Usage-Based Approaches to Language Acquisition and Language Teaching

Jacqueline Evers-Vermeul, Elena Tribushinina, 2017-03-06 Although usage based approaches have been successfully applied to the study of both first and second language acquisition to monolingual and bilingual development and to naturalistic and instructed settings it is not common to consider these different kinds of acquisition in tandem The present volume takes an integrative approach and shows that usage based theories provide a much needed unified framework for the study of first second and foreign language acquisition in monolingual and bilingual contexts The contributions target the acquisition of a wide range of linguistic phenomena and critically assess the applicability and explanatory power of the usage based paradigm The book also systematically examines a range of cognitive and linguistic factors involved in the process of language development and relates relevant findings to language teaching

Finally this volume contributes to the assessment and refinement of empirical methods currently employed in usage based acquisition research This book is of interest to scholars of language acquisition language pedagogy developmental psychology as well as Cognitive Linguistics and Construction Grammar Advances in Information Systems Tatyana Yakhno,2003-06-30 This volume contains the proceedings of the Second International Conference on Advances in Information Systems ADVIS held in Izmir Turkey 23 25 October 2002 This conference was dedicated to the memory of Prof Esen Ozkarahan He was a great researcher who made an essential contribution to the development of information systems Prof Ozkarahan was one of the pioneers of database machine research and database systems in Turkey This conference was organized by the Computer Engineering department of Dokuz Eylul University in Izmir This department was established in 1994 by Prof Ozkarahan and he worked there for the last ve years of his life The main goal of the conference was to bring together researchers from all around the world working in di erent areas of information systems to share new ideas and present their latest results This time we received 94 submissions from 27 countries The program committee selected 40 papers for presentation at the conference During the conference a workshop was organized on the topic New Information Technologies in Education The invited and accepted cont butions cover a large variety of topics general aspects of information systems databases and data warehouses information retrieval multiagent systems and technologies distributed and parallel computing evolutionary algorithms and system programming and new information technologies in education The success of the conference was dependent upon the hard work of a large number of people We gratefully acknowledge the members of the Program C mittee who helped to coordinate the process of refereeing all submitted papers

The Grammar of Space Soteria Svorou,1994-04-06 A cross linguistic study of grammatical morphemes expressing spatial relationships that discusses the relationship between the way human beings experience space and the way it is encoded grammatically in language The discussion of the similarities and differences among languages in the encoding and expression of spatial relations centers around the emergence and evolution of spatial grams and the semantic and morphosyntactic characteristics of two types of spatial grams The author bases her observations on the study of data from 26 genetically unrelated and randomly selected languages It is shown that languages are similar in the way spatial grams emerge and evolve and also in the way specific types of spatial grams are used to express not only spatial but also temporal and other non spatial relations Motivation for these similarities may lie in the way we as human beings experience the world which is constrained by our physical configuration and neurophysiological apparatus as well as our individual cultures

Innovative Investigations of Language in Autism Spectrum Disorder Letitia Naigles,2016-11-07 In recent decades a growing number of children have been diagnosed with autism spectrum disorder ASD a condition characterized by among other features social interaction deficits and language impairment Yet the precise nature of the disorder's impact on language development is not well understood in part because of the language variability among children across the autism spectrum The contributors to this volume experts in fields ranging from communication disorders to developmental and clinical psychology to linguistics use innovative techniques to address two broad questions Is the variability of language development and use in children with ASD a function of the language such that some linguistic domains are more vulnerable to ASD than others Or is the variability a function of the individual such that some characteristics predispose those with ASD to have varying levels of difficulty with language development and use Contributors investigate these questions across linguistic levels from lexical semantics and single clause syntax to computationally complex phonology and the syntax pragmatics interface Authors address both spoken and written domains within the wider context of language acquisition This timely and broadly accessible volume will be of interest to a broad range of specialists including linguists psychologists sociologists behavioral neurologists and cognitive neuroscientists

Language/reading Instruction for the Young Child James Flood,Diane Lapp,1981 A Grammar of Shaowu Sing Sing Ngai,2021-09-20 This is the first comprehensive grammar of Shaowu a Min language spoken in Shaowu city and its environs in northwestern Fujian province China The book offers first hand linguistic data collected over four years in the field now placed at the disposal of researchers and students working in language documentation comparative linguistics and Sinitic typology It can serve as a reference grammar for those interested in learning the Shaowu language thereby helping to preserve it In addition the book provides insights into Shaowu's classification which has been widely debated thus elucidating its genetic affiliation The book first presents Shaowu's geography demography and history It then profiles the language's phonology and lexicon before providing a detailed description of its syntax notably on its nominal predicate clausal and complex sentence structures which are the focus of the book The typological profile of Shaowu is also treated with the conclusion that the language has Gan Hakka Mandarin and even some Wu overlays on its Min base The Shaowu language serves an excellent example to illustrate the degree of hybridity a language can attain due to intensive language contact over time
