The Many Faces Of France:

The Many Faces of Clio Q. Edward Wang, Franz L. Fillafer, Georg G. Iggers, 2007 Born in Germany Georg Iggers escaped from Nazism to the United States in his adolescence where he became one of the most distinguished scholars of European intellectual history and the history of historiography In his lectures delivered all over the world and in his numerous books translated into many languages Georg Iggers has reshaped historiography and indefatigably promoted cross cultural dialogue This volume reflects the profound impact of his oeuvre Among the contributors are leading intellectual historians but also younger scholars who explore the various cultural contexts of modern historiography focusing on changes of European and American scholarship as well as non Western historical writing in relation to developments in the West Addressing these changes from a transnational perspective this well rounded volume offers an excellent introduction to the field which will be of interest to both established historians and graduate students The Many Faces of Health,

Competence and Well-Being in Old Age Hans-Werner Wahl, Herrmann Brenner, Heidrun Mollenkopf, Dietrich Rothenbacher, Christoph Rott, 2006-01-09 The main aim of the book is to provide an interdisciplinary treatment of a set of key issues of current ageing research i e health competence and well being These key issues are addressed based on three converging research streams social ecological research which assumes that major processes and outcomes of ageing such as day to day competence are shaped by social and physical spatial environments geropsychology research which is driven by a life span developmental conception of ageing and epidemiology which offers most fundamental disease function and prevention related data Each of the three major research directions are outlined by a short introduction followed by three chapters treating in an empirical manner most recent key research questions All chapters are then also discussed by renowned ageing experts This volume links ageing research with policy considerations and implications and establishes a link between European research and the knowledge base of the international scientific community concerned with ageing This book will be of great interest to scholars and graduate students in ageing research in the social and behavioural field as well as in epidemiology geriatrics geropsychiatry demography and biogerontology The Many Faces of Weimar Cinema

Christian Rogowski, 2010 Traditionally Weimar cinema has been equated with the work of a handful of auteurist filmmakers and a limited number of canonical films Often a single limited phenomenon expressionist film has been taken as synonymous with the cinema of the entire period But in recent decades such reductive assessments have been challenged by developments in film theory and archival research that highlight the tremendous richness and diversity of Weimar cinema This widening of focus has brought attention to issues such as film as commodity questions of technology and genre transnational collaborations and national identity effects of changes in socioeconomics and gender roles on film spectatorship and connections between film and other arts and media Such shifts have been accompanied by archival research that has made a cornucopia of new information available now augmented by the increased availability of films from the period on DVD

This wealth of new source material calls for a re evaluation of Weimar cinema that considers the legacies of lesser known directors and producers popular genres experiments of the artistic avant garde and nonfiction films all of which are aspects attended to by the essays in this volume Contributors Ofer Ashkenazi Jaimey Fisher Veronika Fuechtner Joseph Garncarz Barbara Hales Anjeana Hans Richard W McCormick Nancy P Nenno Elizabeth Otto Mihaela Petrescu Theodore F Rippey Christian Rogowski Jill Smith Philipp Stiasny Chris Wahl Cynthia Walk Valerie Weinstein Joel Westerdale Christian Rogowski is Professor of German at Amherst College

Involuntary Confessions of the Flesh in Early Modern France Nora Martin Peterson, 2016-09-14 Involuntary Confessions of the Flesh in Early Modern France was inspired by the observation that small slips of the flesh involuntary confessions of the flesh are omnipresent in early modern texts of many kinds These slips which bear similarities to what we would today call the Freudian slip disrupt and destabilize readings of body self and text three categories whose mutual boundaries this book seeks to soften but also in their very messiness participate in defining them Involuntary Confessions capitalizes on the uncertainty of such volatile moments arguing that it is instability itself that provides the tools to navigate and understand the complexity of the early modern world Rather than locate the body within any one discourse Foucauldian psychoanalytic this book argues that slips of the flesh create a liminal space not exactly outside of discourse but not necessarily subject to it either Involuntary confessions of the flesh reveal the perpetual and urgent challenge of early modern thinkers to textually confront and define the often tenuous relationship between the body and the self By eluding and frustrating attempts to contain it the early modern body reveals that truth is as much about surfaces as it is about interior depth and that the self is fruitfully perpetuated by the conflict that proceeds from seemingly irreconcilable narratives Interdisciplinary in its scope Involuntary Confessions of the Flesh in Early Modern France pairs major French literary works of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries by Marguerite de Navarre Montaigne Madame de Lafayette with cultural documents confession manuals legal documents about the application of torture and courtly handbooks It is the first study of its kind to bring these discourses into thematic rather than linear or chronological dialog In so doing it emphasizes the shared struggle of many different early modern conversations to come to terms with the body's volatility Published by University of Delaware Press Distributed worldwide by Rutgers University Press Constructing Muslims in France Jennifer Fredette, 2014-02-17 Argues that the elite public discourse creates and reinforces the cultural divide it rails against The Mainstreaming of the Extreme Right in France and Australia Aurélien Mondon, 2016-03-09 What has led to the recent revival of the extreme right in Western democracies such as France and Australia and what impact has their success had on mainstream politics What shift has taken place in recent times as ideas and groups that once were considered marginal and undemocratic have come to play an important part in mainstream politics This book addresses these key questions by examining the resurgence of the extreme right in France and Australia and explores the history of right wing groups and their relationship with and impact on mainstream politics This compelling study on the rise of right wing parties in two countries with different histories but similar experiences of how mainstream parties campaigned and reacted to the changing political landscape presents a fascinating comparison of the history and political impact of ethno exclusivist and right wing populist politics in liberal democracies A detailed and thorough comparative analysis of parties such as the Front National and One Nation and the mainstreaming of their discourse by prominent leaders like John Howard and Nicolas Sarkozy offers new insights on the rise of the contemporary extreme right and how these groups and the ideas they represent have become increasingly mainstream and perhaps even hegemonic in the current political state Small and Medium-Sized Enterprises: U.S. and EU Export Activities, and Barriers and Opportunities Experienced by U.S. Firms, Inv. 332-509 ,
