The Legal Framework For China-Australia Trade In Commodities:

The Legal Framework for China-Australia Trade in Commodities Minyou Yu, 1998 International Trade Regulation Zhiqiong June Wang, Jianfu Chen, 2023-03-21 The international trade regulatory system is a dynamic system that has been evolving throughout its history. Tension and conflict are part of the system. While calls for the abolition of the principal trade regulation authority, the WTO, have failed to understand this nature of the system, proponents for reforms have so far not paid sufficient attention to the evolving nature of tension and conflict. This book examines the evolving dynamics in international trade regulation from the conclusion of GATT in 1947 to the current crisis facing the WTO from a perspective of emerging powers of developing countries with a focus of China as the latest force that demands reforms of the international trade regulatory regime. There is an extensive body of scholarship on ideological struggles, the rise of developing countries, geopolitical contest, the emerging powers, especially China, the use, misuse or abuse of trading rules and so on. There is, however, a lack of a single concise research book that synthesises these underlying causes and factors into a coherent and precise analytical theme. This book attempts to fill this research gap by building upon the existing scholarship and placing the various tensions and conflicts in a perspective that treats them as dynamic factors that have propelled a continuing process of evolution of the international trade regulation. The book will interest those researching on international trade regulation as well as development studies. The Open Access version of this book is available at www.taylorfrancis.com and has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license.

The China-Australia Free Trade Agreement Colin Picker, Heng Wang, Weihuan Zhou, 2017-12-14 This book provides readers with a unique opportunity to learn about one of the new regional trade agreements, RTAs, the China-Australia Free Trade Agreement (ChAFTA) that has been operational since December 2015 and is now at the forefront of the field. This new agreement reflects many of the modern and up-to-date approaches within the international economic legal order that must now exist within a very different environment than that of the late eighties and early nineties when the World Trade Organization (WTO) was created. The book therefore explores many new features that were not present when the WTO or early RTAs were negotiated. It provides insights and lessons about new and important trade issues for the twenty-first century such as the latest approaches to the regulation of investment, twenty-first century services and the emerging digital knowledge economy. In addition, this book provides new understandings of the latest RTA approaches of China and Australia. The book's contributors, all foremost experts on their subject matter within this field, explore the inclusion of many traditional trade and investment agreement features in the ChAFTA, showing their continuing relevance in modern contexts.

Chinese Commercial Law Kui Hua Wang, 2000 Chinese Commercial Law provides a comprehensive overview of the laws relating to trading with and investing in China. China is a growing market with great potential as well as great risks. As part of its open door policy, China has introduced an enormous number of new laws of a commercial nature. For business people making investments in China, an understanding of that country's legal system and commercial law is essential if opportunities are to be realised and pitfalls avoided Chinese Commercial Law gives readers a simple non technical description of Chinese commercial laws discussing in particular how they affect foreign investment and foreigners in China The areas covered include Contract Foreign investment in relation to equity joint ventures cooperative joint ventures and wholly owned foreign enterprises Foreign trade Intellectual and industrial property Taxation foreign exchange and banking Labour and employment Dispute resolution

China and the Gulf Cooperation Council Countries Muhamad S. Olimat, 2016-09-21 This book examines China's relations with member states of the Gulf Cooperation Council It highlights the depth of China's ties with the region bilaterally and multilaterally on a five dimensional approach political relations trade relations energy security security cooperation and cultural relations Regarding each of these criteria the GCC countries enjoy a strategic significance to China's national security vital interests territorial integrity sovereignty regime survival and economic prosperity China has been an integral part of the political developments on the Arabian Gulf scene since the 1950s Their bilateral ties have grown steadily since the Economic Reform Era culminating in strategic partnership two decades later China and its Arab Gulf partners have embarked on an ambitious economic cooperation that includes joint ventures in oil upstreaming and downstreaming mammoth highway and railroad projects construction projects and above all strategic security coordination in reference to security threats Both sides are also engaged in a process of revival of the Silk Road within the Belt and the Road framework Sino Gulf bilateral trade relations reached 159 419 20 billion in 2014 The two sides aim to increase it to 600 billion by 2020 a goal within reach given the fact that they are concluding the China GCC Free Trade Agreement which will transform their bilateral ties

China, Taiwan, the UK and the CPTPP Chun-yi Lee, Michael Reilly, 2023-06-27 Originally called the Trans Pacific Partnership until the USA withdrew in 2017 the Comprehensive and Progressive Agreement for Trans Pacific Partnership CPTPP is an ambitious and wide ranging free trade agreement between eleven Pacific countries Far from faltering after US withdrawal several more countries have since applied to join including China Taiwan and the United Kingdom Some observers see in this a contest between China and the USA for wider influence through an attempt to control or re write the rules of international trade at a minimum accession by any of the three would have a major impact on the CPTPP as originally envisaged This edited volume considers the three applications the motivations for the three to join and the likely responses of existing members The implications for cross Strait tension between China and Taiwan are fully considered as is the ability or willingness of the USA to influence the outcome of the applications

The Chinese Legal System Pitman B. Potter, 2005-07-08 This book analyses the major features of the Chinese legal system on the eve of its accession to the World Trade Organisation and will be essential reading for students and academics in the field of Chinese law

China's Influence on Non-Trade Concerns in International Economic Law Paolo Farah, Elena Cima, 2016-10-14 This volume examines the range of Non Trade Concerns NTCs that may conflict with international economic rules and proposes ways to protect them within international law and international economic law Globalization without local concerns can endanger relevant issues such as good governance human rights right to water right to food social economic cultural and environmental rights labor rights access to knowledge public health social welfare consumer interests and animal welfare climate change energy environmental protection and sustainable development product safety food safety and security Focusing on China the book shows the current trends of Chinese law and policy towards international standards The authors argue that China can play a leading role in this context not only has China adopted several reforms and new regulations to address NTCs but it has started to play a very relevant role in international negotiations on NTCs such as climate change energy and culture among others While China is still considered a developing country in particular from the NTCs point of view it promises to be a key actor in international law in general and more specifically in international economic law in this respect This volume assesses taking into consideration its special context China's behavior internally and externally to understand its role and influence in shaping NTCs in the context of international economic law

Chinese Law Jianfu Chen, 1999-07-14

Law in particular its actual functioning in any given society is above all a part of the culture of that society a part of its historical political social and intellectual creation If a black letter approach towards law in the West is under increasing criticism it is particularly unhelpful if not misleading in understanding Chinese law its nature and developments Rather to understand Chinese law its nature and developments we need to examine the Chinese legal traditions the prevailing political and economic situations Party policies on economic reform and tolerance towards political liberalisation and scholarly discussions and debate This is the approach of this book Its aim is to put Chinese law in context to outline the nature and present status of its development and to analyse the meaning of the law within the Chinese context However this monograph does not ignore the practical needs for determining the precise contents of the black letter law either A study of this kind necessarily involves a process of topic selection However to avoid over generalisation and over simplification it also demands a considerable degree of comprehensiveness in coverage For this reason the book covers what the Chinese scholars term fundamental law and basic branches of law while other topics are covered because they are either crucial for the understanding of the law such as legal traditions in China or of practical importance such as foreign investment and trade Chapter One provides an historical background to traditional Chinese legal culture and modern law reforms The historical background of specific topics is examined as the topics are analysed in the following chapters Chapter Two deals with the changing fate of law under Communist rule Its focus is on the underlying factors and justifications for such changes Chapter Three introduces discussions on specific branches of law from public law constitutional law law making administrative law criminal law criminal procedure law to private law civil law family law contracts law on business entities and law on foreign investment and trade Each of these is dealt with in a separate chapter After the analysis of these substantial topics certain conclusions are drawn which attempt to define the nature of Chinese law and its developments in present day China

Strategic Arena Switching in International Trade Negotiations Joachim Becker, Wolfgang Blass, 2017-11-28 Since the 1970s global rule making with respect to international trade has increased in importance Political and academic attention has been focused either on global institutions like the IMF the World Bank the WTO and UN organisations or on regional blocs like the EU or NAFTA As negotiations take place in different international arenas these arenas themselves take on added strategic significance with agendas pursued and switched from one arena to another should one route be blocked While dominant actors have sought to use arena switching to their advantage subordinate actors have begun to reactivate alternative arenas of negotiation in order to pursue their different agendas This book employs a multi level and multi arena perspective to analyze global rule making in international trade It explains why actors both state and non state actors prefer particular arenas It also addresses the question of which institutional designs serve the aims of specific groups best and how the rules of the different arenas are related
