How colonial conquest was driven by state sponsored profit driven campaigns to murder and mutilate Indian peoples in North America From the mid 1600s through the late 1800s states sponsored scalp bounties and volunteer campaigns to murder and mutilate thousands of Indians throughout North America Since central governments in Amsterdam Paris London Mexico City and Washington DC failed to provide adequate military support and financial resources for colonial frontier defense administrators in regional capitals such as New York Qu bec City New Orleans Boston Ciudad Chihuahua Austin and Sacramento took matters into their own hands At different times and in almost every part of the continent they paid citizens for killing Indians taking Indians captive scalping or beheading Indians and undertaking other forms of performative violence As militant operatives and civilians alike struggled to prevail over Indigenous forces they considered barbaric and savage they engaged in not just plundering slaving and killing but also dismembering corpses for symbolic purposes and for profit Although these tactics mostly failed in their intent to exterminate populations state sponsorship of indiscriminate violence took a significant demographic toll by flooding frontier zones with murderous units whose campaigns diminished Indigenous power reduced tribal populations and forced weakened survivors away from traditional homelands High wages for volunteer campaigning along with cash bounties for Indian body parts and the ability to take captives and keep valuable plunder promoted a state sponsored profit opportunity for civilians      The Code of Federal Regulations of the United States of America ,1969

The Code of Federal Regulations is the codification of the general and permanent rules published in the Federal Register by the executive departments and agencies of the Federal Government      The Texas Lowcountry John R. Lundberg,2024-06-18 In The Texas Lowcountry Slavery and Freedom on the Gulf Coast 1822 1895 author John R Lundberg examines slavery and Reconstruction in a region of Texas he terms the lowcountry an area encompassing the lower reaches of the Brazos and Colorado Rivers and their tributaries as they wend their way toward the Gulf of Mexico through what is today Brazoria Fort Bend Matagorda and Wharton Counties In the two decades before the Civil War European immigrants particularly Germans poured into Texas sometimes bringing with them cultural ideals that complicated the story of slavery throughout large swaths of the state By contrast 95 percent of the white population of the lowcountry came from other parts of the United States predominantly the slaveholding states of the American South By 1861 more than 70 percent of this regional population were enslaved people the heaviest such concentration west of the Mississippi These demographics established the Texas Lowcountry as a distinct region in terms of its population and social structure Part one of The Texas Lowcountry explores the development of the region as a borderland an area of competing cultures and peoples between 1822 and 1840 The second part is arranged topically and chronicles the history of the enslavers and the enslaved in the lowcountry between 1840 and 1865 The final section focuses on the experiences of freed people in the region during the Reconstruction era which ended in the lowcountry in 1895 In closely examining this unique pocket of Texas Lundberg provides a new and much needed region specific study of the culture of enslavement and the African American experience      State Planning United States.
