The Lawsons Fork Headwaters To Confluence:

The Lawson's Fork David Taylor, Gary Henderson, 2000-04 In this deeply personal journey author David Taylor takes an illustrated voyage down the Lawson s Fork an urban stream that crosses the city of Spartanburg South Carolina Circling Home John Lane, 2011-08-15 After many years of limited commitments to people or places writer and naturalist John Lane married in his late forties and settled down in his hometown of Spartanburg in the South Carolina piedmont He his wife and two stepsons built a sustainable home in the woods near Lawson s Fork Creek Soon after settling in Lane pinpointed his location on a topographical map Centering an old chipped saucer over his home he traced a circle one mile in radius and set out to explore the area What follows from that simple act is a chronicle of Lane s deepening knowledge of the place where he ll likely finish out his life An accomplished hiker and paddler Lane discovers within a mile of his home a variety of coexistent landscapes ancient and modern natural and manmade There is of course the creek with its granite shoals floodplain and surrounding woods The circle also encompasses an eight thousand year old cache of Native American artifacts graves of a dozen British soldiers killed in 1780 an eighteenth century ironworks site remnants of two cotton plantations a hundred year old country club a sewer plant and a smattering of mid to late twentieth century subdivisions Lane s explorations intensify his bonds to family friends and colleagues as they sharpen his sense of place By looking more deeply at what lies close to home both the ordinary and the remarkable Lane shows us how whole new worlds can open up The Bioregional Imagination Tom Lynch, Cheryll Glotfelty, Karla Armbruster, 2012 Bioregionalism is an innovative way of thinking about place and planet from an ecological perspective Although bioregional ideas occur regularly in ecocritical writing until now no systematic effort has been made to outline the principles of bioregional literary criticism and to use it as a way to read write understand and teach literature The twenty four original essays here are written by an outstanding selection of international scholars The range of bioregions covered is global and includes such diverse places as British Columbia s Meldrum Creek and Italy s Po River Valley the Arctic and the Outback There are even forays into cyberspace and outer space In their comprehensive introduction the editors map the terrain of the bioregional movement including its history and potential to inspire and invigorate place based and environmental literary criticism Responding to bioregional tenets this volume is divided into four sections The essays in the Reinhabiting section narrate experiments in living in place and restoring damaged environments The Rereading essays practice bioregional literary criticism both by examining texts with strong ties to bioregional paradigms and by opening other less obvious texts to bioregional analysis In Reimagining the essays push bioregionalism to evolve by expanding its corpus of texts coupling its perspectives with other approaches or challenging its core constructs Essays in the Renewal section address bioregional pedagogy beginning with local habitat studies and concluding with musings about the Internet In response to the environmental crisis we must reimagine our relationship to the places we inhabit This volume shows how literature and literary studies are fundamental tools to such a reimagining Elemental
