Governing Urban Indonesia Edward Aspinall, Amalinda Savirani, 2024-08-28 Indonesia has become a majority urban society Despite the classic images of rice fields volcanoes and rural life we often associate with the country now almost 60 per cent of Indonesia's people live in cities towns suburbs gated communities and other urban areas Urbanisation has brought with it a familiar range of problems including some of the worst traffic jams and air pollution in the world housing scarcity periodic flooding and dramatic land subsidence These problems pose massive challenges to Indonesian governments as they try to provide clean water public transport housing garbage disposal and other services to urban dwellers Governing Urban Indonesia brings together scholars and practitioners with diverse backgrounds to examine how urbanisation is remaking Indonesia and how governments are responding It focuses on how varied political patterns are shaping urban governance enabling some cities to pioneer improved service delivery and better public amenities for their citizens while others stagnate And it brings to bear multiple perspectives on how historical legacies changing residential patterns social inequality and myriad other factors are combining to produce a new social and political landscape across urban Indonesia

Indonesia's Changing Political Economy Jamie S. Davidson, 2015-01-22 Indonesia is Southeast Asia's largest economy and freest democracy yet vested interests and local politics serve as formidable obstacles to infrastructure reform In this critical analysis of the politics inhibiting infrastructure investment Jamie S Davidson utilizes evidence from his research press reports and rarely used consultancy studies to challenge mainstream explanations for low investment rates and the sluggish adoption of liberalizing reforms He argues that obstacles have less to do with weak formal institutions and low fiscal capacities of the state than with entrenched rent seeking interests misaligned central local government relations and state society struggles over land Using a political sociological approach Davidson demonstrates that getting the politics right matters as much as getting the prices right or putting the proper institutional safeguards in place for infrastructure development This innovative account and its conclusions will be of interest to students and scholars of Southeast Asia and policymakers of infrastructure investment and economic growth ICSSD 2020 Muhammad Nur Sa'ban, Benni Setiawan, Danu Eko Agustinova, Sutanto Trijuni Putro, Robbi Rahim, 2020-11-04 The theme of the conference is Reconstructing Morals Education and Social Sciences for Achieving Sustainable Development Goals This theme was formulated due to several considerations First the symptoms of moral decline that have the potential to destroy the nation Morals guide humanity towards truth and civilization The phenomenon of the dehumanization process in the industrial era that pushed people to be part of abstract societies tends to ignore humanity The education process as a humanitarian system is increasingly marginalized especially during discussions about the industrial revolution 4 0 and Society 5 0 The conference placed six sub themes for speakers and participants to share ideas namely Social Sciences and Laws History and Cultural Studies Interdisciplinary Studies Morals and Humanities Policy Politics and Communication Education The committee has received 195 abstracts from prospective speakers However there are only 80 abstracts that are eligible to be presented at this conference
