T. A. Hoffmann, 2015-10-21 This early work by E. T. A. Hoffmann was originally published in 1814 Born in Königsberg East Prussia in 1776 Hoffmann's family were all jurists and during his youth he was initially encouraged to pursue a career in law. However, in his late teens Hoffman became increasingly interested in literature and philosophy and spent much of his time reading German classicists and attending lectures by, amongst others, Immanuel Kant. Hoffman went on to produce a great range of both literary and musical works. Probably Hoffman's most well-known story produced in 1816 is The Nutcracker and the Mouse King, due to the fact that some seventy-six years later it inspired Tchaikovsky's ballet The Nutcracker. In the same vein, his story The Sandman provided both the inspiration for Lo Delibes's ballet Coppelia and the basis for a highly influential essay by Sigmund Freud called The Uncanny. Indeed, Freud referred to Hoffman as the unrivalled master of the uncanny in literature. Many of the earliest books, particularly those dating back to the 1900s and before, are now extremely scarce and increasingly expensive. We are republishing these classic works in affordable, high-quality, modern editions.

Climbing the ladder of success sometimes involves crime and the destruction of relationships, friendships, and family. In this story, selfish desires devour love. Greed violates bonds of trust. Money and Power motivates murder. In a dark world of materialism and selfish desires, only spiritual knowledge can lead one into the light of True Peace and Happiness. This story will vivify the reality of those who seek love, peace, and happiness but experience tragedy as they chase their Dreams.

International Perspectives in Feminist Ecocriticism Greta Gaard, Simon C. Estok, Serpil Oppermann, 2013-06-07 Exploring environmental literature from a feminist perspective, this volume presents a diversity of feminist ecocritical approaches to affirm the continuing contributions, relevance, and necessity of a feminist perspective in environmental literature, culture, and science. Feminist ecocriticism has a substantial history with roots in second and third wave feminist literary criticism, women's environmental writing, and social change activism, and eco-cultural critique, and yet both feminist and ecofeminist literary perspectives have been marginalized. The essays in this collection build on the belief that the repertoire of violence, conceptual and literal, toward nature and women comprising our daily lives must become central to our ecocritical discussions and that basic literacy in theories about ethics are fundamental to these discussions. The book offers an international collection of scholarship that includes ecocritical theory, literary criticism, and ecocultural analyses, bringing a diversity of perspectives in terms of gender, sexuality, and race. Reconnecting with the histories of feminist and ecofeminist literary criticism and utilizing new developments in postcolonial ecocriticism, animal studies, queer theory, feminist and gender studies, cross-cultural, and international ecocriticism, this timely volume develops a continuing and international feminist ecocritical perspective on literature, language, and culture.
