The Making Of Christian Communities In Late Antiquity And The Middle Ages Wpc Clabics:

The Making of Christian Communities in Late Antiquity and the Middle Ages Mark F. Williams, 2005 The Making of Christian Communities sheds light on one of the most crucial periods in the development of the Christian faith It considers the development and spread of Christianity between Late Antiquity and the Middle Ages and includes analysis of the formation and development of Christian communities in a variety of arenas ranging from Late Roman Cappadocia and Constantinople to the court of Charlemagne and the twelfth century province of Rheims France during the twelfth century

Christians and Christianity in the Holy Land Ora Limor, Guy G. Stroumsa, 2006 This volume fills a major desideratum in historical scholarship on the religious history of the Holy Land It presents a synthesis of our knowledge of the history of Christianity and the various churches that coexisted there from the beginnings of Christianity to the fall of the Crusader Kingdoms It also offers analytical studies of major topics and problems While the first part is organized chronologically the second follows a thematic plan dealing with the major themes pertaining to the topic from various points of view and covering several disciplinary fields History Theology Archaeology and Art History The volume represents the outcome of an international project initiated by Yad Izhak Ben Zvi of Jerusalem and the contributors are leading experts in their fields

Society and the Holy in Late Antiquity Peter Brown, 1989-10-25 With the blend of art and learning that is the hallmark of his work Peter Brown here examines how the sacred impinged upon the profane during the first Christian millennium

The Power of Religion in Late Antiquity Andrew Cain, Noel Emmanuel Lenski, 2009-01-01 Late Antiquity witnessed a dramatic recalibration in the economy of power and nowhere was this more pronounced than in the realm of religion The transformations that occurred in this pivotal era moved the ancient world into the Middle Ages and forever changed the way that religion was practiced The twenty eight studies in this volume explore this shift using evidence ranging from Latin poetic texts to Syriac letter collections to the iconography of Roman churches and Merovingian mortuary goods The kaleidoscope of perspectives they provide creates a richly illuminating volume that add a new social and political dimension to current debates about religion in Late Antiquity

Prayer and Worship in Eastern Christianities, 5th to 11th Centuries Brouria Bitton-Ashkelony, Derek Krueger, 2016-10-04 Prayer and Worship in Eastern Christianities 5th to 11th Centuries forges a new conversation about the diversity of Christianities in the medieval eastern Mediterranean centered on the history of practice looking at liturgy performance prayer poetry and the material culture of worship It studies prayer and worship in the variety of Christian communities that thrived from late antiquity to the middle ages Byzantine Orthodoxy Syrian Orthodoxy and the Church of the East Rather than focusing on doctrinal differences and analyzing divergent patterns of thought the essays address common patterns of worship individual and collective prayer hymnography and liturgy as well as the indigenous theories that undergirded Christian practices The volume intervenes in standard academic discourses about Christian difference with an exploration of common patterns of celebration commemoration and self discipline Essays by both established and promising younger scholars interrogate elements of continuity and change over time before and after the rise of Islam both under the control of the Eastern Roman Empire and in the lands of successive caliphates Groups distinct in their allegiances nevertheless shared a common religious heritage and recognized each other even in their differences as kinds of Christianity A series of chapters explore the theory and practice of prayer from Greco Roman late antiquity to the Syriac middle ages highlighting the transmission of monastic discourses about prayer especially among Syrian and Palestinian ascetic teachers Another set of essays examines localization of prayer within churches through inscriptions donations dedications and incubation Other chapters treat the composition and transmission of hymns to adorn the liturgy and articulate the emotions of the Christian calendar structuring liturgical and eschatological time Being Christian in Late Antiquity Carol Harrison, Caroline Humfress, Isabella Sandwell, 2014 What do we mean when we talk about being Christian in Late Antiquity This volume brings together sixteen world leading scholars of ancient Judaism Christianity and Greco Roman culture and society to explore this question in honour of the ground breaking scholarship of Professor Gillian Clark After an introduction to the volume s dedicatee and themes by Averil Cameron the papers in Section I Being Christian through Reading Writing and Hearing analyse the roles that literary genre writing reading hearing and the literature of the past played in the formation of what it meant to be Christian The essays in Section II move on to explore how late antique Christians sought to create maintain and represent Christian communities communities that were both textually created and enacted in living realities Finally in Section III The Particularities of Being Christian the contributions examine what it was to be Christian from a number of different ways of representing oneself each of which raises questions about certain kinds of particularities for example gender location education and culture Bringing together primary source material from the early Imperial period up to the seventh century AD and covering both the Eastern and Western Empires the papers in this volume demonstrate that what it meant to be Christian cannot simply be taken for granted Being Christian was part of a continual process of construction and negotiation as individuals and Christian communities alike sought to relate themselves to existing traditions social structures and identities at the same time as questioning and critiquing the past s in their present

The Power of Religion in Late Antiquity Andrew Cain, Taylor & Francis Group, 2019-05-31 Late Antiquity witnessed a dramatic recalibration in the economy of power and nowhere was this more pronounced than in the realm of religion The transformations that occurred in this pivotal era moved the ancient world into the Middle Ages and forever changed the way that religion was practiced The twenty eight studies in this volume explore this shift using evidence ranging from Latin poetic texts to Syriac letter collections to the iconography of Roman churches and Merovingian mortuary goods They range in chronology from the late third through the early seventh centuries AD and apply varied theories and approaches All converge around the notion that religion is fundamentally a discourse of power and that power in Late Antiquity was especially charged with the force of religion The articles are divided into eight sections which examine the power of religion in literature theurgical power over the divine emperors and the deployment of religious power limitations on the power of the ecclesiastical hierarchy the use of the cross as a symbol of power Rome and its transformation as a center of power the power of religion in the barbarian west and religious power in the communities of the east This kaleidoscope of perspectives creates a richly illuminating volume that add a new social and political dimension to current debates about religion in Late Antiquity

Ancient and Early Christian Narratives of Community Walter Pohl, Veronika Wieser, 2019 Conversion in Late Antiquity and the Early Middle Ages Kenneth Mills, Anthony Grafton, 2003 A re examination of the social processes behind religious conversions in the Ancient and Early Middle Ages This volume explores religious conversion in late antique and early medieval Europe at a time when the utility of the concept is vigorously debated Though conversion was commonly represented by ancient and early medieval writers as singular and personally momentous mental events contributors to this volume find gradual and incomplete social processes lurking behind their words A mixture of examples and approaches will both encourage a deepening of specialist knowledge and spark new thinking across a variety of sub fields The historical settings treated here stretch from the Roman Hellenism of Justin Martyr in the second century to the ninth century programs of religious and moral correction by resourceful Carolingian reformers Baptismal orations funerary inscriptions Christian narratives about the conversion of stage performers a bronze statue of Constantine early Byzantine ethnographic writings and re located relics are among the book s imaginative points of entry This focused collection of essays by leading scholars and the afterword by Neil McLynn should ignite conversations among students of religious conversion and related processes of cultural interaction diffusion and change both in the historical sub fields of Late Antiquity and the Early Middle Ages and well beyond This book is one of two collections of essays on religious conversion drawn from the activities of the Shelby Cullum Davis Center for Historical Studies at Princeton University between 1999 and 2001 The other volume Conversion Old Worlds and New is also published by the University of Rochester Press Contributors Susan Elm Anthony Grafton Richard Lim Rebecca Lyman Michael Maas Neil McLynn Kenneth Mills Eric Rebillard Julia M H Smith Raymond Van Dam

Church and Society in Late Antique Italy and Beyond Claire Sotinel, 2023 The papers presented here explore in various ways the interactions between clerics and the society in which Christian churches put down roots in Late Antiquity Some of these complex processes involved in the christianization of the Late Roman world form the theme of the first three sections Amongst other aspects the essays in these sections examine the Three Chapters controversy and the participation of lay and clerical protagonists in it the social standing of Italian bishops including their use of lay personnel and their economic impact and a comparison of pagan and Christian places of worship The essays included in the last section deal with communication in Late Antiquity They present the first results of a long term project on the changing role of information during the last centuries of the Roman world Eight papers in the volume are published in English for the first time
