She shows how Tepoztecan politics borrows discourses from the Mexican state she then tells how this process shaped local politics in the midst of the contested 1988 national presidential election when local actors elaborated a discourse of democracy as a technique for disciplining gossip and in 1991 when Tepoztecan began to draw on the support of international environmental NGOs Throughout her analysis Martin explores how Tepoztecan politics unfolds in the climate of mistrust first nurtured by the role of the state in local politics and later by the demands of working with U S and Western European environmentalists Martin shows that the politics of loose connections is above all else a style of political participation that has proved adaptive in the contemporary political landscape and that understandings of politics have been dogged by a conception of connections that may well be obsolete in the contemporary world Her study is a balanced re evaluation of Tepoztlán that reveals how politics succeeds through loose connections a strategy that may be instructive for others seeking to survive in either local or global coalitions
