Telling Performances Essays On Gender Narrative And Performance:

Telling Performances Brian Nelson, Anne Freadman, Philip Anderson, 2001 These essays engage with narratives and narrative issues in particular on the issue of performance in and of narrative with the telling of performance and the performance of telling and the way stories perform gender and identity They focus on narrative as such on narrative genres and on particular narratives but they all seek to inform thinking on narrative A Multimodal Perspective on Applied

Storytelling Performances Soe Marlar Lwin, 2019-09-18 In this volume Soe Marlar Lwin proposes a contextualized multimodal framework that brings together storytelling practitioners and academic researchers conceptions of storytelling It aims to highlight the ways in which various institutions in contemporary society have been using live storytelling performances as an effective communicative educative and meaning making tool Drawing on theories of narrative from narratology as well as from related fields such as discourse analysis multimodal analysis communication and performance studies the author proposes a contextualized multimodal framework to a uncover the potential narrativity of a live storytelling performance through an analysis of narrative elements constituting the story b capture the process of developing actual narrativity through a multimodal analysis of performance features in the storytelling discourse and c highlight the importance of context and dynamics between the storyteller and audience for an achievement of optimal narrativity in a particular storytelling event The sample analysis shows how the framework not only describes the system governing institutionalized storytelling performances in general but also serves as a useful model to examine individual performance as a unique realization of the general system The book also offers implications for possible applications of such contextualized multimodal frameworks more broadly across the disciplines Theatre-Fiction in Britain from Henry James to Doris

Lessing Graham Wolfe, 2019-06-10 This volume posits and explores an intermedial genre called theatre fiction understood in its broadest sense as referring to novels and stories that engage in concrete and sustained ways with theatre Though theatre has made star appearances in dozens of literary fictions including many by modern history s most influential authors no full length study has dedicated itself specifically to theatre fiction in fact there has not even been a recognized name for the phenomenon Focusing on Britain where most of the world s theatre novels have been produced and commencing in the late nineteenth century when theatre increasingly took on major roles in novels Theatre Fiction in Britain argues for the benefits of considering these works in relation to each other to a history of development and to the theatre of their time New modes of intermedial analysis are modelled through close studies of Henry James Somerset Maugham Virginia Woolf J B Priestley Ngaio Marsh Angela Carter and Doris Lessing all of whom were deeply involved in the theatre world as playwrights directors reviewers and theorists Drawing as much on theatre scholarship as on literary theory Theatre Fiction in Britain presents theatre fiction as one of the past century s most vital means of exploring reconsidering and bringing forth theatre s potentials
