The Health of the Elderly in Hong Kong Shiu-kum Lam, 1997-06-01 9 79E 12 Principles and Practice of Geriatric Medicine M.S. John Pathy, Alan J. Sinclair, John E. Morley, 2006-02-03

The fourth edition of the highly acclaimed Principles and Practice of Geriatric Medicine provides an account of the fundamental changes associated with ageing which are essential to our understanding and management of the elderly sick population. The title has been extensively revised and updated to reflect the enormous changes in treatment options and medical conditions emerged since publication of the third edition. Written by worldwide experts of international repute, this is the most up to date and comprehensive single reference source currently available. Principles Practice of Geriatric Medicine Fourth Edition incorporates more than 30 new chapters including Preventive geriatrics, Anorexia of Aging, Managements of Weight Loss, Dehydration, Vitamins and Minerals in the Elderly, Cancer and Aging, Mild Cognitive Impairment, Treatment of Behavioral Disorders, The Older Patient with Down's Syndrome, Drug Abuse in Older People, Breast Cancer, Women's health, A truly global perspective including new chapter on Care of the elderly in Israel, old age in a young land, Geriatric Medicine in China, Geriatric medicine education in Europe, Geriatrics from the European Union, Perspective India, Day Hospitals, Perspectives from Latin America. The title will be indispensable for all those involved in the treatment of older patients: Gerontologists to keep up to date with the latest developments in the field; General practitioners and specialists in health policy and community care who increasingly have to deal with a significant number of older people; Academic researchers in geriatric medicine who are in need for an all encompassing reference work; Medical registrars, UK residents, US in order to pass their exams; Teachers of Geriatric Medicine; Hospital libraries with increasing budgets to spend on much needed resource in this growing field; Professionals within the pharmaceutical industry in order to monitor treatment options and new prescription developments.

Pathy's Principles and Practice of Geriatric Medicine Alan J. Sinclair, John E. Morley, Bruno Vellas, 2012-03-13

This new edition of the comprehensive and renowned textbook Principles and Practice of Geriatric Medicine offers a fully revised and updated review of geriatric medicine. It covers the full spectrum of the subject, features 41 new chapters and provides up to date evidence based and practical information about the varied medical problems of ageing citizens. The three editors from UK, USA and France have ensured that updated chapters provide a global perspective of geriatric medicine as well as reflect the changes in treatment options and medical conditions which have emerged since publication of the 4th edition in 2006. The book includes expanded sections on acute stroke, dementia, cardiovascular disease and respiratory diseases and features a new section on end of life care. In the tradition of previous editions, this all encompassing text continues to be a must have text for all clinicians who deal with older people, particularly geriatric medical specialists, gerontologists, researchers and general practitioners. This title is also available as a mobile App from MedHand Mobile Libraries. Buy it now from Google Play or the MedHand Store. Praise for the 4th edition: an excellent reference for learners at all clinical and preclinical levels and a useful contribution to the geriatric medical literature Journal of the American Medical Association November 2006 5th edition selected for 2012 Edition of Doody's Core Titles™ Artificial Intelligence in Healthcare for the Elderly Sandeep Sharma, Preeti Nagrath, Bhawna Singla, Joel J. P. C. Rodrigues, 2025-07-14 Artificial Intelligence in Healthcare for the Elderly provides valuable insights into how artificial intelligence can transform healthcare through personalized monitoring ethical considerations and real world applications Artificial intelligence has the potential to revolutionize healthcare for the elderly by providing efficient and personalized monitoring and care Though this technology has the potential to revolutionize care there is currently little information on the potential of this technology in elderly healthcare Artificial Intelligence in Healthcare for the Elderly explores AI algorithms that can transform health monitoring for older adults by analyzing data from wearable devices electronic health records and other sources that provide real time data analysis detect early warning signs of diseases and offer personalized treatment This book addresses the critical ethical societal and practical aspects of elderly care that are often overlooked with insights from various disciplines including healthcare technology ethics and sociology to offer a holistic perspective on AI's impact on aging Artificial Intelligence in Healthcare for the Elderly offers an all encompassing perspective on AI technologies employed in elderly healthcare by examining the specific types of technology used and delineating its role in elderly healthcare drawing insights from existing research and case studies

Aging in Hong Kong Jean Woo, 2012-09-06 With the longest life expectancy for men and the second longest for women Hong Kong typifies our planet's aging population The daily lives of its older adults closely match the advantages and disadvantages experienced by urban elders in other developed countries For these reasons Hong Kong's elderly serve as a salient guide to older people's social psychological and healthcare needs concerns of increasing importance as the world grows older Aging in Hong Kong examines this emblematic population as a case study specifically in comparison with their counterparts in the West shedding light on diverse interrelated currents in the aging experience Referencing numerous international studies the book contrasts different health service arrangements and social factors and relates them to a variety of health outcomes Its wide ranging coverage documents health and illness trends reviews age friendly policy initiatives relates health literacy to patients active role in their own care and discusses elders as an underserved group in the division of limited health funding and resources This multiple focus draws readers attention to policies that need revisiting or retooling as chapters analyze major life areas including Living environment Retirement and post retirement employment issues Financial asset management Health literacy regarding aging issues Elder positive service delivery models Ageism in the prioritization of healthcare End of life issues By assembling such a wealth of data on its subject Aging in Hong Kong puts ongoing challenges into clear focus for gerontologists sociologists health and cross cultural psychologists public health policymakers and others involved in improving the quality of elders lives Ageing in the Asia-Pacific Region David R. Phillips, 2002-11-01 First Published in 2004 The Asia Pacific region is now clearly witnessing the rapid ageing of many of its nations and Asia is already the region with relatively the largest number of older persons This book focuses on the challenges that this demographic trend poses to economies and societies in the region and the policies that have evolved to date to meet new demands It looks forward over the coming decades to consider how societies and economies will deal with ageing and the necessary structural and behavioural changes that this will entail The book is organized into two main sections The first introduces the key features demography research and long term care issues of the region and provides region wide context and analysis The second section offers in depth case studies of thirteen countries including China Japan Korea and Indonesia As well as providing a wealth of original research material the book also offers valuable comparative analysis while the larger economies have had to develop policies to maintain their social and economic successes in the face of demographic ageing developing countries must find ways to build their economies around an ageing population With contributors drawn from a range of academic and professional disciplines including many practising social gerontologists this book will be of interest to scholars in economics sociology social policy health policy politics and development studies With its particular emphasis on the future it will also be an essential reference for anybody with a professional interest in policy making in the region

Sustainable Development Goal 3 Ben Y. F. Fong, Vincent T. S. Law, 2021-12-24 Sustainable Development Goals SDGs aim to develop a better and sustainable future for the world and the goals are part of an action plan to address poverty hunger health gender equity and various pressing world issues One of these goals looks at health and wellness Ageing populations have become a crucial issue worldwide and this short monograph explores ageing and how the consequences of an ageing population may affect our healthcare system through a case study on Hong Kong's population The book looks at several critical health issues related to ageing The elderly particularly those with low socio economic status rely more on acute centric care rather than primary care The book suggests that secondary care service may only be effective to a limited extent as a healthcare measure and an optimum healthcare system should be one that focuses on primary care The authors put forth a compelling argument for disease prevention and screening schemes and explain how they are more cost effective and beneficial to society and the system This thoughtful book will provide beneficial insights into the relationship of ageing and Sustainable Development Goals in the context of health and wellness for policymakers and healthcare professionals The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license

The Elderly Martin Lyon Levine, 2017-05-15 Aging is a public health priority that is becoming increasingly important in both developed and less developed nations with individual health care providers and law makers each facing difficult ethical and policy dilemmas The complex issues physicians deal with include informed consent and patient decision making capacity use of advance care planning and decision making by family and medical staff and withdrawing and withholding life sustaining interventions Broader questions include has aging been over medicalized Is it ethical for older patients to receive less medical care than younger ones through unspoken practice or formal rationing Is there inevitable conflict between the generations over scarce medical resources How should physician patient and family confront end of life decisions How have different nations responded to increasing numbers of the elderly Have social values changed as to family responsibility and individual autonomy This volume brings together the most significant published essays in the field Long-Term Care in the 21st Century Iris Chi,2013-08-27 Who pays for long term care Discover the unique approaches of seven countries around the Pacific Rim Long Term Care in the Twenty First Century discusses policies and programs for long term care in seven countries around the Asia Pacific Rim the United States Canada Japan Australia Singapore Hong Kong and Taiwan Each country is covered in two chapters one to examine the philosophy and values that underlie its approaches to long term care the second to discuss its systems of service delivery These thoughtful analyses backed up with facts and figures explain program successes and failures in the context of demographic and social trends and with reference to the differing political systems across the region Its breadth of perspective and insightful examination of cultural differences make Long Term Care in the Twenty First Century an important contribution to the international comparative study of aging The programs in the United States Australia and Canada offer a fascinating contrast with the longer established and very different programs in the Asian countries including Japan the world s oldest country Long Term Care in the Twenty First Century provides practical information on essential gerontological issues for each country including financing arrangements development of client classification systems case management in both residential and community based systems key source documents references and Web sites political and cultural influences home based and family caregiving This valuable book provides a critical record of developments in the current transition period This multicultural perspective contributes a chance for all countries to learn from the experience of others in dealing with a problem that is increasingly important as the world population ages Long Term Care in the Twenty First Century is an essential resource for scholars service providers policymakers and anyone concerned with care of the aged not only in Pacific Rim countries but around the world Ageing and Long-term Care David R. Phillips,2014-05-14 The case studies in this book focus on the emergence extent and nature of national policies on ageing and associated strategies to address long term care needs Key opportunities for and constraints on policy are identified in this first round of regional studies Education for the Elderly in the Asia Pacific Pennee Narot,Narong Kiattikunwong,2021-09-25 In many countries across the Asia Pacific region people are adapting to the new demographic shift but there is nonetheless much concern This book documents the various educational approaches rendered by both public and private sectors to enable elderly individuals in their own countries to re engage in society more inclusively to stay longer in the labour market and to become less dependent on the state or their families In order to produce active healthy and productive aging citizens the experiments showcased by this book highlight how adaptive action is needed across many policy areas with emphasis on shaping structural differences in the composition and organisation of higher education systems that can better foster lifelong learning among elderly citizens

The book is a great venue to underline the interplay of the theory and practices of vastly complex challenges Vital & Health Statistics ,1984 International Handbook of Chinese Families Chan Kwok-bun,2012-12-09 Families are the cornerstone of Chinese society whether in mainland China in Taiwan Hong Kong Macao Singapore Malaysia or in the Chinese diaspora the world over Handbook of the Chinese Family provides an overview of economics politics race ethnicity and culture within and external to the Chinese family as a social institution While simultaneously evaluating its own methodological tools this book will set current knowledge in the context of what has been previously studied as well as future research directions It will examine inter family relationships and politics as well as childrearing education and family economics to provide a rounded and in depth view Sustainable Health and Long-Term Care Solutions for an Aging Population Fong, Ben,Ng, Artie,Yuen, Peter,2017-06-30 Lasting healthcare for the entire population specifically the elderly has become a main priority in society It is imperative to find ways to boost the longevity of healthcare services for all users Sustainable Health and Long Term Care Solutions for an Aging Population is a pivotal reference source featuring the latest scholarly research on issues pertinent to health cost and finding effective ways of financing healthcare for the elderly Including coverage on a number of topics such as provider accreditation corporate social responsibility and data management this book is ideally designed for policy makers academicians researchers and advanced level students seeking current research on the innovative planning and development of healthcare Housing Older People Satya Brink, Eleven contributions survey the status of housing policies for elderly populations worldwide and address public policy debates as to who is responsible for the care of elderly people and how income health housing and social services should be integrated Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR A Health Survey of the Elderly in Hong Kong Iris Chi,Jik-Joen Lee,University of Hong Kong. Quality-of-Life Research in Chinese, Western and Global Contexts Daniel T.L. Shek, Ying Keung Chan, Paul S.N. Lee, 2005-06-08 The majority of studies on the quality of life have been conducted in Western contexts and are based on Western participants Comparatively speaking there are only a few studies that have been conducted in different Chinese contexts Also there are fewer QOL studies based on children and adolescents or studies that examine the relationship between QOL and economic disadvantage In addition more research is needed to address the methodological issues related to the assessment of quality of life This volume is a constructive response to the challenges described above It is the first book to cover research in Chinese Western and global contexts in a single volume It is a ground breaking volume in which Chinese studies on the quality of life are collected The book includes papers addressing family QOL quality of life in adolescents experiencing economic disadvantage and methodological issues in the assessment of QOL It is written by researchers working in a variety of disciplines
