Blake, Jeffrey Keshen, Norman J. Knowles, Barbara J. Messamore, 2017-05-18 Driven by its strong narrative Conflict and Compromise presents Canadian history chronologically allowing a better understanding of the interrelationships between events Its main objective is to demonstrate that although Canadian history has been marked by cleavages and conflicts there has been a continual process of negotiation and a need for compromise which has enabled Canada to develop into arguably one of the most successful and pluralistic countries in the world The authors have drawn from all genres characterizing the present state of Canadian historiography including social military cultural political and economic approaches In doing so their aim is to challenge readers to engage with debates and interpretations about the past rather than simply to study for an exam The second volume begins with the nation building project that got underway in 1864 and ends in the present The book is illustrated with over 60 images maps and figures all designed to support its mission to provide intellectual curiosity Beyond History for Historical Consciousness Stéphane Lévesque, Jean-Philippe Croteau, 2020-03-23 This book offers the first ever comparative study of historical consciousness among young citizens from different regions provinces identities and first languages Margaret

Atwood's fairy-tale sexual politics Sharon Rose Wilson,1993 National Dreams Daniel Francis,2002-07-01 As Canadians we remember the stories told to us in high school history class as condensed images of the past the glorious Mountie the fearsome Native the Last Spike National Dreams is an incisive study of the most persistent icons and stories in Canadian history and how they inform our sense of national identity the fundamental beliefs that we Canadians hold about ourselves National Dreams is the story of our stories the myths and truths of our collective past that we first learned in school and which we carry throughout our adult lives as tangible evidence of what separates us from other nationalities Francis examines various aspects of this national mythology in which history is as much storytelling as fact Textbooks were an important resource for Francis For me these books are interesting not because they explain what actually happened to us but because they explain what we think happened to us For example Francis documents how the legend of the CPR as a country sustaining national affirming monolith was created by the company itself a group of capitalists celebrating the privately owned railway albeit one which was generously supported with public land and cash and reiterated by most historians ever since Similarly we learn how the Mounties were transformed from historical police force to mythic heroes by a vast army of autobiographers historians novelists and Hollywood filmmakers with little attention paid to the true role of the force in such incidents as the Bolshevik rebellion in which a secret conspiracy by the Government against its people was conducted through the RNWMP Also revealed in National Dreams are the stories surrounding the formation and celebration of Canadian heroes such as Louis Riel and Billy Bishop Native Universe Gerald McMaster,2008 This gorgeous volume draws from the vast archives of the National Museum of the American Indian and features the voices and perspectives of some of the most prominent Native American scholars writers and activists 350 color photographs The Persistence of Craft Paul Greenhalgh,2003 In The Persistence of Craft contributors discuss the development of not only six specific crafts glass ceramics jewelry wood textiles and metal but also the trends and movements that have helped shape their developments Includes 180 full color illustrations The Hanging of Angélique Afua Cooper,2007 New light is shed on the largely misunderstood or ignored history of slavery in Canada through this portrait of slave Marie Joseph Angélique who in 1734 was arrested tried convicted and executed for starting a fire that destroyed more than forty Montreal buildings Simultaneous New World Myth Marie Vautier,1998-01-06 There is an emphasis on de constructing de centring de stabilizing and especially de mythologizing in the study that illustrates New World myth narrators questioning the past in the present and carrying out their original investigations of myth place and identity Underlining the fact that political realities are encoded in the language and narrative of the works Vautier argues that the reworkings of literary religious and historical myths and political ideologies in these novels are grounded in their shared situation of being in and of the New World

Screening Québec Scott MacKenzie,2004 Publisher Description Other People's Showers Mark Paterson,2003 Washing in other people's showers is a common human experience mundane on the surface but riveting once people realize that another person's shower is not only a physical place but a state of mind And that is what happens in these nine stories readers enter other people's showers and thus other people's lives Giants of Canada's Ottawa Valley Joan Finnigan, 1981

A Journey in Translation Lee Skallerup Bessette, 2016-08-03 This book traces the remarkable journey of Herbert's shifting authorial identity as versions of her work traveled through complex and contested linguistic and national terrain from the late 1950s until today At the center of this exploration of Herbert's work are the people who were inspired by her poetry to translate and more widely disseminate her poems to a wider audience Exactly how did this one woman's work travel so much farther than the vast majority of Québécois authors Though the haunting quality of her art partly explains her wide appeal her work would have never traveled so far without the effort of scores of passionately committed translators editors and archivists Though the work of such middle men is seldom recognized much less scrutinized as a factor in shaping the meaning and reach of an artist in Herbert's case the process of translating Herbert's poetry has left in its wake a number of archival and other paratextual resources that chronicle the individual acts of translation and their reception Though the impact of translation editions and archival work has been largely ignored in studies of Canadian literary history the treasure trove of such paratextual records in Herbert's case allows us to better understand the reach of her work More importantly it provides insight into and raises critical questions about the textually mediated process of nation building and literary canon formation Published in English A History of Canadian Literature W.H. New, 2003-08-06 New offers an unconventionally structured overview of Canadian literature from Native American mythologies to contemporary texts Publishers Weekly A History of Canadian Literature looks at the work of writers and the social and cultural contexts that helped shape their preoccupations and direct their choice of literary form W H New explains how from early records of oral tales to the writing strategies of the early twenty first century writer reader literature and society are interrelated New discusses both Aboriginal and European mythologies looking at pre Contact narratives and also at the way Contact experience altered hierarchies of literary value He then considers representations of the real whether in documentary fantasy or satire historical romance and the social construction of Nature and State and ironic subversions of power the politics of cultural form and the relevance of the media to a representation of community standard and individual voice New suggests some ways in which writers of the later twentieth century codified such issues as history gender ethnicity and literary technique itself In this second edition he adds a lengthy chapter that considers how writers at the turn of the twenty first century have reimagined their society and their roles within it and an expanded chronology and bibliography Some of these writers have spoken from and about various social margins dealing with issues of race status ethnicity and sexuality some have sought emotional understanding through strategies of history and memory some have addressed environmental concerns and some have reconstructed the world by writing across genres and across different media All genres are represented with examples chosen primarily but not exclusively from anglophone and francophone texts A chronology plates and a series of tables supplement the commentary The Cultural Work of Photography in Canada Carol Payne, Andrea Kunard, 2011-08-31

 The Cultural Work of Photography in Canada is an in depth study on the use of photographic imagery in Canada from the late nineteenth century to the present This volume of fourteen essays provides a thought provoking discussion of the role photography has played in representing Canadian identities In essays that draw on a diversity of photographic forms from the snapshot and advertising image to works of photographic art contributors present a variety of critical approaches to photography studies examining themes ranging from photography s part in the formation of the geographic imaginary to Aboriginal self identity and notions of citizenship The volume explores the work of photographs as tools of self and collective expression while rejecting any claim to a definitive singular telling of photography s history Reflecting the rich interdisciplinarity of contemporary photography studies The Cultural Work of Photography in Canada is essential reading for anyone interested in Canadian visual culture Contributors include Sarah Bassnett University of Western Ontario Lynne Bell University of Saskatchewan Jill Delaney Library and Archives Canada Robert Evans Carleton University Sherry Farrell Racette University of Manitoba Blake Fitzpatrick Toronto Metropolitan University Vincent Lavoie Universit du Qu bec Montr al John O Brian University of British Columbia James Opp Carleton University Joan M Schwartz Queen s University Sarah Stacy Library and Archives Canada Jeffrey Thomas Ottawa and Carol Williams Trent University University of Lethbridge
