Ten Steps To A Results Based Monitoring And Evaluation System A Handbook For Development Practitioners:

Ten Steps to a Results-based Monitoring and Evaluation System Jody Zall Kusek,Ray C. Rist,2004 An effective state is essential to achieving socio economic and sustainable development With the advent of globalization there are growing pressures on governments and organizations around the world to be more responsive to the demands of internal and external stakeholders for good governance accountability and transparency greater development effectiveness and delivery of tangible results Governments parliaments citizens the private sector NGOs civil society international organizations and donors are among the stakeholders interested in better performance As demands for greater accountability and real results have increased there is an attendant need for enhanced results based monitoring and evaluation of policies programs and projects This Handbook provides a comprehensive ten step model that will help guide development practitioners through the process of designing and building a results based monitoring and evaluation system These steps begin with a OC Readiness AssessmentOCO and take the practitioner through the design management and importantly the sustainability of such systems The Handbook describes each step in detail the tasks needed to complete each one and the tools available to help along the way

Ten Steps to a Results-Based Monitoring and Evaluation System Jody Zall Kusek,Ray C. Rist,2012-12-01 This updated handbook provides a comprehensive ten step model to help guide development practitioners through the process of designing and building a results based monitoring and evaluation system     Results-based Monitoring and Evaluation for Organizations Working in Agricultural Development Berhanu Gebremedhin,2010-01-01     A Handbook for Development Practitioners : Ten Steps to a Results-based Monitoring and Evaluation System Jody Zall Kusek,2004

Measuring African Development Morten Jerven,2016-04-14 The chief economist for the World Bank s Africa region Shanta Devarajan delivered a devastating assessment of the capacity of African states to measure development in his 2013 article Africa s Statistical Tragedy Is there a statistical tragedy unfolding in Africa now If so then examining the roots of the problem of provision of statistics in poor economies is certainly of great importance This book on measuring African development in the past and in the present draws on the historical experience of colonial French West Africa Ghana Sudan Mauritania and Tanzania and the more contemporary experiences of Ethiopia and the Democratic Republic of Congo The authors each reflect on the changing ways statistics represent African economies and how they are used to govern them This bookw as published as a special issue of the Canadian Journal of Development Studies     Construction Project Monitoring and Evaluation Callistus Tengan,Clinton Aigbavboa,Wellington Didibhuku Thwala,2021-04-27 This book will provide readers with an in depth theoretical awareness and practical guidance on the implementation of an effective monitoring and evaluation M E system to ensure construction projects meet approved quality cost time and social sustainability objectives The authors discuss the drivers challenges determinants and benefits of effective M E implementation together with the theories and models underpinning construction project M E practices Further a comparative overview of M E practices in developed and developing countries is presented to elucidate the best practices. The book first conceptualizes M E as a five factor model comprising stakeholder involvement budgetary allocation and logistics technical capacity and training leadership and communication. It then presents an M E case study on the Ghanaian construction industry before expanding on the idea of M E systems as an effective tool for project performance and in optimizing a project's contribution to society and the environment. The book further provides guidance on M E practice for construction project managers investors professionals researchers and other stakeholders and is therefore of interest to those in architecture construction engineering planning project management and development studies

Intelligent Human Systems Integration

Waldemar Karwowski,Tareq Ahram,2017-12-30 This book reports on research on innovative human systems integration and human machine interaction with an emphasis on artificial intelligence and automation as well as computational modeling and simulation. It covers a wide range of applications in the area of design construction and operation of products systems and services including lifecycle development and human technology interaction. The book describes advanced methodologies and tools for evaluating and improving interface usability new models as well as case studies and best practices in virtual augmented and mixed reality systems with a special focus on dynamic environments. It also discusses different factors concerning the human hardware and artificial intelligence software. Based on the proceedings of the 1st International Conference on Intelligent Human Systems Integration IHSI 2018 held on January 7 9 2018 in Dubai United Arab Emirates the book also examines the forces that are currently shaping the nature of computing and cognitive systems such as the need for decreasing hardware costs the importance of infusing intelligence and automation and the related trend toward hardware miniaturization and power reduction the necessity for a better assimilation of computation in the environment and the social concerns regarding access to computers and systems for people with special needs. It offers a timely survey and a practice oriented reference guide to policy and decision makers human factors engineers systems developers and users alike.

From Studies to Streams Nicoletta Stame,2017-10-24 Recent developments in policy evaluation have focused on new notions of process and use or notably influence But this debate among evaluators on how evaluations are used has been essentially a closed one evaluators talking only among themselves

The debate has gone on seemingly oblivious to fundamental changes in the intellectual landscape of public management organizational theory information technology and knowledge management New realities demand a different approach toward evaluation The current era is characterized by the emergence of an increasingly global set of pressures for governments to perform effectively not just efficiently and to demonstrate that their performance is producing desired results Information technology allows enormous quantities of information to be stored sorted analyzed and made available at little or no cost The result for those in the evaluation community is that while individual evaluations are still conducted and reported upon they are a rapidly diminishing source of information In the new environment ever accelerating political and organizational demands and expectations are reframing thinking about the definition of what fundamentally constitutes evaluation and what we understand as its applications In this twelfth volume in the Comparative Policy Evaluation series authors from fourteen nations address these issues from multiple vantage points From Studies to Streams is an essential tool for policymakers government officials and scholars interested in the contemporary status of evaluation

Cornerstones of Impact

Management Anne-Maree Dowd, Thomas Keenan, Kathryn Graham, 2025-03-03 Cornerstones of Impact Management is a comprehensive and practical guide to all aspects of impact management. It provides insights and expertise from leading practitioners from around the world who have decades of experience in starting impact management processes from scratch, shifting cultures, developing systems and processes, and establishing leading edge practices. It explores planning, implementing, scaling, and assessing impact interventions particularly within research and innovation and policy contexts. Whether you're a seasoned impact practitioner or just starting your journey, Cornerstones of Impact Management is the definitive resource for understanding and optimising the impact contribution of your project, team, organisation or broader system of operation. It provides invaluable insights for researchers, research managers, policy makers, evaluators, knowledge mobilisers, and quality improvement practitioners.

Addiction Research and Evaluation Catherine Comiskey, 2024-09-12 According to the United Nations Office of Drugs and Crime, around 284 million people aged between 15 and 64 years used drugs in the year 2020. In addition, it is estimated that over 11 million people were injecting drugs, and half of these were living with hepatitis C. Young people are using more drugs than previously, and numbers have increased over the past decade. While numbers are estimated at a global level, there remains little evidence for practitioners and policy makers on key questions such as how many people are using drugs that are hidden and haven't contacted services. Questions include the challenging topics of providing safe injecting spaces and drug consumption rooms. As populations age in some regions, questions arise on the nature of substance use among older people. Countries with younger populations are concerned about estimates on the numbers of children potentially impacted by parental substance use and how to engage with them. Awareness of trauma-informed services is increasing, and questions arise on the impact of domestic abuse or adverse childhood experiences on people who use drugs and their families. Globally, there is a growing concern on how to inform the debate on cannabis policies and how to assess if the chosen policy will be acceptable to the general population. The aim of this book is to provide researchers, service providers, and policy makers with a step-by-step guide to robust methodologies and illustrative case studies to address these challenges. The objective of each chapter is to answer a key question, provide a summary of the background evidence, demonstrate through a series of logical steps how to obtain national or local evidence, and finally illustrate the process with detailed real-life case studies. As addiction is encountered across a wide range of professions and civil society organizations, this book will be an essential textbook for graduate students of medicine, nursing, public health, addiction psychology, and health and social care professions. It will be a guiding reference book for international, national, and local commissioners and providers of related policies and services. At a local level, the step-by-step case studies will provide an easy-to-follow framework for those wishing to apply the methods to benefit and improve their own practice, service, or policy.
