Wrestling with Faith, Love, and Gators Chad Young, 2016-02-09 We hear people say we should love God with all our hearts souls and minds but what does that mean Or more importantly what could it look like to fall in love with God Chad jump on the gator's back In a split second a decision had to be made Did Chad love his future brother in law enough to help him control a powerful seven and a half foot alligator Ultimately there was a subconscious devotion that affected his decision We all face decisions every day Some of them are small but others are potentially life altering What you decide to do in those split seconds comes down to this We all have beliefs about life and love about what is most important and we all act on those beliefs In this book Chad Young addresses what many Christians are missing being in love with God The lack of genuine faith and love in the church is the main reason why 59% of college students who grew up with a Christian background are leaving the Christian faith Chad uses his own faith journey and humorous stories to call you to a deeper legitimate love for God

Changes on Trails in the Selway-Bitterroot Wilderness, Montana, 1978-89 David N. Cole,1991 Testing the Limit François-David Sebbah,2012-05-09 In exploring the nature of excess relative to a phenomenology of the limit Testing the Limit claims that phenomenology itself is an exploration of excess What does it mean that the self is given Should we see it as originary or rather in what way is the self engendered from textual practices that transgress or hover around and therefore within the threshold of phenomenological discourse This is the first book to include Michel Henry in a triangulation with Derrida and Levinas and the first to critique Levinas on the basis of his interpolation of philosophy and religion Sebbah claims that the textual origins of phenomenology determine in their temporal rhythms the nature of the subjectivation on which they focus He situates these considerations within the broader picture of the state of contemporary French phenomenology chiefly the legacy of Merleau Ponty in order to show that these three thinkers share a certain family resemblance the identification of which reveals something about the traces of other phenomenological families It is by testing the limit within the context of traditional phenomenological concerns about the appearance of subjectivity and ipseity that Derrida Henry and Levinas radically reconsider phenomenology and that French phenomenology assumes its present form

Broken Hegemonies Reiner Sch 1 4rmann, 2003-10-29 a book of striking originality and depth a brilliant and quite new interpretation of the nature and history of philosophy John Sallis In Broken Hegemonies the late distinguished philosopher Reiner Sch 1 4rmann offers a radical rethinking of the history of Western philosophy from the Greeks through Heidegger Sch 1 4rmann interprets the history of Western thought and action as a series of eras governed by the rise and fall of certain dominating philosophical ideas that contained the seeds of their own destruction These eras coincided with their dominant languages Greek Latin and vernacular tongues Analyzing philosophical texts from Parmenides Plotinus and Cicero through Augustine Meister Eckhardt and Kant to Heidegger Sch 1 4rmann traces the arguments by which these ideas gained hegemony and by which their credibility was ultimately demolished Recognizing the failure of ultimate norms Broken Hegemonies questions how humanity today is to think and act in the absence of principles
