The Psychology of Reading Mildred C. Robeck, Randall R. Wallace, 2017-11-06 The need to know why as well as how children and youth respond as they do to reading instruction has guided the selection of this book's content The second edition of this title originally published in 1990 has retained and elaborated upon the three major themes previously presented that reading is a linguistic process that motivation the affective domain may be as important in learning to read as the cognitive domain and that the reality of learning theory is to be found in the mechanisms of the brain where information is mediated and memory traces are stored The text integrates views from cognitive psychology psycholinguistics and neuropsychology as they relate to reading and writing A learning motivation model is provided to present associative learning conceptualization and self directed reading in a hierarchical relationship with distinct cognitive and affective components The distinction between beginning and proficient reading is maintained throughout the text Illiteracy in America National Advisory Council on Adult Education (U.S.). Literacy Committee, 1986 Reading Mystery Science Theater 3000 Shelley S. Rees, 2013-05-09 First broadcast in the not too distant past on a television station in Minnesota Mystery Science Theater 3000 soon grew out of its humble beginnings and found a new home on cable television This simple show about a man and two robots forced to watch bad movies became a cult classic and episodes of the series continue to be packaged in DVD collections to this day Before its final run the show received Emmy nominations and a Peabody award for Television excellence and in 2007 Time magazine declared MST3K one of The 100 Best Shows of All Time In Reading Mystery Science Theater 3000 Critical Approaches Shelley S Rees presents a collection of essays that examines the complex relationship between narrative and audience constructed by this baffling but beloved television show Invoking literary theory cultural criticism pedagogy feminist criticism humor theory rhetorical analysis and film and media studies these essays affirm the show's narrative and rhetorical intricacy The first section Rhetoric and the Empowered Audience addresses MST3K's function as an exercise in rhetorical resistance Part Two Mystery Science Theater 3000 and Genre analyzes MST3K through distinct generic traditions including humor studies traditional science fiction tropes and the B movie Finally the third section addresses postmodern and intertextual readings of the show By providing an academic treatment of an iconic television phenomenon these essays argue that Mystery Science Theater 3000 is worthy of serious scholarly attention Though aimed at a discerning readership of academics this collection will also appeal to the intellectual nature of the show s well educated audience
