Purtle,1981 The Marian Paintings of Jan Van Eyck Carol Jean Purtle,1981 The Marian Paintings of Jan Van Eyck Carol J. Purtle,1981 Jan van Eyck within His Art Alfred Acres,2023-06-26 A new assessment of the inventive and influential artist Jan van Eyck Jan van Eyck 1390 1441 was one of the most inventive and influential artists in the entire European tradition The realism of his paintings continues to astound observers more than six centuries on even though our world is saturated by high resolution images However viewers today are as like to be absorbed by Van Eyck s personality as his realism While he sometimes directly painted himself into his works he also suggested his presence through an array of inscriptions signatures and even a personal motto Incorporating a wealth of new research and recent discoveries within a fresh exploration of the paintings themselves this book reveals how profoundly Jan van Eyck transformed the very idea of what an artist could be Jan van Eyck and Portugal's 'Illustrious Generation' Barbara von Barghahn,2013-12-31 This book investigates Jan Van Eyck s patronage by the Crown of Portugal and his role as diplomat painter for the Duchy of Burgundy following his first voyage to Lisbon in 1428 1429 when he painted two portraits of Infanta Isabella who became the third wife of Philip the Good in 1430 New portrait identifications are provided for the Ghent Altarpiece 1432 and its iconographical prototype the lost Fountain of Life These altarpieces are analysed with regard to King Joao I s conquest of Ceuta achieved by his sons who were hailed as an illustrious generation Strong family ties between the dynastic houses of Avis and Lancaster explain Lusitania s sustained fascination with Arthurian lore and the Grail quest Several chapters of this book are overlaid with a chivalric veneer A second secret mission to Portugal in 1437 by Jan van Eyck is postulated and this diplomatic visit is related to Prince Henry the Navigator s expedition to Tangier and King Duarte s attempts to forge an alliance with Alfonso V of Aragon Late Eyckian commissions are reviewed in the light of this ill fated crusade and additional new portraits are identified The most significant artist of Renaissance Flanders appears to have been patronized as much by the House of Avis as by the Duchy of Burgundy Barbara von Barghahn is Professor of Art History at George Washington University and a specialist in the art history of Portugal Spain and their colonial dominions as well as Flanders In 1993 she was conferred O Grao Comendador in the Portuguese Order of Prince Henry the Navigator She has spent nearly a decade completing research about Jan van Eyck s diplomatic visits to the Iberian Peninsula Jan van Eyck Craig Harbison,2012-01-01 The surviving work of Flemish painter Jan van Eyck c 1395 1441 consists of a series of painstakingly detailed oil paintings of astonishing verisimilitude Most explanations of the meanings behind these paintings have been grounded in a disguised religious symbolism that critics have insisted is foremost But in Jan van Eyck Craig Harbison sets aside these explanations and turns instead to the neglected human dimension he finds clearly present in these works Harbison investigates the personal histories of the true models and participants who sat for such masterpieces as the Virgin and Child and the Arnolfini

Double Portrait This revised and expanded edition includes many illustrations and reveals how van Eyck presented his contemporaries with a more subtle and complex view of the value of appearances as a route to understanding the meaning of life The New Art of the Fifteenth Century: Faith and Art in Florence and The Netherlands Shirley Neilsen

Blum,2013-09-03 A fresh look at the early Renaissance considering Florentine and Netherlandish art as a single phenomenon at once deeply spiritual and entirely new Adam and Eve are driven from the Garden of Eden into a rocky landscape their naked bodies lit by a cold sun their gestures and expressions a study in shame and anguish A serious man well attired kneels in prayer before the Virgin and Child close enough to touch them almost his furrowed brow setting off the saintly perfection of their features In fifteenth century Florence and Flanders painters were using an arsenal of new techniques including perspective anatomy and the accurate treatment of light and shade to present traditional religious subjects with an unprecedented immediacy and emotional power Their art was the product of a shared Christian culture and their patrons included not only nobles and churchmen but also the middle classes of these thriving commercial centers Shirley Neilsen Blum offers a new synthesis of this remarkable period in Western art between the refinements of the Gothic and the classicism of the High Renaissance when the mystical was made to seem real In the first part of her text Blum traces the emergence of a new naturalism in the sculpture of Claus Sluter and Donatello and then in the painting of Van Eyck and Masaccio In the second part she compares scenes from the Infancy and Passion of Christ as rendered by artists from North and South Exploring both the images themselves and the theological concepts that lie behind them she re creates as far as possible the experience of the contemporary fifteenth century viewer Abundantly illustrated with color plates of masterworks by Fra Angelico Botticelli Rogier van der Weyden and others this thought provoking volume will appeal equally to general readers and students of art history Painting in Bruges at the Close of the Middle Ages Jean C. Wilson,2010-11-01

Early Netherlandish Painting National Gallery of Art (U.S.),John Oliver Hand,Martha Wolff,1986 The volume contains entries for paintings in the National gallery that were produced in the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries by artists from the Netherlands The entries are arranged alphabetically by artist a short biography and bibliography for each artist is followed by individual entries on the paintings each in order of acquisition The authors address traditional questions of attributes and iconography in addition they examine the social economic and religious context in which the individual work of art functioned The volume is also probable the first museum catalogue to include the results of examination by infrared reflectography and dendrochronological analysis
