Saeveras encouraged her to report the truth about what had happened. The result was this memoir, first written in Norwegian, then translated into German and now for the first time in English. Saeveras frames the story, but most of the words are Tsehay's. This collection concludes with an essay by Samuel Yonas Deressa on the impact that Gudina's vision has had on the EECMY and the formation of the Gudina Tumsa Foundation with its various scholarly and development activities. Gudina lives on in the many Ethiopian Christians who continue to be inspired by his life and witness.

The Missionary Review, 1927 Kotoku Shusui F. G. Notehelfer, 2011-04-14 This text examines the life and times of Kotoku Shusui 1871-1911 The Missionary Review of the World, 1927 Human Perfection, Transfiguration and Christian Ethics Robin Gill, 2024-05-16 Most people would agree that human perfection is unattainable. Indeed, theologians have typically expressed ambivalence about the possibility of human perfection. Yet paradoxically, depictions of human perfection are widespread. In this volume, Robin Gill offers an interdisciplinary study of human perfection in contemporary secular culture. He demonstrates that the language of perfection is present in church memorials, popular depictions of sport, food, music, and art, liturgy, and philosophy. He contrasts these examples with the socio-psychological concept of maladaptive perfectionism, using commercial cosmetic surgery as an example, as well as the adaptive perfectionism suggested in the lives of Henry Holland, Paul Farmer, and more ambivalently, Ludwig Wittgenstein. Gill then provides an in-depth analysis of New Testament and Septuagint usage of teleios and theological debates about the human perfection of Jesus. He argues that the Synoptic accounts of the Transfiguration offer a template for a Christian understanding of perfection that has important ecumenical implications within social ethics.

Theology of Wagner's Ring Cycle I Richard H. Bell, 2020-01-21 Wagner's Ring is one of the greatest of all artworks of Western civilization, but what is it all about? The power and mystery of Wagner's creation was such that he himself felt he stood before his work as though before some puzzle. A clue to the Ring's greatness lies in its multiple avenues of self-disclosure and the corresponding plethora of interpretations that over the years has granted ample scope for directors and will no doubt do so well into the distant future. One possible interpretation, which Richard Bell argues should be taken seriously, is the Ring as Christian theology. In this first of two volumes, Bell considers, among other things, how the composer's Christian interests may be detected in the forging of his Ring, looking at how he appropriated his sources, whether they be myths and sagas, writers, poets, or philosophers, and considering works composed around the same time, especially his Jesus of Nazareth. Feasting on the Word David Lyon, Bartlett, Barbara Brown Taylor, 2009-10-01 With this new lectionary commentary series, Westminster John Knox offers the most extensive resource for preaching on the market today.
