Yunci Cai, 2025-02-04 The Museum in Asia advances an understanding of the flourishing museum landscape in the region by offering a variety of conceptual tools and frameworks through which museum development can be analysed and understood Informed by the key theoretical tenets of critical museology and heritage studies this volume seeks to deconstruct the idea of museology and the museum phenomenon in East South and Southeast Asia to identify common themes and trends unique to Asia Drawing on case studies from ten different countries in Asia including China and India it proffers a set of analytical tools to think through how we can understand and conceptualise the study of museums and museology in Asia Contributions to this edited volume are drawn from both Asian and Western academic contexts thus offering both inside and outside perspectives on the museum phenomenon in Asia The Museum in Asia is the first academic book to explore the museum phenomenon in Asia from theoretical perspectives informed by critical museology and heritage studies making it an essential text for the teaching of courses relating to museum studies cultural heritage studies or Asian studies Academics students and professionals who are interested in learning more about the theory behind the museum phenomenon in Asia will find this book to be a useful resource Buddhist Encounters and Identities Across East Asia , 2018-05-07 Encounters networks identities and diversity are at the core of the history of Buddhism They are also the focus of Buddhist Encounters and Identities across East Asia edited by Ann Heirman Carmen Meinert and Christoph Anderl While long distance networks allowed Buddhist ideas to travel to all parts of East Asia it was through local and trans local networks and encounters and a diversity of people and societies that identities were made and negotiated This book undertakes a detailed examination of discrete Buddhist identities rooted in unique cultural practices beliefs and indigenous socio political conditions Moreover it presents a fascinating picture of the intricacies of the regional and cross regional networks that connected South and East Asia Buddhist and Islamic Orders in Southern Asia R. Michael Feener, Anne M. Blackburn, 2018-11-30 Over the last few decades historians and other scholars have succeeded in identifying diverse patterns of connection linking religious communities across Asia and beyond Yet despite the fruits of this specialist research scholars in the subfields of Islamic and Buddhist studies have rarely engaged with each other to share investigative approaches and methods of interpretation This volume was conceived to open up new spaces of creative interaction between scholars in both fields that will increase our understanding of the circulation and localization of religious texts institutional models ritual practices and literary specialists The book's approach is to scrutinize one major dimension of the history of religion in Southern Asia religious orders Orders here referring to Sufi arqas and Buddhist monastic and other ritual lineages established means by which far flung local communities could come to be recognized and engaged as part of a broader world of co religionists while presenting their particular religious traditions and their human representatives as attractive and authoritative to potential new communities of devotees Contributors to the volume direct their attention toward analogous developments mutually illuminating for both fields of study Some explain how certain orders took shape in Southern Asia over the course of the nineteenth century contextualizing these institutional developments in relation to local and transregional political formations shifting literary and ritual preferences and trade connections Others show how the circulation of people ideas texts objects and practices across Southern Asia a region in which both Buddhism and Islam have a long and substantial presence brought diverse currents of internal reform and notions of ritual and lineage purity to the region All chapters draw readers attention to the fact that networked persons were not always strongly institutionalized and often moved through Southern Asia and developed local bases without the oversight of complex corporate organizations Buddhist and Islamic Orders in Southern Asia brings cutting edge research to bear on conversations about how orders have functioned within these two traditions to expand and sustain transregional religious networks It will help to develop a better understanding of the complex roles played by religious networks in the history of Southern Asia

Water Architecture in South Asia Julia Hegewald,2022-08-01 Water architecture in South Asia represents some of the most beautiful and spectacular building achievements of the region This study provides a holistic approach to the subject suggesting common links and regional contrasts between types of water structures and their contexts with a comprehensive interpretation of the history and meaning of water architecture in India Nepal and Sri Lanka Five types of water structures are identified Their development is traced from simple to more complex forms considering how these accommodate secular and religious functions and present expressions of sacred and royal authority This publication is the first reference work on the subject Many of the structures discussed and illustrated here have never been published before Its comprehensive approach will have a wide relevance for other South Asian disciplines

The Secular in South, East, and Southeast Asia Kenneth Dean, Peter van der Veer, 2018-06-13 This innovative edited collection provides a comprehensive analysis of modern secularism across Asia which contests and expands prevailing accounts that have predominantly focused on the West Its authors highlight that terms like secular secularization and secularism do not carry the same meanings in the very different historical and cultural contexts of Asia Critiquing Charles Taylor's account of secularism this book examines what travelled and what not in the imperial encounter between Western secular modernity and other traditions outside of the West Throughout the book state responses to religion at different points in Chinese and South East Asian history are carefully considered providing a nuanced and in depth understanding of post secular strategies and relations in these areas Particular attention is given to Catholicism in the Philippines Vietnam and Singapore and Hinduism and Chinese religion in Malaysia Singapore and India This theoretically engaged work will appeal to students and scholars of Asian studies anthropology religious studies history sociology and political science

The Cambridge History of Southeast Asia: From early times to c. 1800 Nicholas Tarling, 1992 The Cambridge History of Southeast Asia is a multi authored treatment of the whole of mainland and island Southeast Asia from Burma to Indonesia Unlike other histories of the region it is not divided on a country by country basis and is not structured purely chronologically but rather takes a thematic and regional approach to Southeast Asia's history aiming to present the current state of historical research on Southeast Asia as well as stimulating further thought and investigation Publisher description

Early Interactions Between South and Southeast Asia Pierre-Yves Manguin, A. Mani, Geoff Wade, 2011 This book takes stock of the results of some two decades of intensive archaeological research carried out on both sides of the Bay of Bengal in combination with renewed approaches to textual sources and to art history To improve our understanding of the trans cultural process commonly referred to as Indianisation it brings together specialists of both India and Southeast Asia in a fertile inter disciplinary confrontation Most of the essays reappraise the millennium long historiographic no man's land during which exchanges between the two shores of the Bay of Bengal led among other processes to the Indianisation of those parts of the region that straddled the main routes of exchange Some essays follow up these processes into better known classical times or even into modern times showing that the localisation process of Indian themes has long remained at work allowing local societies to produce their own social space and express their own ethos

Maritime Trade and State Development in Early Southeast Asia Kenneth R. Hall, 2019-03-31 This book brings something new in both dimension and detail to our understanding of Southeast Asia from the first to the fourteenth centuries It puts Southeast Asia in the context of the international trade that stretched from Rome to China and draws upon a wide range of recent scholarship in history and the social sciences to redefine the role that this trade played in the evolution of the classical states of Southeast Asia By examining the sources of Southeast Asia's classical era with the tools of modern economic history the author shows that well developed socioeconomic and political networks existed in Southeast Asia before significant foreign economic penetration took place With the growth of interest in Southeast Asian commodities and the refocusing of the major East West commercial routes through the region during the early centuries of the Christian era internal conditions within Southeast Asia adjusted to accommodate increased external contacts Hall takes the view that Southeast Asia's response to international trade was a reflection of preexisting patterns of trade and statecraft In the forty years since Coede's monumental work The Indianized States of Southeast Asia was published a great deal of archaeological and epigraphical work has been done and new interpretations advanced By integrating new theoretical constructs recent archaeological finds and interpretations and his own informed reading and research Kenneth R Hall puts his historical narrative on a large canvas and treats areas not previously brought together for discussion along comparative lines Like Coede's work his book will be important as a basic text for the teaching of early Southeast Asian history Recentring Southeast Asia Himanshu Prabha Ray, 2024-11-19 This book assesses the impact of European colonization in the late 19th and early 20th century in restructuring the shared past of India and Southeast Asia It provides case studies that transcend colonial constructs and adopt newer approaches to understanding the shared past The authors explore these developments through the lens of political figures like Jawaharlal Nehru 1889 1964 and re examine themes such as the Greater India Society 1926 1959 established in Calcutta and the role of Buddhism in post World War II connections as the repatriation of the mortal remains of Japanese soldiers killed in Burma Myanmar acquired urgency Drawing on a diverse range of sources including archaeology Buddhist texts the afterlives of the Hindu temples maritime networks and inscriptions from Vietnam and central India the book will be an essential read for scholars and researchers of history Buddhism archaeology heritage studies cultural studies and political history as well as South and Southeast Asian history Archaeology of Religion in South Asia Birendra Nath Prasad, 2021-06-16 In the religious landscape of early medieval c AD 600 1200 Bihar and Bengal poly religiosity was generally the norm than an exception which entailed the evolution of complex patterns of inter religious equations Buddhism Brahmanism and Jainism not only coexisted but also competed for social patronage forcing them to enter into complex interactions with social institutions and processes Through an analysis of the published archaeological data this work explores some aspects of the social history of Buddhist Brahmanical and Jaina temples and shrines and Buddhist st pas and monasteries in early medieval Bihar and Bengal This archaeological history of religions questions many established textual reconstructions and enriches our understanding of the complex issue of the decline of Buddhism in this area Please note Taylor Francis does not sell or distribute the Hardback in India Pakistan Nepal Bhutan Bangladesh and Sri
